Court Orders Slingsby Matter Be Investigated

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—While District Attorney Fickert was in Bakersfield at the bedside of his dying father this morning Presiding Judge Dunne instituted an investigation into his official act in connection with the Slingsby substitution case following a dramatic denunciation of the prosecutor by George A. Knight, prominent attorney and politician.

Although Fickert was absent, his chief assistant, James Brennan, and nearly every member of his staff was present in the courtroom to hear the words of censure from Knight during an hour's impassioned argument against the District Attorney and all of his actions.

Fickert was branded as unfit to hold office, was accused of meddling and was nominated as a fit candidate for a recall at the hands of the people. Never before in a court of justice in San Francisco has an open demand for the recall of a public official been made, and never in the city's history even during the most strenuous and most bitter contests coincident with the graft prosecution of 1907 and 1908 has a public prosecutor been so flayed.

Assistant District Attorneys Fred L. Berry and James Brennan, who nominated themselves as spokesmen and

Elect Officers for Deaf-Blind Institute

BERKELEY, Oct. 30.—At the biennial election of officers of the board of directors of the California Institution for the Deaf, Dumb and Blind, George W. Reed of Oakland was last evening re-elected president and Livingston Jenks vice-president. J. S. McCullough, secretary, holds office indefinitely. The members of the directorate, in addition to President Reed and Vice-President Jenks, are William Nat Friend, J. Arthur Elston and Dr. David T. Barrows. Committees on building and grounds, judiciary, finance and other administrative details were appointed from among the directors. There was a brief discussion of plans for a new dairy barn. Report was made to the directors that plans for the gymnasium and other new buildings are progressing rapidly at the office of the state architect.

Rail Commissioners to Meet in S. F. in 1915

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—Word was received here today from Washington that Commissioners Eshleman taining the convention of the Association of Railroad Commissioners for San Francisco in 1915. The news was conveyed in a dispatch received by the state railroad commission this morning. The commissioners have been attending the convention at Washington, and yesterday Commissioner Eshleman presented a paper of great importance relative to the financial control of railroads by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

171 MILLION DOLLARS TO BE COUNTED

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—About 84 tons of gold which lies in the United States subtreasury in Wall street, guarded night and day by a small army of watchmen with a battery of machine guns, is being counted by nine men sent over from the treasury department at Washington. Between 2500 and 3000 tons of silver also is being counted, as well as several million dollars in bills and a few tons of nickels and coppers.

The task was begun Tuesday and will keep nine skilled men busy for three weeks. At the end of that time they are expected to inform Martin Vogel, assistant secretary of the treasury, in charge of the New York sub-treasury, that he has $171,103,280.12 of government funds in his keeping. Mr. Vogel took office on Monday and became responsible for the money in the vaults.

TELEGRAM TANGLE LOSES CONVENTION

Why Eastern Star Went to San Diego, Not Oakland

A belated telegram, a tangle in the address, and a dispute over who should take charge of the matter, lost to Oakland the next convention of the Order of Eastern Star, and a spirited fight between officials of the Chamber of Commerce and the Merchants' Exchange, in which each organization is passing responsibility for the faux pas to the other, is declared imminent. The two secretaries are involved, and local members of the order who had planned a fight at the recent Santa Cruz convention for this city, are loudly protesting at what they term an injustice, stating that they were ignored.

Shortly before the matter of the next convention came up on the floor of the Santa Cruz conclave a telegram was dispatched, addressed to "Wilbur Walker, Secretary Oakland Chamber of Commerce." This asked, in the name of the local members of the order, that an invitation be officially extended for the conclave, that data as to accommodations, rates, and what the citizens of Oakland would do for the session, be included and that support be wired the campaign for Oakland at once.

Walker hesitated, believing that the telegram was intended for the chamber and not the exchange. Secretary A. A. Denison was out of town so he finally took it up with Denison's office force. He was informed that as the telegram was addressed to him it was probably meant that his organization should take it up. While he was considering the gestion the matter of the convention was suddenly called at the Santa Cruz meeting and San Diego, with a whirlwind campaign, won the meeting before the Oakland delegation could secure a delay.

On their return the local members complained bitterly to Fred Parsons that they had been ignored by the chamber. The chamber officials indignantly retorted that the matter was not up to them, that Walker had the telegram and that they had not cared to interfere with him. Walker declared that the telegram while addressed to him was evidently meant for the chamber, and that, at any rate, it came too late to allow prompt enough action by the Oakland organizations to save the day.

Liquid Cheer Solicited From Wholesale and Retail Houses

The Jolly Roger Methods Suggest "Hold-up Rag"

THE HOLD-UP RAG.

New Blue Coat Ditty Introduced With Great Success by the O. P. D.

(Tremolo effect until ready.)
Mis-ter Bar-tend-er, kindly come across,
There's something coming off.
You can bet-bet-bet.
Don't you hesitate,
Liquidate the plate;
Hurry with the goods and
Make them wet-wet-wet.
Never mind the clink—
Just note our wink.
This is no time to chew the rag,
For you've certainly got to hand it
To the thirsty blue coat bandit
When he makes you do the hold-up rag.
CHORUS (smack your lips).

Hands up! Hands up!
Everybody hands up
When they do the hold-up rag.
Pardon us for giving you a shock;
Don't you hide that bottle in the crock.
It is booze—welcome news—
We can use. Stop arguing!
Shell out! Shell out!
Don't you dare to yell out.
Drop your little bottles in our bag.
Ready set? You bet!
Let 'er go (wet-wet).
It's the hold-up rag!

An interesting story has been brought to light in the police department by reason of the discharge of Sergeant Flynn. The investigation of Flynn's insubordination has brought to light a remarkable state of facts connecting the police department with the whiskey interests of Oakland. It has been ascertained that a committee of policemen combed Oakland from one end to the other soliciting "booze" from disreputable saloons and cafes and also from reputable saloons and cafes. It is stated on good authority that the police officers secured from the saloons of this city nearly a ton of liquor, consisting of beer, whisky, champagne and wine.

The police officers did not hesitate about standing up the various saloons and wholesale places. They demand-

CASAS BLANCA, Morocco, Oct. 30.—During a violent storm early today three vessels were driven ashore on the Moroccan coast near this port. Eight men from one of the ships were drowned by the capsizing of a lifeboat. All the others were saved. The wrecked vessels are the Greek Missolong, the German Martini and the Spanish Ivria.

'CALL'-'POST' DEAL AFFIRMED, DENIED

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—A rumored change in the San Francisco newspaper situation, whereby the evening Call was to purchase the Evening Post, is practically admitted on the one hand and positively denied present very much in doubt. A positive declaration from S. Fred Hogue, president of the Evening Post Publishing Company, that his journal is not only to continue but that he intends to enlarge its scope, is counteracted by a statement from F. W. Kellogg, president and publisher of the Call, to the fact that negotiations have been under way and may be completed at any time.

"The Evening Post has not been sold, and there has been no offer made from Mr. Kellogg or from any other official of the Call which will be accepted; nor are there any negotiations pending now," said Hogue. "You can say that from me absolutely. There have been numerous proposals but they have not been accepted."

Kellogg was inclined to be reticent over the reported deal. He said he did not want to be quoted but admitted that overtures had been made for consolidation of the papers. He asserted that there had been an offer and the fixing of a price, but that the papers had not been signed. Asked if such a deal could be put through by Saturday, as had been intimated, he asserted that it could.

MY TRIALS ENDED, SHE MURMURS

Thanks Each Man Who Passed Upon Her Case

Admiral's Widow Says: "Am Glad for Mother's Sake"

PLYMOUTH, Mass., Oct. 30. — Mrs. Jennie May Eaton was acquitted of the charge of murder of her husband, Rear-Admiral Joseph G. Eaton, by verdict of the jury rendered at 5:10 o'clock this morning.

The jury retired at 6 o'clock last night. Notwithstanding that, there seemed little prospect as the night wore on of a verdict before morning, a crowd of nearly 200 persons sat out the tedious night. Mrs. Eaton awaited the verdict composedly and smiled when she heard the foreman of the jury pronounce her "not guilty."

Mrs. Eaton had sat up in a private room at the courthouse until 2 o'clock this morning. Then she was permitted to go to the judge's lobby, where she slept on a couch until awakened at 4:30 and summoned to the courtroom. Of the 200 persons who remained all night to hear the verdict a few were women.

SHE THANKS JURY.

After Mrs. Eaton had left the courtroom the jurors, through their foreman, asked that they might be allowed to meet her. The permission was granted and they formed a semicircle in the corridor. Mrs. Eaton came out of the judge's lobby and thanked them individually. As she did so she burst into tears for the

'Burglar de Luxe' To Be Prosecuted

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—William Bastain, the "burglar de luxe," is to be prosecuted for the crime which caused his downfall and resulted in his capture. After five years of clever thievery, during which he had several narrow escapes, Bastian was caught by a girl and a bulldog. Miss Jennie de Brunner was responsible for his arrest, and she will be the chief witness against him in the event that he decides to fight for liberty. Captain Mooney announced this morning that the burglary charge to be lodged against the prisoner would involve his breaking into the De Brunner home. Miss De Brunner heard a commotion in the backyard, hurried out with her bulldog and caused the animal to hold the burglar at bay until the police arrived.

Paul Shoup to Confer With Local Boosters

Looking over the Oakland and east bay lines, Paul Shoup, president and general manager of the Southern Pacific's electric service in California, was in Oakland yesterday. He registered at the Hotel Oakland, where he remained over night, leaving this morning for San Francisco. While here he was approached by representatives of commercial organizations, who tendered him an invitation to meet with them at a later date to discuss the city's needs. He will later set a date for such a conference.

Seek Bixby Blackmail Case Witness Here

Two men claiming to be Pinkerton detectives this morning visited the Hotel Oakland, stating that they were seeking evidence in connection with the Bixby case in Los Angeles. They refused to give their names, and also stated that they could not divulge their object, save that an Oakland clubman may be connected with the case as a witness, when the coming blackmail case against inmates of "The Jonquil" comes to trial.

ARTILLERY MOVES TOWARD LUDLOW

TRINIDAD, Colo., Oct. 30.—Detachments of artillery from Batteries A and B of Denver, in command of Captain Lefevere, left here this afternoon under orders from General Chase to move in the direction of Ludlow, the center of the recent disturbances. Unless an outbreak occurs the detachments probably will spend the day in reconnoitering and return to Trinidad tonight.

Quiet prevails at the Aguilar and Ludlow tent colonies, but large numbers of strikers are said to be in the hills west of Ludlow and south of Aguilar. Last night a line of camp fires were seen along the ridge between Hastings and Tabasco, and intermittent fire all during the night confirms the belief that the strikers still are armed.

Shots were fired into Tabasco early today but no damage was done.

At Walsenburg two troops of cavalry were placed on patrol duty today. The work of gathering up the arms of the strikers was carried forward systematically. Many of the Huerfano county strikers are said to have joined those now in the hills in the northern section of this country. The Huerfano county deputies have turned in their rifles.

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio, Oct. 30.—Fifteen thousand members of the United Mine Workers of America in the eastern Ohio sub-district have voted to continue the assessment of $1 per month per member to aid the striking miners of Colorado.

BLAME FOR PLOT PLACED ON HOCKIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—Herbert S. Hockin was held to share with John J. McNamara the whole responsibility for the dynamite plots, by attorneys who argued the appeal of the other convicted men before the United States Circuit Court of Appeals today.

Hockin, sentenced to six years' imprisonment, at Leavenworth, Kas., is the only one of the 33 men convicted at Indianapolis last December who is serving out his term without appealing. During the trial he was accused of betraying his co-conspirators and later was abandoned by the other defendants. Attorney Chester H. Krum, counsel for Frank M. Ryan and 29 others asserted before the court that it was Hockin and McNamara alone within the ranks of the iron workers' union who undertook to destroy by dynamite the work of open shop contractors. It was these two alone Krum said, who employed Ortie McManigal and James B. McNamara to travel about the country to blow up jobs.

These, Krum said, President Ryan of the Iron Workers' Union and the 29 other convicted men knew nothing of dynamite plots carried on secretly by Hockin and McNamara, the secretary.

BRADLEY IS CAUGHT IN STOCKTON

Arrested Following Job in Which He Obtained $1000

ROBERT BRADLEY, convicted murderer, who escaped from the Alameda county jail on September 1st with Robert E. Graham by sawing his way through steel bars, is being brought back today. He was identified as the fugitive while under arrest in Stockton, where he robbed a saloon last Sunday night and obtained $1000.

Sheriff Barnet received a telephone message from Chief of Police Braire this morning announcing the identification and at once dispatched Deputies Bert Brown, Jack Collier and Ed Sweeney to Stockton in an automobile.

Bradley was traced to Sacramento following the sensational hold-up of the Stafford & Goldworthy saloon, opposite the courthouse in Stockton. He was returned to that city, and while in jail there was submitted to the Bertillion tests, and identified from the descriptions sent out by Sheriff Barnet following the jail break here. A reward of $100 was offered by Sheriff Barnet for the capture of Bradley and his companion, Graham.

LIFE SENTENCE.

Bradley was sentenced to life imprisonment in San Quentin by Superior Judge Ellsworth for the murder of Special Police Officer J. A. Williams in April, 1912, just 14 days after his release from prison. Sentence was imposed last December and Bradley was being held in the county jail pending his appeal to the Supreme Court.

The jail break was one of the most sensational episodes of its character that ever took place in this county. For weeks, and probably months, the prisoner had been at work on the supposed tool-proof steel bars of his cell on the fourth floor of the jail. He was for some time in solitary confinement, but a few days before the escape Robert Graham, charged with several crimes of burglary, was put in with him and was taken into the plot probably at the last moment.

INVESTIGATES BREAK.

Sheriff Barnet has been investigating the circumstances of the jail-break in conection with the escape from jail of James Cummerford, alleged pickpocket, last July.

The two prisoners made a long rope braided from strips of torn blankets and slid to the ground from the fourth floor of the jail during the early morning hours. The escape was not discovered until Engineer Edward McLaughlin went on duty, about 6 o'clock, and saw the rope dangling from the window.

The men did not leave any trace of the manner in which they had been able to so successfully attack the steel bars of the cell and the iron window gratings. It was evident that extreme heat had been applied in order to take the temper out of the bars and make them susceptible to the saws. Several small pieces of saw blades were found beneath the steel cell. The apparatus used for heating the bars was not found.

At the time of the escape, Harry Woodley, night jailor was on duty. He made the rounds, he said, at 1 o'clock and Bradley was then behind the bars.

CONSIDERED DANGEROUS.

Bradley was placed in solitary confinement and removed from a cell in the ground floor to the jail after he had threatened the life of Deputy Sheriff Jack Collier. He was considered a dangerous prisoner and the authorities were surprised to learn that he had been captured without taking life.

The murder of Officer Williams took place after Williams had taken Bradley into custody with a youth named Julius Long, and was leading them to the lock-up behind the fire engine house at Thirteenth avenue and East Fourteenth street. Bradley suddenly pulled a revolver from his pocket and fired at the two prisoners then fled. Bradley left town in a box car, but returned and took up his abode with a gang of tramps in Dimond canyon, where he was taken into custody by Captain Thorwald Brown of the Melrose station. At the city prison he was identified by Inspector McKinley from descriptions given by Julius Long who had given himself up when he found that the police were searching for the murderer. Young Long was vindicated of any complicity in the shooting.

first time since her trial started. A little later Mrs. Eaton gave out the following statement:

"I am glad most of all because of my aged mother and my lame child, both of whom need me. I shall go home late today. I hope that a new life will be opened to me and that the trials and tribulations which have been mine are ended."

Because of the prominence of Rear Admiral Eaton, who was his second wife, attracted country-wide interest. The trial began October 14.

DIED SUDDENLY.

Admiral Eaton died suddenly at his Assinippi, Mass., home, Saturday morning, March 2.

On March 11, it became known that District Attorney Albert F. Barker of Brockton, State Police Inspector John Stott of Braintrees and Deputy Sheriff John Gordon of Rockland had been quietly conducting an investigation into the admiral's death.

On March 12, Mrs. Eaton and her younger daughter, Dorothy Ainsworth Eaton, accompanied by newspaper men, conveyed the body to Oaklawn cemetery, Dracut, for burial. There were no services and no naval escort.

On March 13, authorities visited the Assinippi home and subjected the members of the family to a severe grilling.

On March 15, a secret inquest into the death of Admiral Eaton was begun at Hingham courthouse. Both daughters of the widow — the admiral's stepdaughters — testified at this inquest.

On March 16, a watch was placed on the Eaton home at Assinippi and officers served summonses to the official inquest for the next day.

On March 19 District Attorney Barker predicted "interesting developments." The State police began a search of drug stores for poison sales.

MRS. EATON ARRESTED.

On March 20, officials took Mrs. Eaton to Hingham, presumably as an inquest witness, and there formally placed her under arrest.

MRS. JENNIE MAY EATON, widow of Rear-Admiral Joseph G. Eaton, who was acquitted this morning of a charge of murdering her husband.

Then followed the investigation into the past life of Mrs. Eaton. The thread of the story runs like that of a novel. Born in Virginia she was known throughout that State as one of the belles. Jennie May Harrison was known far and wide as an accomplished and beautiful young girl and great things were predicted for her in the social world.

Growing up into early womanhood, she married D. H. Ainsworth, and the couple moved to Chicago. At this stage of her life entered the first tragic note. Her husband left her destitute and she was forced to earn a living for herself and her two children.

Entering the nursing profession, Mrs. Ainsworth later went to Washington. Rear Admiral Eaton's wife at that time was suffering with a fatal illness, and the then Mrs. Ainsworth secured a position as nurse in the Eaton family.

Shortly before her death, Mrs. Eaton called the nurse to her bedside and asked her to marry the admiral. At that time Mrs. Ainsworth had not yet secured a divorce from her husband. Mrs. Eaton died and after a period, Mrs. Ainsworth was granted a divorce and became the second Mrs. Eaton in 1906.

ENTER SOCIETY.

Her two children, June and Dorothy, were brought to Washington and the family entered into the social activities of the national capital.

People who were interviewed during the investigation have declared it strange that the retired naval officer should move to the small Massachusetts town and engage in poultry raising. The motive for his retiring to a small community where he would have but little opportunity to meet his former friends could not be comprehended by those who knew him well. Few people visited the admiral at Assinnippi and he rarely left the village. His wife, too, rarely saw any of her former friends. The lives of both seemed utterly changed.

The daughters of Mrs. Eaton came to live with their mother and stepfather. June, the older daughter, and the admiral were constantly at variance and a few months before the time of his death she was married to Ralph Prebel Keyes. She is said to have made the statement that her only reason for marrying was to secure a home of her own.

On the other hand, the younger daughter, Dorothy, seemed very much attached to the admiral. "He was the best daddy in the world," she said at the inquest. At the same time her sister launched into a vigorous attack on her stepfather. She stated that the admiral was insane, and addicted to drugs and drink. She supported the story told by her mother, which was to the effect that Eaton kept the family in a state of constant terror, fearing that he would poison them. These fears on the part of Mrs. Eaton were substantiated by neighbors but they added that they thought the fears were groundless. They said that Eaton had been a good husband and father and a good neighbor.

BELIEVED WIFE MARTYR.

The other side told stories of the admiral's alleged sinister life and of eccentricities that would warrant his family in fearing him. These persons looked upon Mrs. Eaton as more or less of a victim and a martyr.

Letters came to light containing Mrs. Eaton's own statement that she was the victim of the old man's insanity and invalidism, a martyr to the care of him.

A letter written by her to a Chicago lawyer in 1911 was a piteous appeal for advice and help to protect her and her daughter from the admiral, who, she said, was a dangerous and subtle maniac.

The lawyer was Marshall E. Gallion, the attorney who had acted for her in her divorce proceedings against her first husband, Daniel Henry Ainsworth, in 1906.

"The condition of this poor man is dreadful," she wrote. He is sick, helpless and a sad old man, and it goes to my heart. He relies on me entirely. I am his eyes, brain and life, and still how can I stay here alone and let him kill me and poor little Dorothy? And he will do it and then wonder where we are."

Residents of Assinippi and neighboring towns told of alleged eccentricities on the part of both the admiral and his wife. The most startling of these narratives concerned the adoption of a baby boy in 1909 by the pair, who first claimed that the infant was their own. Later, the secret of the adoption came out.

ACCUSED OF POISONING.

This child died not many months after the Eaton's adopted it and a scandal ensued, for the admiral's wife and her daughter, June, accused him of having poisoned it. This was the occasion of the real break between June Ainsworth and her father. The girl left home, it is said, declaring she would never come back.

While no particularly damaging evidence was brought out at the inquest, the disclosures showed that the Eaton household was not a model of peace and tranquility.

With these elements creating a turbulent atmosphere, the death of the Admiral occasioned some surprise in the little village. But far greater surprise and comment was elicited when he was buried with neither religious nor naval ceremonies. It was then that the real investigation began.

On March 12, this burial, unprecedented in the history of the country, took place.

NO CEREMONIES.

With the assistance of two hackmen and two reporters, the interment was made. There was no flag, nor roll of drum; there were no religious rites. His widow and his favorite daughter, Dorothy, stod by the grave and watched the coffin as it was lowered by appliances improvised from the harness of a livery rig. The proper appliances had been forgotten and this was the best that could be done at such short notice.

The man who had ranked high in the service of his country was buried thus.

Then came immediate publicity, the investigation by the authorities was revealed and developments followed in due course.

Mrs. Eaton's own story of the admiral's death was given to the press. Here is the account in her own words:

"My husband had been ill; in fact, he had been ailing for two years. Early Saturday morning—I was asleep in my own room—I heard the admiral get up in his room, adjoining mine. I heard a groan, then a fall. I went to his room and helped the admiral into bed.

"'Are you sick?' I asked.

"'I do not feel very well.'

DESCRIBES DEATH.

'I asked him: 'Shall I lie down beside you?'

"I got in bed and was there beside him when he died, very quietly. I wasn't even aware that he was dead, at first. I spoke to him, saying 'Are you allright?' He did not answer. He was dead. I got up and ran to the next house and telephoned to Dr. Frame."

Dr. Frame immediately summoned Medical Examiner Gilman Osgood, who ordered that the stomach of the dead man should be turned over to Professor William Whitney, the poison expert of Harvard University.

For a time the result of Dr. Whitney's examination was kept a secret by the officials, but it was finally revealed that traces of arsenic were found in the stomach. Then followed the indictment of Mrs. Eaton.

Since her arrest Mrs. Eaton has been confined in the Plymouth country farm.

The career of the late rear-admiral was a notable one. He was graduated from the Worcester Military Academy and the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Shortly after entering the service he was given command of a ship, the United States, and later commanded, in order, the Enterprise, the Resolute, the [illegible] the Oregon and the Massachusetts. From 1870 to 1874 he was engaged in inter-oceanic surveys around the Isthmus of Panama. He also investigated armor for warships as a member of the steel board. He was made a captain in 1901 and retired in 1905 with the rank of rear-admiral.

He was a member of many clubs and societies, including the Society of the Colonial Wars, Sons of the Revolution, Algonquin Club and the Army and Navy Club of New York.

ed whisky on behalf of the police department by reason of the favors that the police had extended to them during the past year. The whisky men, reputable and disreputable, came through with their share of the dividends to whatever amount that was suggested by the police officers. This ton of liquor was transported to a private room in the building where the policemen's ball was held.

The policemen's committee hired two professional bar-keepers to run their private saloon. The liquor was not sold in the policemen's saloon, but was given away to the policemen and RUN ALL NIGHT.

The saloon was run all night long under the direction of the police. When daylight came the bar-keepers were told to go their way. A request was made of the police officers not to give liquor away after 1 o'clock in the morning, but Captain Thornwall Brown maintained that the saloonmen of the city had made them a present of the liquor and they were going to drink it all up if it took them all night to do it.

During the early hours of the morning crowds of men visited the policemen's saloon and were given all the "booze" they desired to drink.

In the morning after the ball was over the police patrol machine was sent to the building in which the ball was held and all the liquor was hauled away in the police machine. Where was the booze taken?

Commissioner Turner is said to have the matter in hand and is expected to make a report to the city council on the establishment of the policemen's saloon at the policemen's ball.

Sulzer Impeachment To Go to U. S. Court

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—A suit looking to bringing the impeachment of William Sulzer before the supreme court of the United States was started today in the United States district court by injunction proceedings instituted by William H. Moore, an employe of the New York World.

The complainant sets forth that the constitution of the United States is being violated in that the government of this state, Sulzer having been removed, is not under the supervision and administration of a governor selected by the citizens of the state. This, he contends, denies citizens a republican form of government as constitutionally guaranteed.

The defendants named include Governor Glynn and all the state executive officers, together with state senators and the judges of the court of appeals.

The plaintiff asks that the present administration be enjoined from recognizing the decision of the high court of impeachment, and that Sulzer be restored to office.

Search for Walter McCreery Continues

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—Although Attorney H. H. McPike is on the Overland Limited, hurrying through Nevada and Utah today, he is in constant telegraphic touch with the authorities in Chicago and New York who are endeavoring to trace Walter McCreery, the eccentric millionaire and former noted polo player, who has fled the state. At McPike's office today it was stated that word has come from him that encouraged his associates to believe that McCreery would be caught somewhere along the line. McPike has laid plans whereby he is being closely informed regarding the search for McCreery while on the train, as though he were sitting in his own office here.

FICKERT SCORED BY LAWYER KNIGHT

Official Acts to Be Investigated Adds Superior Judge Dunne.

defenders of their chief, were absolutely silenced by Judge Dunne at the first attempt at wrangling and Knight was allowed full swing for his utterances, which took on the nature of a political harrangue but which bristled with serious accusations and charges veiled in but a thin skein of doubt.

SHOWS THE LETTER.

"I hold in my hand, if your Honor please," began Knight, "a letter written by Charles M. Fickert to Mrs. Dorothy Morgan Cutler Slingsby, bearing date of January 28, 1912. I demand in order that the facts of this case may be brought into the broad sunlight and that the presiding judge may take immediate action to prevent the district attorney from continuing with his midnight grand juries and his star chamber proceedings."

Berry protested. "Such a move as this is not contemplated by the law of God or man," he cried.

"If you must shoot us, do so, but don't shoot us in the back. Don't attack us with what you call a legal stiletto," retorted Knight, who was beginning to warm up to his argument.

Judge Dunne here silenced counsel after Berry had remarked that he did not believe that even a private citizen could be compelled to sit by and be insulted.

KNIGHT CONTINUES.

"Just because there has been a little authority given him," continued Knight, "is no reason why he should mutilate all rights and trample on all law. They prosecuted Dr. Fraser; they indicted him. Was it a notice to our side that you wanted to be taken in out of the wet, that you wanted us to retain the district attorney's office?" he inquired, looking at the prosecutor's table.

Brennan was ready with a reply and announced himself as ready for a fight. Knight then referred to him as a fighter, an Olympic Club member and a baseball enthusiast, whereupon the court again interfered.

"I may as well explain to you," announced Judge Dunne, "as presiding judge I will prevent the district attorney from using the grand jury for private ends just as I would any other citizen, if it is shown that he is so doing."

Knight read from the letter, which he held in his hand, and in which Fickert told Mrs. Slingsby that he believed she was the mother of the child, that the babe resembled her, that he was convinced a newspaper ad. for a foundling was the only evidence against her, and that he had caused Dr. Fraser to be indicted. He wrote further that he would protect her if she came here and see that she was allowed to retain the custody of her child.

INTERRUPTS READING.

As he read Knight stopped at every clause to argue his point. "Are we cannibals here in San Francisco, that we will take from the mother her child, or rob the father of his boy. There is something underneath this letter to suggest all these assurances."

A second letter writen a year later to Crease & Crease, Vancouver attorneys, again telling of Fickert's belief in Mrs. Slingsby was read. There had been an intimation that these letters were stolen from Attorney Oliver Dibble's safe and thereby indirectly came into the hands of Knight.

"I will say that these letters came to Mr. Thorn, my associate, by mail," thundered Knight, "that they were received from our attorneys who represent our side of the case in London. There has been no burglary, or robbery, or anything else. They came through the mail.

DISPUTES FICKERT'S RIGHT.

"Fickert has no right to try this case as district attorney, he had no right to investigate this case. He had no right to delve into it, to conduct an investigation before the grand jury or to bring indictments, or to try and blacken the fair name of witnesses in this case. The district attorney has incapacitated himself by his reckless actions. Set him aside and call in the attorney general of the estate and let your honor sit as a committing magistrate in this case so that witnesses cannot be insulted."

Knight argued that Fickert had "butted in," that his grand jury investigations were haphazard, that he should bring about indictments of Attorney Thorne, Mrs. Blaine and other witnesses, and then when the matter was heard in England, and evidence was going against Slingsby, their attorney could say, "Why these people were indicted in San Francisco."

He called upon Judge Dunne to bring in the foreman of the grand jury and show him his oath where he had sworn to prosecute no man through malice or without proper evidence.

ASKS FOR "JUSTICE."

"We ask in the name of justice, in the name of fair dealing, and in order to have everything open and above board, that your honor call a halt on the part of District Attorney Fickert in his mad career and as his official or unofficial action in bringing the matter to the attention of the grand jury. There is enough in that letter itself for a mass meeting of the citizens of San Francisco to demand the recall of a man who is unfit for public office and put someone else in the district attorney's office."

Attorney Berry then rose to make response.

Berry objected to everything that Knight had said and the court stated that he would not permit the District Attorney to use the grand jury for private means any more than he would permit any other attorney to so do.

ATTORNEYS WRANGLE.

Attorney Thorne who, together with Knight, represents Tom Slingsby and A. P. Slingsby, the English heirs, had an argument with Attorney Brennan during which there were heated words and shaking of fists. Brennan offered and Thorne accepted his services to work out the Slingsby tangle. Brennan took issue with Knight over his talk of recall, declared that the district attorney's office was not afraid to meet the situation and invited the recall.

The court concluded the hearing by saying that he was not going to allow the grand jury to be used for any selfish or private purpose, the matter being continued until the return to San Francisco of District Attorney Fickert.

NO FUNDS FOR TRACKING STREET

Street Commissioner Issues a Statement of Council's Position.

Commissioner of Streets W. J. Baccus gave out today the letter, the contents of which was made public, from W. A. Bissell, president of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal railways concerning placing tracks in Washington street in front of the city hall, and issued a statement of the position of the city council in the matter.

Baccus points out that there are no funds on hand to permit the city taking up the proposition to lay the tracks in Washington street between Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets, but suggested that the money might be provided in small installments.

MATTER IS URGENT.

The Downtown Improvement Association promises to make a fight to have the traction concern apply for a franchise and lay down the tracks. The matter is urgent as the tracks should be laid before the street work is done, and the merchants demand that San Pablo avenue cars be routed down Washington street.

PRICE IS TOO HIGH.

According to H. F. Seller, president of the Downtown Association, $18,000 is too great a price to pay, and while the property owners on Washington appreciate the need of the connection, they feel that they are being imposed on. He declared that his organization has employed an attorney to fight, if need be.

"The property owners have put up thousands of dollars for the opening," he said, "which the city has had four years without paying interest. We do not want this sum added to the burden. We will fight unless we can be convinced."

The city administration is conducting an investigation and will render a report next week.

LADIES OF GLENCOE LODGE AWAIT BALL

Among the attractive Hallowe'en affairs to be given in Oakland will be the masquerade ball which will take place in Loring hall, Eleventh and Clay streets, tomorrow night under the auspices of Ladies of Glencoe lodge, auxiliary to Clan Macdonald, No. 79, Order of Scottish clans. There will be a full turnout of the clan and friends and the committee will see that everyone "makes a night o' it." A big range of prizes will be awarded for masquerade costumes and Glencoe lodge anticipates scoring a success.

Loring hall has been gaily decorated in Hallowe'en colors and preparations have been made for a good time. Those in charge of the ball are Mrs. James Grant, convener of committees; Mrs. William Weir, Mrs. Robert Disher, Mrs. George McMath, Mrs. William Fowlis, Miss Bessie Howden and Miss Margaret Nicholson. Officers of the lodge who are also looking after the affair are Miss Ethel Cooper, secretary; and Miss Bessie Hunter, financial secretary, and Miss A. Hunter, treasurer.

CHIEF WHITE CHEMICALLY PURE

Commissioners Declare Head of S. F. Department Shall Hold Job.

Some Charges Brought by the Women Not Sustained, Say Board Members.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.— After four hours spent in hearing charges against Chief of Police White, the police commissioners last night acquitted him of the accusation of dereliction of duty. The acquittal came when the women who brought the charges attempted to bring out evidence that the chief had protected the municipal clinic and kept a segregated district registry list.

Theodore Roche, police commissioner, curtly declared that this was admitted and that there no 'd be no use in taking up the matter. Miss Philaleths Michelson, a woman attorney, who brought the charge, declared that if the board took that view there would be no use in continuing the hearing.

Former District Attorney William Langdon, who appeared as counsel for White, called the chief as a witness in his own behalf and also heard testimony from Commissioners Roche and Kuhl about conditions at the beach and in other districts. The roll was then called and Chief White was acquitted of all the charges by unanimous vote.

IGNORE TESTIMONY.

No effort was made by the prosecution to hear testimony on the charges that Chief White had countenanced gambling or on the charges that the disclosures made during the bunco trials had shown his incompetency.

The majority of the witnesses were men and women from the Oceanside district, who testified about conditions on the beach. Several said they had complained to Chief White about semi-nude dances in the so-called social clubs on the beach; of liquor sold to minors and of other infractions of the law.

Mrs. Ella Elvin testified to seeing Motorcycle Policeman Charles Truitt with his arm about a woman in Hopkin's beach resort while on duty in uniform. The Commissioners instructed Chief White to investigate this and to file charges against Truitt if the story could be substantiated.

TESTIMONY HEARD.

Other beach residents called as witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Campbell, Mrs. Mary Sullivan, Richard Barker and Mrs. Nellie Pryor.

Herbert Choynski, attorney for the Royal Arch, testified to the existence of 1500 "blind pigs" in San Francisco, but said Chief White was powerless to suppress them without a special appropriation from the contingent fund to be used in amassing evidence.

COUNTY INFIRMARY IS PROBED BY GRAND JURY

The grand jury met today for the purpose of making a report on its investigation of the county infirmary in accordance with annual custom. Dr. C. A. Wills, superintendent of the institution, was called as a witness. Last week the jury went to the infirmary for a tour of inspection. Before the jury adjourns it is probable that a number of other important matters will be brought to its attention by District Attorney Hynes.

TO PREPARE ESTIMATE OF STREET OPENING

Mayor Mott will have an estimate prepared as to the cost of the opening of Fifteenth street from Franklin to Harrison, as it was alleged when the protest against the opening was heard by the city council this morning that there had been misrepresentation as to the cost. The hearing was continued a month for Mayor Mott to have the estimate prepared.

They have been placed in detinue and the affair investigated.

MUNICIPAL AUDITORIUM PLANS ORDERED REVISED

Architect Reports That Structure Can Be Completed Within $500,000

Revision of the plans and specifications for the Municipal Auditorium was ordered by the city council today when Supervising Architect J. J. Donovan reported that the structure can be completed with the exception of the finishing of the theatre and some minor rooms, within the appropriation of $500,000. The report was submitted to the council through Commissioner of Public Works Harry S. Anderson, and it was upon his recommendation that the council directed Donovan to alter the plans according to the lines laid down in the report submitted today.

The report, which was read before the city council accompanied by a letter from Commissioner Anderson, shows in detail that unforseen conditions had increased the original estimated cost of the structure [illegible] auditorium, eliminating the theatre, within a year, was the statement made by Commissioner Anderson, after the supervising architect's report had been submitted to him. Several phases of the work have been explained by Donovan, who has brought out the difficulties which were encountered after the plans had been made for the structure. These items of increased cost have been carefully analyzed and studied and it is now disclosed that the supervising architect can modify the original plans in such a way as to [illegible] make no change in the Auditorium which will interfere with its use as an auditorium as soon as it shall be completed.

DIFFICULTY OF FOUNDATION.

The first difficulty, according to the supervising architect's report, was that of the foundation. The original estimated cost of the piling for the foundation was about $10,000. Subsequently it was discovered that conditions on the site were such that it was necessary to drive 2200 piles heavily capped with concrete piers at a cost of more than $73,000. This increased the original estimate by nearly $64,000.

The Auditorium was originally planned to be placed at natural grade. Afterward it was found that it was necessary to raise the permanent grade to the level of Fallon street, entailing an increased cost of approximately $70,000. The steel structural work cost $177,000 on a contract awarded July, 1913, which was $37,000 more than the preliminary estimate, due to the increased cost of steel. This, Donovan submitted, was $22.00 a ton higher than that of the contract on the City Hall.

Supervising Architect Donovan pointed out that many demands were made for accommodations and facilities to be incorporated in the structure which developed after the preparation of the preliminary drawings. On this point he said, that demands were made by various civic organizations, including the Progress and Prosperity committee and the Chamber of Commerce, as well as by individuals, for the incorporation into the building of features not originally contemplated, all of which materially added to the cost. Thus demands were made for retiring rooms, dispensary, shower and locker rooms, cafeteria serving room, numbers of dressing rooms connected with the stage, small rentable rooms, toilets, two art galleries, one to be converted into a small ball room. At the time of the preparation of the drawings, it seemed the demands for these features could not be disregarded and therefore provision was made for them in the plans.

MAKES RECOMMENDATIONS.

Supervising Architect Donovan recommended that the city proceed with the erection of the steel, call for new bids on the superstructure and a revision of the specifications changing the material and equipment. He urged the finishing of the exterior walls in imitation stone and Medusa cement plaster, the elimination of granite, and other changes.

The report in full is as follows:

Oakland, Cal., Oct. 29, 1913.

Harry S. Anderson, Esq., Commissioner of Public Works, Oakland, Cal.

Dear Sir: In response to your request for a report from me upon the cost of completing the Municipal Auditorium and for my recommendations as to revising the plans and specifications, I desire to report as follows:

As you will recall, on May 28, 1912, you requested me to furnish preliminary drawings for the construction of a municipal auditorium to cost $500,000. Drawings were prepared by Mr. Hornbostel and myself and presented to you ten days later. The building designed was to be 400x200 feet and approximately 62 feet high, which gave a cubage of approximately 5,000,000 cubic feet.

The estimate of cost of such a building was figured on a basis of 10c per cubic foot. This figure of 10c per cubic foot was adopted after the study of costs of armories in New York City and the cost of the Denver auditorium, which buildings were built at a cost of from 8c to less than 10c per cubic foot. The Oakland auditorium is designed to contain somewhat better materials than these buildings, and for that reason the higher rather than the lower figure was taken as a basis of estimate.

DEVELOPMENTS RAISE COST.

These preliminary drawings as presented by me to you were adopted by the City Council with the understanding that the building could be completed within the amount provided by the bond issue. Since that time certain developments have taken place which caused an increase in the cost of the building over and above the amount of the preliminary estimate.

The first element entering into the increased cost has to do with the nature of the site and the character of the foundations required. At the time of the preparation of the preliminary drawings it was understood that the foundation soil would permit of simple piling. Later on, when the test piles were driven and when the structural drawings were prepared, it became apparent that to install such a foundation as originally contemplated would mean unsafe construction.

After a careful study of the character of the soil and consulting with experts on the subject, it was found necessary to drive 2200 piles of lengths varying from 75 feet to 90 feet. It was necessary to drive these piles below water level and they were heavily capped with concrete piers in order to give a safe foundation upon which to erect a permanent building. The cost of this piling amounted to $73,-132.80.

Another factor connected with the site of the building which caused an increase in cost has to do with the difference in elevation of the building as originally planned and as plans were later changed.

MUST CHANGE GRADE.

As originally planned, the building was to be placed at natural grade, but after further study of conditions it was found necessary to raise the permanent grade to a level with Fallon street. This entailed an increase in cost of approximately $70,-000 on the construction of the building. Had this change not been made the grade would have sloped from Fallon street and the building would have appeared to be in a hollow.

The steel contract was awarded in July, 1913, to Dyer Bros., for the sum of $177,-000. This contract was awarded only after this work had been advertised twice previously. The cost of the steel, from figures obtained at every source during the preliminary work, was in the neighborhood of $110,000. The reason for the increased cost of this steel work dates from the change of the steel construction shown on the preliminary sketches to that shown on the finished drawings.

If you will remember the preliminary drawings showed four rows of columns, two on each side of the building, with the inner columns projecting through the balcony near its center, and the roof construction was that of cantilever arches. As we went into this work more in detail it was discovered that that type of construction would not make the building sufficiently safe and secure in the event of a severe earthquake. Another reason for changing the steel construction was that the columns projecting through the center of the balcony would destroy the sight lines of about 30% of the seats, thereby making the space a commonly constructed building of that kind with the above disadvantage.

COST OF STEEL HIGHER.

The cost of the steel work was estimated largely on the basis of the cost of the steel in the City Hall, which was $64 a ton as compared with the present cost of steel, which is $86 a ton.

In consequence of that study and those conclusions, it was decided to move the supports of the roof construction back to the walls and to change the steel framing for the roof from cantilever construction to the three-hinged arch type which would allow some play, be safer and eliminate the large percentage of obstructed seats, thereby making the sight lines of every seat in the arena perfect. This in turn required considerable increase of steel construction and added a great [illegible]

As you know, Professor Derleth of the University of California, professor of civil engineering, was engaged to check over and determine the safety of this construction and his reports to you show that every precaution was taken to insure a stable structure.

LATER DEMANDS MADE.

One matter of no small importance in the design of the building, which developed after the preparation of the preliminary drawings, is the various demands made upon the architect for accommodations and facilities to be incorporated in the structure. Demands were made by various civic organizations including the Progress and Prosperity committee and the Chamber of Commerce, as well as by individuals, for the incorporation into the building of features not originally contemplated, all of which materially added to the cost. Thus demands were made for retiring rooms, dispensary, shower and locker rooms, cafeteria serving rooms, numbers of dressing rooms connected with stage, small rentable rooms, numerous toilets, two art gallery rooms, one to be converted into small ball room. At the time of the preparation of the drawings it seemed the demands for these features could not be disregarded and therefore provision was made for them in the plans.

The recommendation I make to you is this: Since the structural steel is contracted for and nearly all fabricated, that we proceed with the erection of the steel and that we take new bids on the superstructure, and in preparing for these bids the specifications can be revised, changing the material and equipment so as to include the concrete walls as shown, the terra cotta niches included, the exterior walls finished in imitation stone and Medusa cement plaster previously specified, the elimination of granite entirely changing certain features of the roof the exterior doors and woodwork in place and finished so that the Auditorium is complete and ready for occupancy with the interior theatre portion of the building unfinished.

I estimate that this work can be done at a cost not to exceed $800,000.

Very truly yours,

J. J. DONOVAN.

The following letter accompanied the report.

October 30, 1913.

To the Honorable, the City Council of the City of Oakland—Gentlemen: In response to a request from me for a report of the cost of the completion of the Municipal Auditorium and recommendations as to possible changes in the plans and specifications to the end that the cost may be reduced, I have received a report from the supervising architect, which I submit to you herewith and I recommend that the council instruct the supervising architect to submit to the council at the earliest possible date, for its consideration, revised plans and specifications in accordance with the recommendations contained in his report.

Respectfully,

HARRY S. ANDERSON.

GOPCEVIC BROTHERS FALL OUT; BOZO SUES

The Gopcevic brothers, scions of the royal house of Servia, have fallen out. In a suit filed in the superior court lies the romance which resulted in the marriage of Milos M. Gopcevic to Miss Floyd, who, when she died, left him the fortune of $900,000, which she brought to Milos when she fell in love with him as a motorman in San Francisco.

The plaintiff in the suit is Bozo M. Gopcevic, recently returned from the war in the Balkans, eldest brother in the Gopcevic family, who claimed that he had a contract with Milos that he should receive $100 a month, home and clothing for the remainder of his life. He alleges Milos had failed to live up to the contract, that there is $1800 due him, with interest; that his feelings were damaged to the extent of $40,000 by the alleged breach of contract, and that he is entitled to $30,000 exemplary damages.

DANCING SEASON OF THE EAGLES BEGINS TONIGHT

BOWMAN'S IS THE PLACE TO BUY HAND BAGS

No Doubt About It, for We Have the Big Assortment.

We have an advertisement in the street cars reading something like this:

"If you want to save a lot of unnecessary shopping go to Bowman's first for hand bags."

This about expresses the situation.

If you cannot find what you want at Bowman's then you might try elsewhere, but what is the sense in going to four or five stores and wearing yourself all out in order to see a total variety of four or five hundred different bags when you can see just [illegible] the best.

Our stock of medium priced hand bags is unquestionably the largest in Oakland and probably the largest around San Francisco bay.

We have them from a dollar up, specializing at prices ranging from a dollar to five dollars.

Of course we have big assortments of the more expensive kinds also, some as high as $20 or $25, but our greatest range of styles runs through the more moderately priced bags.

We buy direct of the manufacturers in most instances and offer only such makes as we can fully guarantee. Shoddy bags, made for selling purposes only, have no place at Bowman's—we are not that kind of a store.

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN HOT WATER BAGS?

Do You Want to Get One That's Guaranteed?

A hot water bottle is a risky thing to buy unless you know that the merchant who sells it will stand back of it, guaranteeing satisfaction.

Boiling hot water and rubber were never on very friendly terms anyhow and some hot water bags have a strenuous time keeping in trim for business.

If you buy a hot water bag at Bowman's that bag is guaranteed to give satisfaction and if it doesn't you get another one without quib, quibble or argument.

The reason we can afford to guarantee hot water bags so generously is because we never allow a bag containing deteriorated rubber to be in our stock.

We contract direct with the factories for big quantities to be delivered in stated shipments, thus insuring a fresh stock always.

Just imagine what would happen to a bag that was kept upon a shelf for two or three years and then sold. We keep them moving right along. In fact, a 90-day tenant in our rubber goods room is an exception to the rule.

WHICH DO YOU PREFER, 50c OR A BACKACHE?

Here's a Backache Plaster Worth Reading About.

Do you ever have a backache?

Or pains across the kidneys?

Do you want to know how to get relief?

The answer is "Hot applications."

Nothing could be better than a series of hot towels to stimulate circulation, but hot towels are impractical for constant application and so we go to the next best [illegible]—a good porous plaster.

Now then, you can buy porous plasters for all prices, but the best plasters we ever saw sell for 50c and they're worth it. We have them manufactured especially for ourselves and sell them under our own firm name—Bowman's Backache Plasters.

The coating is on Russian felt and they are wonderful—efficacious—almost as much so as a hot towel and better, for they never blister.

Next time your back aches just take out a half a dollar and compare it with the backache — take your choice—keep either of the two or keep them both. That's fair, isn't it?

HOW I GOT MY NEW FOUNTAIN PEN

A $2.50 Self-Filling Waterman Only Cost Me $1.25.

I'm writing this Bulletin with a new fountain pen and I'll tell you how I got it.

It's a $2.50 Waterman and it cost me $1.25 in cash.

I had an old Waterman of the vintage of about 1896 that cost originally $2.50.

I took the old one to Bowman's fountain pen man and asked him what he would give me for it.

He looked at it and said "You paid $2.50 for that, didn't you?"

"That's right," I replied.

"Well we allow 50% of what you paid for the old pen no matter how old it is and this is certainly an old timer. It won't even write, but it's good for $1.25 just the same."

And so I picked out a nice bright new self-filler Waterman and said "How much is this?"

"$2.50 and with the old one $1.25 will be allowed, making it $1.25 cash.

And the best part of it all is that anyone with an old Waterman can do the same.

And if you haven't a Waterman they'll take in any other kind on a slightly different basis but which is just about as good a proposition.

MANDERVILLE CAN NOW CLAIM WIFE

Traveling Minister Has Become Reconciled to His Mother-in-Law.

Reconciliation has been effected between Rev. Franklyn V. Mandeville and his mother-in-law, Mrs. F. R. Dray of Sacramento, and he has been permitted to take his bride, who was spirited away from him a few days after their marriage last August. The bride before her marriage was Mrs. Laura Perry, widow of a prominent attorney of Alameda. She had been declared incompetent and placed in a Livermore sanitarium by her relatives. It was while there that she met the traveling minister, and the couple came to Oakland and were married. They then left on a honeymoon trip into the San Joaquin valley, but at Bakersfield were met by William Dray, Mrs. Mandeville's brother, and induced to return to Oakland with the alleged understanding that the incompetency proceedings would be revoked.

Mrs. Mandeville was taken to a hotel separate from her husband, and the next morning he could not locate her. He applied to Attorneys Rose and Silverstein, with a view of commencing habeas corpus proceedings. Later Mrs. Mandeville was located at the sanitarium, where she had previously been. His attorneys stated today that there would be no further proceedings in the matter, as the couple are now living togethter.

LODGE WOMEN WILL GIVE FAIR SATURDAY

The Companions of the Foresters of America of Alameda county have in preparation a fair to be given Saturday during the day and evening at Carpenters' Hall, Twelfth and Brush streets. The committee in charge is as follows: Agnes D. Bremer, Dora Davis, Tess Roberts, Flora Gray and Emma May.

Among the unique attractions will be "the female Chinese Laundry." There will be a country store and fish pond.

Many beautiful and useful handmade articles, appropriate for Christmas gifts, will be on sale.

There will be a mercnants' lunch from 11 to 2; dinner from 5 to 7.

The public will be entertained in various ways.

The program will be as follows:

Parisian Toe Dance, Ethel Osburne; "Apple Blossom Time in Normandy," Pearl Ewers; song and dance, Anna Barrere; (a) Chesapeake Bay, (b) Dancing Girl, Agnes Johnson; Parisian Toe Dance, Georgia Joseph.

There will be dancing and games.

WOMEN WHO GET DIZZY.

Every woman who is troubled with [illegible] ache, weakness, deafity, constipation or kidney troubles should use Electric Bitters. They give relief when nothing else will, improve the health, adding strength and vigor from the first dose. Mrs. Laura Gaines, of Avoca, La., says: "Four doctors had given me up and my children and all my friends were looking for me to die, when my son insisted that I use Electric Bitters. I did so and they have done me a world of good." Just try them. 50c and $1.00 at all druggists or by mail H. E. Bucklen & Co., Philadelphia or St. Louis.

ANNOUNCES NEW SIGNAL SYSTEM

Oakland Electric Flashlight Call to Be Finest in the Country, Says Chief.

Chief of Police W. J. Petersen announced today that the new electric alternating flashlight system, signaling all patrol boxes throughout the city, will be completed within a short time, and that when it is placed in operation Oakland will have the finest call system in the United States. The system, according to Chief Petersen, is up-to-date as it includes some of the most recent mechanical and scientific devices.

On each of the patrol call boxes throughout the city, which are distributed at points easily visible from points on the patrol beats, is placed a light. All the lights can be set flashing by a simple switch in the central office connecting with an alternating current, and will flash signals to telephone to the office, to hasten to certain locations, to respond to a fire, or to perform other scheduled duties.

In addition to this a searchlight on the tower of the new city hall is being installed. This can be seen from any place within the city, and a system of signals will be flashed from this point. Notifications of crimes, of criminals at large, and other information that must be communicated speedily, will be flashed to the patrolmen with a signal to call the central station to obtain detailed orders.

EXAMINATION FOR TWO CLERKSHIPS ANNOUNCED

The California State Civil Service Commission announces an examination to be held at Sacramento, San Francisco and Los Angeles on November 17, 1913, for the positions of Chief clerk and assistant chief clerk and other positions requiring similar qualifications in the various departments and offices of the state at salaries ranging from $1500 to $2400 per annum.

Application blanks and further information may be obtained from the State Civil Service Commission at Sacramento.

Persons desiring to enter this examination must file completed applications not later than November 14.

ARRESTED FOR BEGGING.

Joseph Toland of 866 Sixth street was arrested at midnight while pursuing L. Smith of 505 Cottage avenue and E. C. Bortan of 865 Walker avenue along Cottage avenue, demanding money of them. He held a rock in each hand. When taken into custody and later booked on a charge of begging, he explained that he had carried the boulders as protection, claiming [illegible] men in Piedmont. He was arrested by E. C. Hitchcock of the Hitchcock patrol service.

TO WEIGH MAIL.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. — Annual weighing of the mails, at railroad expense, is proposed in a bill introduced by Representative Lloyd of Missouri. The weighing would require 30 working days. Lloyd estimated today that his proposal, if adopted, would save $339,702 a year to the government.

MEAT INSPECTOR ANSWERS YOUNG

Dr. Archibald Files Statement in Reply to Attack Made.

Dr. R. A. Archibald, city inspector of meats and markets, filed with the city council this morning a scathing reply to the charges made by E. A. Young, a butcher and former president of the Merchants' Exchange, that the meat inspection department had discriminated against him. Dr. Archibald declares the charges are "baseless, false, ridiculous and unworthy of any other answer. It would seem that the browbeating attacks of men who are admittedly violators of the law, and thereby run afoul of official agents enforcing the same, should be given scant attention by the public or the city council."

Dr. Archibald declares that Young interfered with officers in the performance of their duty, and criticized the basement used to store meat in the Young shop. He states that Young had declared he would spend $10,000 to break the Oakland city meat inspection system.

Dr. Archibald makes a lengthy statement as to the value of meat inspection.

To Be Absolutely Certain of the Genuine

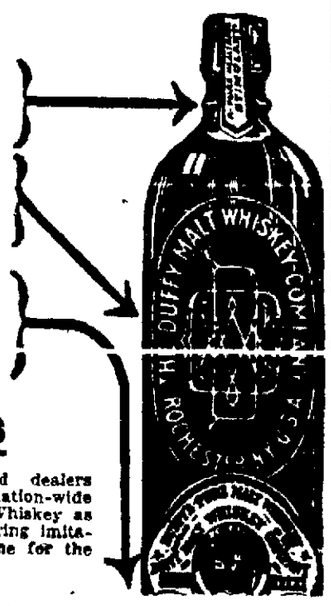

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

observe the following three points of distinction:

1—That the neck strap over the cork is unbroken. It's the seal of security.

2—That our name and monogram are blown in the bottle. It's a certificate of merit.

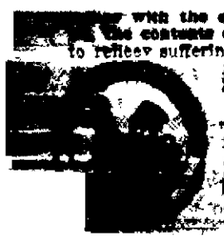

3—That the label bears our trade-mark of the "Old Chemist" and signature of company. It's a sign of the genuine.

Insist on Duffy's

Unscrupulous manufacturers and dealers sometimes take advantage of the nation-wide popularity of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey as a remedy for all mankind, by offering imitations and substitutes of the genuine for the sake of greater profit.

[illegible] with the exact appearance of the bottle, the contents of which have done so much to relieve suffering and bring health and happiness into thousands of homes.

Facsimile of bottle greatly reduced.

The original and genuine Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is sold in sealed bottles only by most druggists, grocers and dealers everywhere at $1.00 a large bottle. Valuable medical booklet and doctor's advice free if you write.

Keep the Kidneys Well

Health is Worth Saving, and Some Oakland People Know How to Save It.

Many Oakland people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Weak kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health, but there is no need to suffer nor to remain in danger. Use Doan's Kidney Pills, a remedy that has helped thousands of kidney sufferers.

The following statement leaves no ground for doubt:

Henry Haas, Castro st., Hayward, Cal., says: "For some time my kidneys were weak. The kidney secretions passed too frequently and caused no end of annoyance. A friend spoke so highly of Doan's Kidney Pills that later, when I saw them advertised, I was led to get a supply. They quickly removed the trouble."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Haas had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

MAY PURCHASE M'KINLEY RELICS

Petition Filed for Probate of Estate of Late Martyred President's Niece.

Petitioner Recently Sued for Recovery of Heirloom in Hands of Mother.

That valuable relics which former-liam McKinley might be preserved, Attorney A. P. Leach, representing Public Administrator H. B. Mehrmann, today filed a petition for probate of the estate of the late Ida McKinley Morse Cooper, who died in Oakland in 1907. Mrs. Cooper was a favorite niece of the martyred President and the wife of Harry R. Cooper, a local merchant. The estate, which is considered a valuable one, has never been probated and the action today has been taken at the behest of Mrs. Emanuel V. Heidt, wife of an army officer at Fort Thomas, Kentucky. Mrs. Heidt is a stepdaughter of Cooper and a short time ago sued him for the recovery of a quantity of relics and heirlooms which had passed into the hands of her mother. Cooper testified that his wife had sold him the relics shortly before her death and that he had given her a bill of sale. The court held that the bill of sale was invalid and that the articles still belonged to the estate of Mrs. Cooper.

It is the hope of Mrs. Heidt that through the administration of her mother's estate the heirlooms may be saved and purchased by some museum for public benefit. Recently, it is rumored, certain pieces have been offered for sale.

MAY REFUSE TO PAY APPOINTEE

Board of Supervisors Considers Abolishing Assistant Matronship.

The position of assistant matron at the probation home may be allowed to lapse Monday, when the board of supervisors will be furnished with a resolution pased by the probation committee, appointing Mrs. J. Ross of San Anselmo to the position. The board is considering refusing to pay the salary of the new appointee, which will mean that the position will be vacant and abolished automatically.

This situation is a result of the deadlock between the committee and the supervisors over the resignation of Miss Bessie Haynes, whose resignation had been refused by the supervisors on the ground that it was forced. While the committee has no authority to force her out, it has authority to appoint another officer. This it did, but the salary can only be paid by resolution of the supervisors, and if this is refused the position is abolished.

Yesterday it was stated by the supervisors that they would pass the new salary, which would oust Miss Haynes, but today they intimate that they have reconsidered and may abolish the position. Chairman John F. Mullins declares that the matter will be fought out on the floor of the meeting next Monday. Mullins stated that the salary claim of Miss Haynes will be approved, but that of Mrs. Ross will be turned down.

ST. PATRICK'S PARISH ARRANGING BENEFIT

The members of St. Patrick's parish are arranging for a benefit entertainment to be given on the evening of November 6, the proceeds to apply on the amount needed in connection with the extensive improvements which have been going on in and around the church for the past three months.

At the close of the entertainment, an informal dance will be held in St. Joseph's Athletic hall. The committee in charge consists of Auditor Frank Garrison, Austin O'Brien, Patrick Maimey, Supervisor Mullins, M. R Brown, W. Dolan, Dave Boyle, Joe Samuels, Hugh Gallagher, Joe Kenny, Fat Bryan, John Givens, Mrs. Magee, Mrs. Ury, Mrs. Reeder, Mrs. Garrison, Mrs. Tressry, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. King, Mrs. Barnett, Mrs. Kiely, Mrs. Ward, Miss Brophy, Miss Anna Moy, Miss Nora Flannery.

SERVES PAPERS ON MRS. MACKAY

Cable King Takes Action, Following His Return From Europe.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Clarence H. Mackay, cable king, caused his wife, Mrs. Katherine Duer Mackay, to be served with papers in a court action last Saturday at the Hotel Plaza.

John J. Graham, junior member of the firm of Uterhart & Graham, Mackay's counsel, went to Mineola yesterday to file papers in the action with the Nassau County Clerk. When the office was closed for the day, however, the papers had not been filed.

Arthur Train, counsel for Mrs. Mackay, refused to make a statement on behalf of his client.

Mackay, who has been in Europe since July, returned to New York yesterday on board the Imperator. At 6:30 o'clock, several hours after the big liner docked in Hoboken, with as much secrecy as possible, Mackay and two of his three children, Ellen and John, left the steamship and hurried to a closed carriage.

Mackay has leased at $25,000 a year the John R. Drexel residence at 1 East Sixty-second street, but, so far as could be ascertained, he did not go there last night after leaving the Imperator.

At the Hotel Plaza it was said that "Mrs. K. D. Mackay of Toronto, Canada," was registered there last Saturday.

SERVED WITH PAPERS.

On September 23 last it became known that in February George Gordon Battle, counsel for Mrs. atherine K. Blake, had caused Mrs. Mackay to be served with papers in a suit for $1,000,000 damages for the alleged alienation of the affections of her husband. Dr. Joseph A. Blake, one of the foremost surgeons in America.

Several weeks later Mrs. Blake filed a suit for separation. She asked for alimony at the rate of $1500 a month, $3000 for expenses already incurred and $5000 for counsel fees.

In her suit against Mrs. Mackay, Mrs. Blake charged Mrs. Mackay with "wicked and wrongful acts, blandishments, flatteries and seductions, exercised by the defendant upon and towards the plaintiff's husband," adding that she "maliciously enticed and kept away and still entices and keeps away the plaintiff's said husband."

Mrs. Mackay, in her answer, denied the charge of Mrs. Blake and asserted that Dr. and Mrs. Blake were living apart before she met Dr. Blake.

When Mrs. Blake was told of the court action against Mrs. Mackay, she said: "Well, you know I never criticise my husband, I'm entirely in the hands of my lawyers, and it would not be proper for me to offer any comment."

"But does the news of this latest court action against Mrs. Mackay surprise you?" she was asked.

"No; I have for several years wondered at Mr. Mackay's patience."

HOLDS ONE-ARMED MAN UNQUALIFIED CHAUFFEUR

That a man with only one arm is not sufficiently equipped to operate an automobile was the decision of Superior Judge Harris yesterday afternoon, when he gave judgment against Jacob Knopf in his suit for $10,000 damages against the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways. Plaintiff contended that motorman had been to blame for a collission between his automobile and a streetcar. Knopf sustained severe injuries. Attorneys M. C. Chapman and E. E. Trefethen, appearing for the defendant maintained that Knopf was unable to control his auto sufficiently with one arm.

'BRIGHT FACE, BUT HEART OF COAL'

Albert Morcel Pleads That Wife Be Given Divorce, Not Alimony.

Pleading that his wife be granted a divorce that she is seeking from him, but that she be not allowed alimony for the reason that "she is a good hand at trimming hats and can support herself on that alone," Albert Morcel has written a lengthy appeal to Superior Judge Harris in connection with the action of Ernestime Morcel, who he says "has a pretty face, but a heart as black as coal."

Relating that his troubles commenced about 18 months ago after he had married her, the husband has which, he says, ended when she became acquainted with a real estate man and took him into her home as a boarder.

"She has now sued me for a divorce," writes Morcel. "Hope that you will grant her the divorce. She has been a curse and a detriment to me. How can I pay alimony on $30 per month. She knows my distress, and yet she wants to shove my head under water. She has everything and I nothing but trouble. Your honor, in the name of humanity, grant me justice, but don't allow her any alimony. Have mercy upon a poor man, whose only fault is to have loved such a creature, for at heart she is a devil."

Morcel relates that he could tell more; but that he restrained himself for the reason that he did not desire to take up the valuable time of the court.

"I was wealthy when I married her. I gave her a good home and she had everything she desired. But I went into business and lost my money. One day I went home and found the house empty. She had packed everything and left."

The divorce case is pending before Judge Wells, and the letter will be turned over to him by Judge Harris.

GIGANTIC DEAL IN OIL HOLDINGS

British Syndicate Takes Over the Properties of Union Company.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—The Union Oil Company, one of the largest oil concerns in the United States, has been merged with a great British syndicate in a combine, which involves a deal in seventy-five millions in stock and thirty-five millions in cash. The deal was closed in London yesterday by Eugene de Sabla, according to an announcement made this morning.

HAD AN OPTION.

Louis Sloss, representing interests, which have had an option on the Union company's holdings for some time, made the announcement, after receiving cabled messages from De Sable that the papers had been signed. The huge British syndicate which is to take over the holding is headed by Andrew Weir. The Union Oil Company and the General Petroleum Company are merged by the deal. The Union Company's wide oil fields, pipe lines, and fleet of steamers passes from the control of the family of Lyman Stewart, the English firm assuming complete charge.

The Union Oil Company deal will be made on a cash basis, while the General Petroleum Company will change hands through an exchange of stock. In this respect De Sabla, according to Louis Sloss, has taken special precautions to look out for the interests of the minority stockholders.

Some eight months ago an option on the Steward control was obtained by a syndicate including De Sabla and Louis Sloss at approximately $130 a share. Recently the stock has been selling around $60 a share.

INSPECTED HOLDINGS.

The willingness of the British syndicate to pay for the control at so great an advance beyond the quoted price is explained by a recent visit to California by Andrew Weir himself, who looked over all the properties owned by the Union Oil Company and returned to England with experts' reports placing the actual value of the properties at $200 a share.

Of the $85,000,000 cash involved, some $20,000,000 will go to taking over the Stewart option and $5,000,000 will be used in taking up the company's outstanding notes and floating indebtedness. The General Petroleum Company's short term notes will be paid with some $3,000,000 and the remaining $7,000,000 will be available as working capital.

Andrew Weir is at the head of Andrew Weir & Co., the largest ship owners in the United Kingdom. The gross business of this concern last year totaled in the neighborhood of $245,000,000.

SAYS PARTNER DECAMPED.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—Frank J. Bundschu of 2233 Market street obtained a warrant from Police Judge Sullivan today for the arrest of H. L. Nelson on a grand larceny charge. He claims that Nelson, who was his partner, decamped with $1000 of the firm's money.

ARREST ALLEGED CHECK PASSER, AGED 19 YEARS

In the arrest of William Decker by Inspectors Emigh and McSorley yesterday, and the capture of James Gregg on October 6, the local police have in custody two alleged young fictitious check passers who have been victimizing business men of the Melrose district for the past month. Gregg was arrested on saddle from S. W. Tanner, 2339 East Fourteenth street, and was given 90 days in jail on October 14. The check passing investigation was then instituted with the result that Gregg's partner in crime, William Decker, was taken into custody yesterday. The two young fellows, about 19 years old each, have virtually confessed to various operations, according to the police.

The boys operated by one writing out the checks and the other signing them.

Oakland's New School Buildings.

In building the new schoolhouses Oakland departed from the stereotyped style of school architecture and at the same time applied the social service idea in interior arrangement. Light, air and sanitation were the first requirements, and exterior adornment and interior arrangement were planned in obedience of those requisites. Form should follow use is a maxim familiar to architects the world over. It was closely adhered to in the designing of our school buildings. There is the maximum of comfort, convenience and general adaptability with the minimum of danger from fire or panic; and a majority of the new buildings have auditoriums or assembly rooms adapted to lecture and other uses for the adults of the neighborhood.

But the Stockton Independent is mistaken in saying they are all of one story. A majority of them are, but some of them are two stories in height, and designed for future enlargement. Every building is located in spacious grounds, and the one-story plan was adopted, although somewhat costlier, because of its greater safety in case of fire or panic and because it eliminated stairways. Each school is a pattern by itself, the designs being dictated largely by the topography of the site and the individual conceptions of the architect. In consequence our new school buildings are essentially modern and distinctive yet reminiscent of classical forms and suggestive of climatic conditions. They are beautiful rather than ornate, artistic rather than imposing.

Our Stockton contemporary thinks our school buildings are models to be imitated elsewhere. We should not regard them as models, but rather as featuring an idealism that should govern school planning and construction everywhere. We have struck no new note in architecture, but we have simply released architecture from the bondage of rigid conventionalism and given it the free play which can alone combine beauty of form with practical utility.

The editorial writer of the Stockton paper appears to have made a personal examination of some of Oakland's new school buildings, for he gives an appreciative description in detail of the College avenue school which is plainly the fruit of personal observation. While the College avenue school is all he says of it, the Emerson school on Shafter avenue is larger and in some respects a worthier example of the development of modern ideas in planning school buildings. But each of the seventeen new buildings has some special features worthy of commendation.

The point of it all is that the designing of her new schoolhouses shows that Oakland breathes the spirit of originality. She has not exactly evolved new types, but has adapted old types to the needs of the service they must give, also to climatic conditions and the craving for the artistic. She is bringing exterior form into close harmony with interior arrangement, the whole treatment being governed by the larger and saner perspective of the purpose of modern education.

Go into the College avenue school—the first of the new buildings to be completed and occupied—for instance, and one is struck by the air of simplicity and spaciousness, and by the completeness with which detail has been subordinated to use. Form has followed use, but use has taken nothing of beauty of outline from form; on the contrary, the blend shows how the artistic imagination can be so directed that idealism as to form and coloring and utilitarian perfection can run in the same channel without one interfering with the other. In bringing the aesthetic ideal to be the handmaid of practical use we have accomplished something worth while, both for the school and for the builder's art, also something that draws favorable attention to Oakland. We can say to the visitor who remarks, "That is a handsome schoolhouse," yes, but come inside and we'll show you something still more worthy your admiration.

"Rattlesnake Cause of Bad Accident," reads a headline. The which reminds us that snakes are usually the effect and not the cause.

Government by Rubber Stamp.

In giving an opinion sustaining the validity of the red rubber stamp signature of Lieutenant-Governor Wallace, Attorney-General Webb goes out of his way to administer a tart reproof to Secretary of State Jordan for questioning the legality of public documents so signed. In his eagerness to put Jordan in the wrong the Attorney-General has gone wide of the point on which the Secretary of State based his objection.

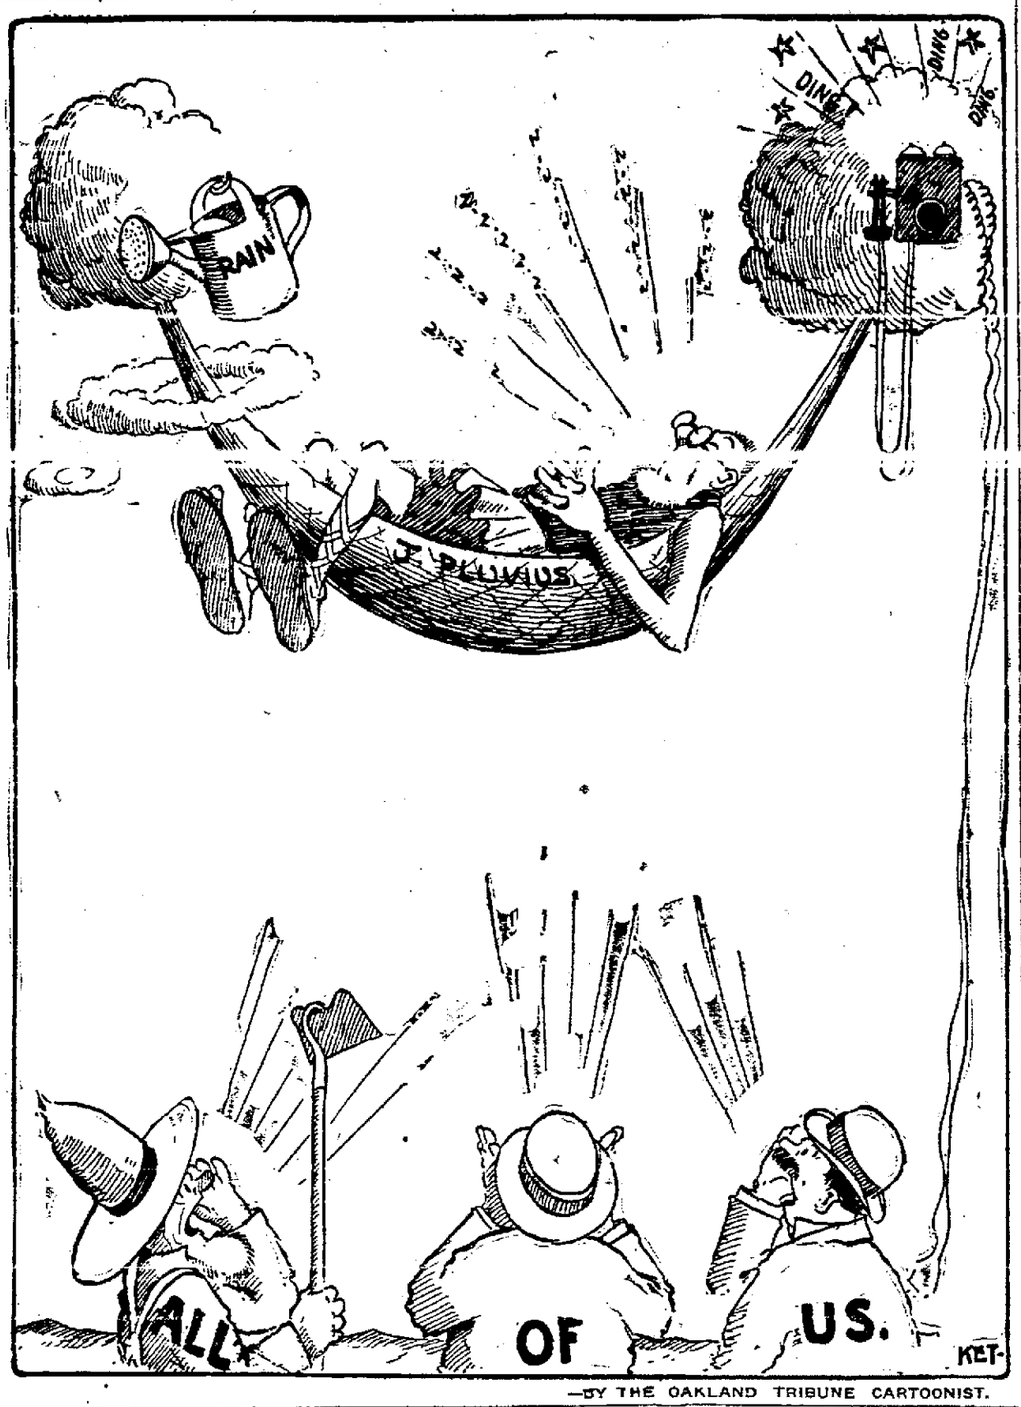

He assumes that Mr. Jordan was trying to show that the Lieutenant-Governor was incapable of performing the executive functions which devolve upon him by reason of the absence from the State of Governor Johnson, whereas the Secretary of State was merely doubtful of the validity of a rubber stamp signature which could be affixed by anybody or counterfeited so that it would be impossible to distinguish a spurious from a genuine signature. As was plainly his duty to do, Secretary Jordan requested the Attorney-General's office for information relative to his authority to attest documents which bore the red rubber stamp signature of the Lieutenant-Governor. Attorney-General Webb tells the Secretary of State that his action was unwarranted, and virtually charges him with impudently questioning the Lieutenant-Governor's capacity, when the inquiry related only to the validity of a rubber stamp signature. The Secretary of State wanted to know from the State's chief law officer whether such a signature complied with the law. The Lieutenant-Governor might be in perfect physical health and at the same time the rubber stamp signature illegal.

How was the Secretary of State to know the rubber stamp signature was affixed by the Lieutenant-Governor or by his authority?

Lieutenant-Governor Wallace was in a sanatorium at Los Angeles, Secretary Jordan in Sacramento. It was manifestly the duty of the latter to inquire as to the legality of a signature so easily imitated and so open to question. His official responsibility and the interests of the State combined to admonish him to be careful.

It is quite certain that banks will not cash checks signed with a rubber stamp. No bank will lend money on a mortgage [illegible] documents with a rubber stamp, why may not the Secretary of State attest them with a rubber stamp? It is quite [illegible] would hang a man on a warrant of execution with a rubber stamp. Secretary Jordan may have been wrong in the opinion of the Attorney-General, but he [illegible] suggested by common sense.

HEY! WAKE UP!

Immorality and Its Rapid Growth.

Passion for the extreme in theatricals is today as much pronounced as a desire for an elimination of clothing. Usage is gradually making extremists of us all. Custom comes to us through the minority rule that favors the vulgar and unconsciously the majority falls for the influence that sways in favor of acceptance of that which would overrule our mature considerations. The moot problem is: Where is it all to end?

By insidious methods the evilly-inclined would bring us to believe in the discarded adage of "fighting Satan with his own fire." This question on its face is a misapplication of the possibility of putting the devil out of commission. Equally impossible would be the chance of teaching virtue by attempting to show that exploitation of vice, in all its narrow, vicious and uncontrolled forms, is the best means of bringing about reformation in drama or in modes.

The truth in the matter is that the world is getting too lax in its morality. It is drifting toward the equivalent times of Louis XVI and even assuming some of the devil-me-care habits of the courts of the perverts. Good can come only of moral, clean and effective lessons and not through methods that are framed to appeal to dollars and sensuality.

Today we have the slit skirt, the redlight drama, the one-piece bathing suit and, of course, the prevalence of the shallow brain. It is easy to condone an offense that pleases the eye, and temporarily the brain, but it is sometimes hard to overcome the aftermath of these moral mistakes.

No good ever came of evil. This is a commonplace, but one that has been driven home.

Would it not be wise on considering the advisability of doing away with red-ray districts and our X-ray skirts and to take a bit of simple philosophy into consideration?

The Sacramento Bee is incensed at the fake royalty that figured in the Portola celebration. It was ridiculous, but entirely harmless. It was just a display of innocent snobbery, too guileless to be taken in earnest and too absurd to excite anger. In our festivals we create mock kings and queens and toy with them as playthings in the same spirit that we enjoy reading fairy tales or witness the lords and ladies and bedizened potentates in a spectacular extravaganza. It really means nothing, certainly is no indication that the American people desire to return to monarchical institutions. Our kings and queens are puppets, and the mock heroics we go through on occasion is the very best assurance that we are at heart sound republicans. It amuses us to mimic the ceremonial and pageantry of courts and kings of a past era, but while passing the time with such foolery we were never less inclined to take up with the real thing. With us royalty is a joke. As long as it is a joke it is harmless.

If we don't get rain soon there will be no necessity to attempt to vote the State "dry."

SAME OLD FALSE CRY

When the slot machines were suppressed, there was a great howl about the number of people who would be "thrown out of employment." The same shriek goes up whenever it is proposed to limit or abolish saloons. We heard it when the poolrooms were closed and the [illegible] now comes the plaint that when tenderloins are closed the denizens will be added to the "army of the unemployed."

In the case of the persons displaced by reforming vice, the resultant improvement of legitimate business has always provided legitimate jobs for more of the displaced persons than would take them. —From Fresno Republican.

FOR NEEDLEWOMAN.

When sewing white goods on the machine, keep a piece of chalk at hand so that if a drop of oil or smudge of black gets on the goods you can remove it. Shake off all of the loose chalk, then rub on the other side. Keep on rubbing until [illegible]

If you thread twists when sewing, when you take the needleful from the spool, hold each end firmly and stretch the thread two or three times as tight as you can without breaking it, and it will not twist any more.

OVERBUILDING MANHATTAN

The Record and Guide, discussing the drop in Manhattan's building figures, says the total decrease in the estimated cost of all classes of construction projected during the first six months of the current year compared with the corresponding period of 1912, was about $31,000,000, and of this decrease the diminution in the estimated cost of business buildings projected was $24,000,000. Thus the decrease in the new construction devoted to business purposes accounts for practically the whole of the total decrease. Construction during 1913 was abnormal and had it been continued would have ben disastrous for all concerned. Some 246 business buildings were projected last year at a total estimated cost of about $65,000,000. This figure was some $20,000,000 more than the corresponding figure of the four previous years, which had remained stationary at about $45,000,000. During the three years 1905, 1906 and 1907, years of business prosperity, an average of only $30,000,000 had been spent on business buildings, while in 1904 the total was only $15,000,000. The corresponding total for the first six months of 1913 was $16,000,000. It will be seen, consequently, that if the existing rate of construction is continued throughout the current year, the total amount spent on new business structures will be equal to the figures of 1906 and 1907 and inferior only to the totals of the last five years. A rest extending for another twelve months is really necessary in order to fill up existing vacancies and make it possible for property owners to recoup some of their losses.

FRUIT LAXATIVE FOR SICK CHILD

"California Syrup of Figs" Can't Harm Tender Stomach, Liver, Bowels.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleaning" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

SEMINOLE CLUB PLANS SEVENTH ANNUAL BALL

Friends of the Seminole Club have been informed that preliminary arrangements have been made for their seventh annual ball.

The officers and directors are bending every effort towards making the affair a success.

The committee on arrangements, appointed by President Charles J. Feehan, are: George E. Falleby, chairman, assisted by H. W. Brown, W. E. Andrews and C. C. Gallino.

The last of a series of theater parties given by the Seminole Club this year will be held December 2.

THIRTEEN-YEAR-OLD BOYS GIVEN LIFE SENTENCES

JOPLIN, Mo., Oct. 30. — Irl Louck and Charles Underhill, each 13 years old, pleaded guilty yesterday in the Circuit Court to having murdered Philip Burton, a hot tamale vender, a year ago and were given life sentences in the penitentiary. Burton was shot as he hesitated to throw up his hands when held up.

SHE DARKENED HER GRAY HAIR

A Kansas City Lady Darkened Her Gray Hair and Stimulated Its Growth by a Simple Home Process.

She Tells How She Did It.

A well-known resident of Kansas City, Mo., who darkened her gray hair by a simple home process, made the following statement: "Any lady or gentleman can darken their gray or faded hair, stimulate its growth and make it soft and glossy with this simple recipe, which they add 1 oz. of bay rum, 1 small box of Barbo Compound and ¼ oz. of glycerine. These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair every other day until the gray hair is darkened sufficiently, then every two weeks. This mixture relieves scalp troubles and is excellent for dandruff and falling hair. It does not stain the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off. It will make a gray haired person look 10 to 20 years younger."

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Try This! Mi Sage Tea and Sulphur, Brush It Through Your Hair, Taking 1 Strand at a Time.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is mussy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use tonic called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant. You will also discover ped falling.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and look years younger.

POTATOES SENT TO SUFFERERS

Stricken Nome Relieved by Former Alaska Gold Prospector.

Nome famine sufferers will, at least, not lack potatoes, after two weeks. A specially chartered ship is today speeding toward the Alaska city, loaded with the first large potato crop Nevada has produced, this being the gift of C. T. Lidner, millionaire miner of Tonopah, and formerly a prospector near Nome. Lidner arrived in Oakland this morning to superintend the shipping of the consignment.

Lidner is registered at the Hotel Crellin, where he will remain for several days, until reports of his vessel are heard from. He has also sent other supplies to the stricken city.

The Nevada mining man recently sent large consignments of supplies to Dayton, Ohio, and has been presented with a watch by the relief committee of that city in recognition of his services. He recently figured in a dash across the desert to arrive in Tonopah in time to see his pet dog, who died from eating meat loaded with coyote poison. The dash from the mines attracted some attention, the miner offering a small fortune to any man who could save his pet.

Lidner, after prospecting in Alaska, arrived in Nevada almost penniless. Striking a rich vein of ore, he became a millionaire almost in a night, the Lidner mine now being among the most noted in the State.

IMPROVEMENTS FOR NINE INSTITUTIONS ORDERED

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 30. — Plans, specifications and estimates for improvements and buildings at nine different State institutions, amounting to $92,407, and including a $17,500 boys' nursery at the Sonoma State Home, and work in connection with the restoration of the Sonoma Mission, to be done under the direction of State Engineer McClure, were approved yesterday by the State Engineering Advisory Board.

The work to be done is as follows: Five fire escapes, Berkeley Home for the Deaf and Blind, $6500; grand stand, Los Angeles State Normal, $2200; program clerk and bell system, Los Angeles State Normal, $3200; telephone system, Los Angeles State Normal, $3000; laundry building, Napa State Hospital, $18,000; painting, San Francisco State Normal, $1900; manual training building, San Jose State Normal, $3600, gymnasium, San Jose State Normal, $3750; work in connection with restoration of Sonoma Mission, $2665; boys' nursery, Sonoma State Home, $17,500; improvements Veterans' Home, Yountville, $2550; repairs to dining room and waitresses' quarters and plumbing, Veterans' Home, $6627; guards' cottage at San Quentin penitentiary, $11,000; additional windows in cell building, San Quentin, $1701; plumbing in prison yard, San Quentin, $1824; dairy barn at Folsom penitentiary, $5900.

OLD MANSION RAIDED; OPIUM OUTFIT FOUND

SAN JOSE, Oct. 30.—Surrounding a mansion on North First street, opposite the Hotel Vendome, inspectors for the State Board of Pharmacy, conducted a raid on the place yesterday and seized an opium-smoking layout. Two Chinese were arrested. A Celestial threw the smoking materials out of a second-story window when the officers entered, but a deputy sherif was fwaiting for ft below. Fin Fun and S. Chin were arrested, and Fun was fined $100 in the justice court immediately after.

The residence was formerly the property of the Campbell family and one of the show places of residential San Jose. A few months ago a Chinese firm purchased the place for a herbarium. Its old and costly furnishings have all been retained and many of the social elect have been treated by the Chinese doctors there during the last few months. The doctors declared in court that the smoking layout was left in the house by a discharged Chinese cook. The excuse failed to stop a fine for Fun, who threw the pipe out of the window.

NATIONAL PRAYER DAY OBSERVED BY W. C. T. U.

National prayer day or the red-letter day was observed this afternoon by the members of the Oakland Central Women's Christian Temperance Union in the First Methodist Episcopal Church, South, Thirty-seventh and Telegraph avenue. Mrs. C. P. Moore, superintendent of evangelistic work in this city, led the devotions and presided. Mrs. Cynthia J. A. Jump, president of the Union, spoke upon "The Growth of the Work." Mrs. A. J. Kennedy, one of the leading advocates of temperance here, gave an address upon the theme "Keeping in Touch." Several enthusiastic promotion workers took part in the meeting, which was public.

Nothing Lonesome About It Trail of Pine Is Realism

CHARLOTTE WALKER, WHO WILL BE SEEN BY OAKLANDERS IN "TRAIL OF THE LONESOME PINE."

THERE is a weird and poetic fascination about the very name of John Fox's novel, "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," which is the attraction announced for the Macdonough Theater for three nights and Saturday matinee, beginning tomorrow, Friday evening. Eugene Walter, in constructing his play upon the novel, has lost sight of none of these details which constitute its delightful realism. He has preserved intact the picture of the life led by those strange people of the mountains of East Tennessee, a people whose character is an incongruous mixture of clannish family pride, ancestral honor, crude ethics, ignorance and superstition.

Charlotte Walker will appear as June, the motherless, neglected, almost savage child of the mountains, whose inborn cravings to be better than she is, to know more of the ways of the "foreigners" who live beyond her loved mountains, receives an impetus in an awakened love for one of those very foreigners himself, who comes from the East with a company of men to establish law and order among her people.

The attraction at the Macdonough November 3, 4 and 5, will be the enchanting Franz Lehar and Glen MacDonough musical romance, "The Count of Luxembourg." The charms of "The Count of Luxembourg" have been heralded across two continents for the past two years. Londoners, Parisians and Viennese have raved about its tuneful melodies and fascinating story.

In "The Bird of Paradise," which will be seen at the Macdonough Theater six days, beginning November 7th, usual matinees, Richard Walton Tully, the author, presents an alluring picture of a vanished regime in a beautiful land. The scene is Hawaii, and the tale of romance, intrigue and superstition, is carefully woven.

ORPHEUM.

Lulu Glaser is creating a genuine sensation at the Oakland Orpheum this week. She is fortunate enough to have a fine musical playlet, "First Love," and with Thos. D. Richards she wins enough applause at each performance to "make the rafters ring." Her engagement comes to an end next Saturday night.

The vaudeville bill is not lacking in other star features. Rosalind Coghlan, of a famous family of actors, upholds the family traditions in a dramatic sketch, "The Obstinate Miss Granger."

Kluting's entertainers include an unusually attractive lot of beautiful white angora cats, fox terriers, white pigeons and white rabbits. Gleason and Goldie sing comedy songs and grand opera bits. Swor and Mack are black face artists.

LaVier is a trapeze artist who takes extraordinary risks. Andrew F. Kelly entertains with some Irish stories and the Heuman Trio of comedy cyclists with motion pictures, round out the bill.

PANTAGES

Pursuant to Manager Pantages instructions, the attaches of the local vaudeville house have made no effort to learn the identity of the mysterious two fair unknowns billed "Two Girls and a Piano, a Study in Black and White." When the young women came to Pantages and he agreed to book them, they exacted a promise that he would not endeavor to learn who they were or why the incognito. They were to appear but one week and that at the San Francisco Pantages, but so great was their success in the little drawing room entertainment they provided, that Mr. Pantages prevailed upon them to appear in Oakland. They were loth to do so, as it appears that Oakland is their home.

So much has been found out—that the father of one of the young women is a prominent Oakland citizen and on the staff of the Governor. Other acts on the Pantages bill this week are the DeVoie trio, Moore, Davey and Fifii, Jose Meleno and company, Anderson and Goines, the Ameen Abou Hamad troupe of Arabs, Mrs. Myrtle and "Babe" Wright and Portola pictures.

IDORA PARK

A venture that could find its home nowhere outside of California will be attempted this year when Paul Steindorff, choragus of the University of California and veteran director of music on the Pacific coast, takes his band to Idora Park for a winter season of Sunday afternoon and evening concerts in the open air. The band is the splendid aggregation that has been giving the Sunday concerts in Lakeshore Park in Oakland. The fact that the ground becomes damp with the first rain precludes the use of the municipal band park for the winter season, but the covered amphitheater at Idora opens possibilities.

The skating rink remains open through the winter, and a new floor has been laid. Several championship races are to be scheduled for the winter season. The ostrich farm also continues open.

ATTEMPTS TO KILL TWO; THEN ENDS OWN LIFE

BURLINGTON, Ia., Oct. 30.—T. E. Hall, 60 years old, yesterday attacked Mrs. Mary Tiedemann, in whose house he roomed, with a hammer, made an attempt to kill Mrs. Tiedmann's little daughter and thein drank poison, dying shortly afterwards. It is believed Hall was in-condition.

WOUND FATAL.

PORTLAND, Oct. 30.—Charles L. Haas, slayer of his wife, Christine Haas, whom he shot on October 11 last, died last night from a wound which he inflicted by shooting himself immediately after he had shot his wife. Jealousy was the motive. Haas came here from Denver, where he had served a sentence in prison.

FERRY COMPANY WINS ITS FIGHT

Vallejo Controversy Settled by Mare Island Naval Authorities; Employes Lose.

VALLEJO, Oct. 30.—Orders were issued at Mare Island yesterday prohibiting the association of Mare Island employes from landing there after November 1 from private launches. This action was the result of recommendations made by a board consisting of Commander William M. Crose, Pay Inspector Joseph Fyffe and Civil Engineer George A. McKay, appointed to determine a rate for transportation on boats of the Vallejo Transportation Company. The order settles a long litigation between the company and Mare Island employes. It was announced that the rate of transportation would be cut workmen have been charged $2 a month.

The navy department had taken a hand in the litigation, which had been taken to the state supreme court as a result of the refusal of the ferry company to continue its contract with the government on the ground it was unable to operate its boats on a paying basis owing to the heavy inroad on business by employes' launches

The employes were operating under an amendment to the ferries laws which was enacted by the last legislature, after the supreme court had sustained the temporary injunction against them, issued on the ground that the ferry company held an exclusive franchise.

As the Mare Island navy yard is a federal reservation, the government has a right to say who shall or shall not land there. The naval board, after examining the books of the ferry company, with the assistance of rate experts from the state railroad commission, came to its decision.

AGED MILLIONAIRE IS AMUSED BY LAWYERS

REDWOOD CITY, Oct. 30.—Loren Coburn, the San Mateo county millionaire, who is fighting his third court battle in Redwood City to be restored to competency, had the satisfaction of several hearty laughs in the course of his trial yesterday. His entertainers were the 10 attorneys who are on his payroll and witnesses who were stating their reasons for believing the 87-year-old millionaire incompetent to conduct his own business.

I. T. Bloom, a lumber man, recounted his business dealings with Coburn to show why he thought the millionaire land owner was of unsound mind.

"In one deal I had with Coburn I sent him a bill for $20," said Bloom.

"What reply did you get?" he was asked.

"Mr. Coburn sent me in return another bill for $90," said Bloom.

Coburn ceased muttering in his whiskers and roared. The court proceedings were interrupted several minutes, while attorneys, jury and judge laughed at the answer.

Bloom testified that he had never known a millionaire to act in business affairs like Coburn. This naive remark also seemed to amuse everybody.

ENGLISH BUSINESS MEN WANT EXHIBITS AT FAIR

LONDON, Oct. 30—An influential committee, which will assist the British government to reconsider its decision not to participate in the Panama-Pacific exposition was formed here today by the heads of the great steamships, commercial and manufacturing companies. The committee points out that since the government announced its negative decision, circumstances have changed considerably and many of the large manufacturers have determined to take advantage of the improved tariff conditions in the United States and send exhibits to San Francisco.

The committee is non-political. Its membership comprises such prominent Liberals as Lords Aberconway and Cowdray and such well known Unionists as John S. Harwood-Banner, Sir J. Fortscue Flannery and Sir Charles Allen as well as the chairman of the Cunard, the White Star and the Allan lines: Sir Algernon Freeman Firth, president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the United Kingdom; Stanley Machin, vice-president of the London Chamber of Commerce; Marquis Graham, son of the Duke of Montrose and representative manufacturers from all parts of the United Kingdom.

PIONEER OF SEAS IS DEAD AT AGE OF 85

STOCKTON, Oct. 30.—Frederick Yost, aged 85, a native of Pennsylvania, died here today. At the age of 16 years Yost signed for a cruise on the whaleship Copis, bound from Philadelphia to Honolulu. Arriving at his destination he tried to leave the ship. He was told that he had three years yet to serve. He swam ashore and was hidden in a cave and cared for by an old negro. The latter was arrested and $500 reward offered for Yost's capture. Finally the Copis sailed. Yost helped two men build a little craft and sailed for California. Arriving in San Francisco in 1848 he engaged in mining, lumber and express. He settled here in 1870. He is survived by a widow and several children.

REPRESENT THE LONG AND SHORT OF IT

FORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 1.—Fort Worth has the tallest and shortest policemen in the country.

Traffic Policeman G. W. Montgomery is 7 feet 1 inch tall and weighs 218 pounds. Patrol Driver Joe Reisacker is 5 feet tall and tips the scales at 125 pounds.

Montgomery has the busiest corner in the city. He sees over the tops of the crowds' heads and almost over the top of everything else, so he is able to untangle any mixup with ease.

He and Reisacker are chums and frequently appear together in uniform, putting the whole street upon which they happen to be walking in a good humor through the contrast in their sizes.

NEW FOUNDLAND POLICY OF EXPENDITURE SCORED

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Oct. 30. — The question of government expenditures election held in New Foundland today. The party of the premier, Sir Edward Morris, urged the election of his supporters to the 36 seats in the house of assembly on the plea that he had done much to develop the colony by his policy of government aid in the construction of many branch lines of railway.

Sir Robert Bond, heading the association, assailed this policy, declaring is too expensive.

CANAL NEED NOT FEAR AN ENEMY

Safe From Fire So Far as the Great Locks Are Concerned.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Secret tests made by the third division of the Atlantic battleship fleet, under command of Rear Admiral Usher, are said to have disclosed the fact that the Panama canal virtually has nothing to fear from the fire of an enemy's fleet, so far as the Gatun and other important locks are concerned. This information leaked from the navy department yesterday.

The tests started last winter, are declared to have developed the fact that the fleet could not determine the location of the Gatun locks. It also intimated that the data made public and supposed to give the topography of the canal purposely was inaccurate. In addition it was discovered that the hills intervening rendered the locks almost immune from damage by bombardment from sea.

Extension of the breakwater on the Atlantic side has made it possible to mount long range guns so far out that the approach of an enemy's fleet could be readily checked.

Elaborate arrangements also for the mining of the approaches of the canal on both the Atlantic and Pacific sides have been completed.

MILITANT METHODS NOT NEEDED IN AMERICA

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 30. — Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the English suffragist, spoke here last night to a large audience. Mrs. Pankhurst repeated that militant methods were not needed to secure the ballot for women in this country, but the suffragists of England would keep up their warfare until they secured the right to vote.

Social questions, particularly the stamping out of certain diseases, interest her most of all now, she said.

SEXES TO FIGHT BATTLE OF OARS

Alameda Girls and Boys Will Row in Regatta Next Saturday.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 30. — Arrangements for the formal acceptance of two new rowing cutters presented to the city of Alameda by the San Francisco Bridge company and now awaiting dedication have been completed. The cutters will be [illegible] company and will be accepted on behalf of the city by Mayor Frank Otis. The services will take place at the east end of Lincoln park Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

Play Superintendent John Gutleben has arranged for two of his crews to row a regatta in the new cutters. The Serena Girls' Club will "man" one of the barges and it will be a battle of the sexes, for the girls are to be matched against a sturdy and well trained crew of boy rowers.

Members of the Serena club have the utmost confidence that they will be able to lead their male opponents by at least two boat lengths over the course around San Leandro bay that has been mapped out by Gutleben. The boys, on the other hand, disdain any mention of the demonstration as a competitive test, but are nevertheless hard at work each afternoon at the oars.

The crews of both boats will be garbed in the regulation rowing uniforms that have been selected by the two clubs, and will give a demonstration of their ability to handle boats under all circumstances.

While there are several other crews of boys and girls, there will be only two in the regatta, the object of the gathering being more a formal acceptance of the gifts of the bridge company than a regular aquatic outing. Two more barges contributed by the dredger people are on the road to completion, and will soon be ready for another couple of juvenile crews.

ALAMEDA ELECTRICITY COMMISSION MEETING

ALAMEDA, Oct. 30.—The electricity commission last night directed Secretary Arthur Goldsworthy to advertise for bids for fuel oil for the plant. The present contract does not expire until February 1, 1914, but the board believes that as oil is down to a bedrock price now, a better contract can be obtained. The present contract calls for a price of 60 cents a barrel, but it is believed that the fuel can be purchased now at a cheaper figure.

The board purchased a Ford light roadster from the Park Garage, the price being $525. This bid was the only offer which followed the specifications advertised by the commission. The machine is to be used by the inspector of street lights. The old auto which has been traded in as a part of the deal for the new machine.

The contract with the Gamewell Fire Alarm and Telegraph Company for a police redlight system was signed by the members of the commission. The new system is to cost $8000 and work on its installation will begin at once.

In discussing the new light plant the commissioners found that all contractors have received their money for the work they performed in the erection of the plant and the installation of machinery.

BOWLING THIS EVENING.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 30.—The team of the Alameda Bowling Club will roll the Herolds of Oakland tonight on the Zangs alleys in this city. Both teams are evenly matched and a great contest is looked for.

The local bowlers held a round-robin last night and the high averages and high scores respectively were as follows:

Girard, 171, 193; Stegeman, 170, 220; Jack Lewis, 170, 173; Roy Lewis, 163, 1[illegible]; Welsh, 157, 172; Saum, 160, 201.

MOUNTED OFFICER HURT EACH MONTH

Bicycle and Motorcycle Injuries Decimate Ranks of Berkeley Force.

BERKELEY, Oct. 30. — Berkeley patrolmen, brave in the face of bullets and black-jacks if necessary, are beginning to "shy" at the sight of a motorcycle. Early this morning Special Officer W. Macdonald smashed into a milk wagon on his machine and is laid up at Roosevelt [illegible] accident makes the twelfth on the local force in a year.

Macdonald, who was patroling in Claremont, was coasting down Forrest avenue at 4 o'clock this morning. At Piedmont avenue he collided with a milk wagon of the Berkeley Farm Dairy, driven by Fred Holdner, and was hurled several feet from his machine. He was carried to Roosevelt Hospital, where investigation showed a fractured shoulder.

In the past year one accident after another, attributable in some way to a bicycle or motorcycle, has happened to patrolmen on an average of once a month. The list of accidents to date follows.

October 20, 1912—W. J. McMillan fell from bicycle, receiving painful facial abrasions.

February 15, 1913—John A. Greening's motorcycle skidded, throwing him off; shoulder and legs sprained.

May 22—Hugh Macdonald, special, hurt in fall from bicycle.

May 23—F. B. Matson's motorcycle skidded, throwing him off; broken toe.

June 1—Hugh Macdonald, thrown from bicycle and side injured.

June 30—J. T. Jones fell from motorcycle and was laid up several days with injured knee.

August 6—D. M. Brown suffered a compound fracture of the arm when struck by car while riding motorcycle.

August 8—F. B. Matson, stooping to pick up motorcycle, dropped from pocket his revolver, which exploded, shooting him through right hand.

October 9—J. T. Jones was thrown from motorcycle while crossing car tracks, injuring both legs.

October 16—J. T. Farley; knees bruised in fall from bicycle.

October 22—J. H. Richards, bruised in collision with wagon while riding bicycle.

ALAMEDA BLUECOAT AS A WILD WEST VAQUERO

ALAMEDA, Oct. 30. — Policeman Al Huff early this morning qualified not only as a policeman but for a position with a wild west show or moving picture outfit. Huff found a horse trampling down lawns. He pursued the animal, but on approaching within a few feet each time was saluted with a whinney to accompaniment of rapidly retreating hoof beats.

It was after the fourth attempt to apprehend the animal, which had punched holes in as many lawns, that Huff bethought himself of his early childhood days, when as a thrower of the lariat, he took first place among his juvenile compeers. The policeman thereupon entered the rear yard of a neighboring residence and "borrowing" the clothes line, with true Dilldockian dexterity he encircled the neck of the animal and placed him under arrest. Poundmaster Grant Hicks is today looking for the owner of the steed and incidentally the $5 that will enrich the municipal coffers as the result of the negligence of that owner.

WILL HOLD BANQUET.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 30.—H. W. Shreve and A. W. Freudendahl will be joint hosts at a banquet to be held Saturday evening at the Estudillo House in San Leandro. The guests will include a score of friends of the two Alamedans. It has been the custom for a member or members of the coterie to hold the feast once a month.

Gowns Require Patience! But Patience Requires Same

MISS CHRISTINE BERTHOLAS, WHO WILL TAKE PART AS LADY SAPHIRE IN "PATIENCE" AT TREBLE CLEF SOCIETY TONIGHT.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Oct. 30.—The "aesthetic" gown popular in the time of Gilbert & Sullivan, writers of the opera "Patience," may have had much to recommend them to the young women of the time who were fortunate enough to possess sylph-like figures. The women students who will wear similar clinging gowns in tonight's Treble Clef Society production of the opera at the Macdonough are convinced, however, that they were never invented with a view of dancing in them.

Twenty young women who will compose the feminine portion of tonight's chorus have been wrestling for weeks with the gowns in an attempt to dance gracefully in them, and have succeeded only by dint of the hardest kind of work. Final rehearsals today of the opera for the production this evening showed that they have achieved something near success in their efforts.

Special attention has been given by Coach W. F. Rochester to the work of the choruses for tonight's production. Both the dancing and vocal work of the chorus are said to be effective, as well as their costuming. The men are to be garbed in the scarlet uniforms of dragoons, while the women will wear the clinging "aesthetic" gowns which W. S. Gilbert loved to satirize.

The Treble Clef Society, which will give tonight's play, is composed of university women interested in music, tonight's production being their annual offering. The orchestra and musical features will be under the direction of Paul Steindorff. Among those who will be heard in leading roles are Miss Ruth Carson as Patience, Miss Melinda Magley as Lady Angela, Miss Christine Bertholas as Lady Saphire, Miss Mila Cearley as Lady Ella, Miss Mildred Van Gulpen as Lady Jane, Kurtz Steindorff as Reginald Bunthorne, R. D. Scott as Colonel Calverley, and H. P. Williams as Archibald Grosvenor.

SQUIRES TIRED; BUILDS BONFIRE

Bivouacks in an Empty Lot and Slumbers Are Rudely Disturbed.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 30. — W. E. Squires told the police that he was 34 years old and very tired; that he had no money and no place to sleep, when he built a bonfire of large proportions in a vacant lot at the corner of Third street and Taylor avenue, last night, and composing his weary limbs, prepared to hibernate for the night [illegible] part of his al fresco slumbers when his bivouac was rudely disturbed by Policemen Hiff and Watts, who arrived in the patrol wagon in response to the complaints of neighbors in the vicinity.

Squires had built a fire that attracted the attention of residents for blocks around. He had been diligently gathering the wood along the beach for an hour before he started the blaze and had a goodly supply on hand to replenish the fire when the weather grew colder and the fire burned low. The man told the police that being 34 years old and extremely tired he [illegible] when he settled himself for slumber, of spending the night in comfort and peace, and free at last from the disturbing noises of the patrol bell and the glint of the firelight upon metallic stars.

Squires was not drunk, he had not even been drinking, and after a night's repose at the police station, he was allowed to depart in peace.

LINCOLN SCHOOL CLUB HOLDS ANNUAL ELECTION

ALAMEDA, Oct. 30.—Members of the Lincoln School Mothers' Club gathered yesterday in the annual meeting of the club and election of officers for the ensuing year followed. The following were chosen:

President, Mrs. H. J. Platts; vice-president, Mrs. W. G. Wendland; corresponding secretary, Mrs. A. T. Kalas; recording secretary, Mrs. C. O. Shepardson; treasurer, Mrs. G. W. Bennett; financial secretary, Mrs. A. L. Shock.

A talk on "Federation" was given by Mrs. Pauline Bird, and recreation commissioner, Mrs. Eileen Allen delivered an illuminating address on "Girls' Recreational Centers." Mrs. Evelyn Mulford, playground story teller, gave several selected readings that will later be told the children at the open-air gatherings.

PROFESSOR POPPER TO ADDRESS CONGREGATION

BERKELEY, Oct. 30.—The First Hebrew Congregation of Berkeley will hold services Friday night at 7:30 at the Odd Fellows' Hall, corner of Shattuck and Addison streets. A very interesting program has been arranged for the evening by the committee in charge.

The chairman has succeeded in getting Prof. William Popper, head of Semitic languages of the University of California to speak to the congregation. Prof. Popper is an interesting and entertaining speaker, and it is hoped that all who have not heard him, will take advantage of this opportunity. Prof. Popper has chosen for his topic, "The Chosen People." All the Jews of Berkeley are cordially invited.

The Hebrew school will open for registration on Friday, October 31, between 3 and 4 p. m., at the Oddfellows' Hall. All children will be welcomed.

WILL LIGHT ALL PARKS IN THE ENCINAL CITY

ALAMEDA, Oct. 30. — The parks are to be lighted with electroliers. At a conference of the recreation and electricity commissions last night it was decided that such action would be taken. The electricity commission will pay for the work and the recreation commission will reimburse for the work within a year.

The recreation commission found that it was without funds for the work, but the electricity board came to the rescue and offered to advance the money.

The lights will now shine, as desired by members of several mothers' clubs that held a conference with the recreation commission, the council and the mayor and city attorney. The council will pass upon the proposition Tuesday evening.

SHOWS HOG CHOLERA SERUM IS A SUCCESS

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Oct. 30.—Two bulletins of interest to farmers have just been issued at the agricultural experiment station, the one on "Directions for Using Anti-Hog Cholera Serum," the other on "Commercial Fertilizers." In the former James F. Mitchell declares that, where fifty per cent of hogs infected with cholera die, yet 95.3 per cent of all the hogs treated with the serum in California in the past two years have lived. There have been 72,780 hogs so treated. The bulletin on "Commercial Fertilizers" contains the report of analysis of various fertilizers offered on the market.

ALAMEDA PERSONALS

ALAMEDA, Oct. 30.—J. C. Siegfried of Alameda, one of the large importers of Japanese goods, and who has been in the Orient for the past four months, is expected to arrive from the far east tomorrow.

Miss Jane Cooper, formerly of this city, but who has been abroad for the past several years, will arrive shortly in California, and will spend the holidays here. Miss Cooper leaves her mother and sister Europe.

Commissioner George T. Mills, from Nevada to the Panama-Pacific fair, is on a visit to his brother A. W. Mills of Union street. Commissioner Mills is also a Nevada senator. He is here with the governor and lieutenant-governor of the sage brush state.

Mrs. Herman Krusi of this city was the hostess at a luncheon given at the Claremont County Club today. The luncheon was in compliment to Mrs. Paul Eisenberg of Honolulu and Mrs. William Schroth of Japan.

A Hallowe'en dance by the members of the Sequoia club and their friends will be held this evening. Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Haslett of this city are prominent members of the club.

The Wedding of Miss Amylita Talbot and Charles Frederick Wilson will take place in Washington, D. C., on November 22. Invitations to the marriage of the Alameda girl and the Washington business man were received by local friends today.

The wedding of Miss Edith Forderer, daughter of former City Trustee J. F. Fordemer, and Byron Priest was celebrated at the home of her parents in Regent street last night. The wedding service was read by the Rev. E. P. Dennet, a former pastor of this city. The wedding was a simple home affair with only relatives and intimate friends present. Miss Helen Vollmar caught the bridal bouquet. Following a honeymoon tour, the couple will reside at Santa Clara avenue and Pearl street.

George Eldman, who has been on a business trip to Carson City, in the interests of a San Francisco house, has returned to his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Gooding are to leave shortly for a visit to relatives in Boise, Idaho. They will be away for several months.

LOTTERY AGENTS MUST PAY FINE

Other Minor Cases Disposed of by Police Judge in Alameda.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 30. — Police Judge R. B. Tappan this morning sentenced Leo Ray to pay a fine of $25 for having sold lottery tickets, and Ah Gah to pay a fine of $100 on the same score. In giving his sentence Tappan said that while the offense was the initial one for both men, prior convictions for selling [illegible] other Chinese residing in the same house as Ah Gah, and that being the case the fine would be heavier.

Gah was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 on each of two counts, while in the case of Ray there was only one count and the fine was made just half of that imposed upon the Chinese.

However, in the case of Ray, the court is said to have been ill-advised, a conviction from the same store having been had before Justice of the Peace Elmer E. Johnson, a fortnight ago.

A. Silvani, a junk dealer, charged with [illegible] license, was excused on payment of the $25 required to do business.

Myrtle Reeves and Thomas O'Neal, arrested on charges of disturbing the peace and intoxication, were sentenced to 30 days each in the city prison, the sentence against the woman being suspended for 30 days. O'Neal is an Oakland plasterer. The woman resides on Pearl street.

John Leonard, charged with improper actions toward children, and arrested upon the complaint of H. C. Ward, forfeited $25 by failing to appear for trial.

NABS YOUNG ROBBERS IN THE NICK OF TIME

BERKELEY, Oct. 30.—Somewhere in the Ellsworth street section one or more hold-ups would have occurred last night but for the vigilance of Patrolman Louis Javete. At 9 o'clock he took into custody at Dana street and Dwight Way three youths giving the names of Anton Rossi, Thomas M. Wilson and James Bryan.

Searched at the police station each was found to be carrying a revolver and a large handkerchief to have been used as a face mask. All three admitted, according to the police, that they had come to Berkeley intending highway robbery and were looking for likely prey when arrested by Javete.

Investigation showed Rossi to be a former convict and Bryan an escape from the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society's custody in San Francisco.

STREET GANG READY TO PRUNE SHADE TREES

ALAMEDA, Oct. 30.—This is tree-trimming time in Alameda and Superintendent of Streets V. M. Frodden has issued a notice to property owners that they should have their trees trimmed before December 1, if they desire to have the work done privately. After that date the street department trimmers will start operations and trim all the trees of the city which have not already received attention.

Superintendent Frodden says that if property owners will notify his office of their intention to have trees trimmed that the debris will be removed by city wagons as rapidly as possible.

The superintendent advises that trees should be trimmed so as to uncover the electroliers, wherever possible. If the trees are small this cannot be done but where trees are tall the limbs should be trimmed so as to clear the street lights.

WILL HEAR ADDRESS.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 30.—Clarence C. Eaton of Tacoma, Wash., will speak this evening at the Unitarian church on Grand street, under the auspices of the First Church of Christ Scientist of Alameda. Eaton is a member of the board of lectureship of the Mother Church of Boston. The lecture which will be free, will start at 8 o'clock.

WOMEN CLUBS IN ANNUAL MEETING

San Francisco District of State Federation Begins First Session.

SANTA ROSA, Oct. 30.—The first session of the twelfth annual convention of the San Francisco district of the California federation of Women's Clubs, which convened here yesterday, was devoted to the redistricting of the state. [illegible] cussion on the "redistricting" subject, which was opposed by a number of the club members, who believed that Napa would be taken from the San Francisco district. According to unofficial reports Mrs. Percy S. King of Napa, will be the next president of the San Francisco district. Mrs. King's opportunities for the highest office in the gift of the federation would be somewhat jeopardized if the clubs would indorse the redistricting plan. A large delegation of club-women of Alameda county are attending the conclave.

BERKELEY AUTO SPEED LAW IS NOT CHANGED

BERKELEY, Oct. 30.—"This city does not want to obtain money under false pretenses," declared Judge Robert Edgar this morning in commenting upon the new state automobile law which goes into effect the first of the year, and which permits a maximum speed of thirty miles an hour. Judge Edgar points out that the municipal ordinance imposes a limit of fifteen miles an hour.

"The municipal ordinance will, of course, continue in effect in Berkeley," declared Judge Edgar, "and the speed limit within the city boundaries will be fifteen miles, just as before. We don't want to have to fine people merely for mistaking the state law as of local effect."

SPRUCE CAMP TO HAVE BIG JOINT INSTALLATION

ALAMEDA, Oct. 30.—Spruce Camp, No. 132, Woodman of the World, will be visited tomorrow evening at Woodmen Hall by representatives from every camp in Alameda county. It is expected that delegates to the number of 250 will be present.

The occasion of the gathering is the official visit of the Alameda County Executive Committee, which makes a visit to some one of the various camps each month.

Candidates from every camp in the county will be present and a joint initiatory service will be held. A class of six will represent the efforts of Spruce Camp to swell the membership. The ceremonies of initiation will be conducted by a specially selected team of officers.

STOLE LICENSE FROM A HORSE: LEFT THE BEER

ALAMEDA, Oct. 30. — George Adams, driver of an Oakland beer wagon, reports that while serving a local customer, a miscreant stole the license numbers from the harness of his horse, and made away with the tags.

Adams says that many times beer has been stolen from his wagon, but that never before has the numbers of his license been abstracted. He asks the police to assist in their recovery.

PRIEST ON VACATION.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 30.—Rev. Father Bernard Praught, rector of the local Catholic Church, is spending a week's vacation at his old pastorate in Rio Vista. Father Praught will return to Alameda Saturday morning. He will have his regular services next Sunday.

JUDGE TAPPAN TO ADDRESS WOMEN

Alameda Jurist Will Explain the Conditions That Influence Sentences.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 30.—Police Judge R. B. Tappan is to address a meeting of the Alameda Center of the California Civic League in Adelphian Hall next Monday night. Tappan will tell of his experiences as a police judge and will show the demoralizing effects of uncensored picture plays and vaudeville performances.

Many other subjects of interest in connection with police court jurisprudence, and the causes that go to moderating some of the sentences handed down by the Alameda jurist will be treated.

Some of Tappan's decisions have been questioned, he says, but none has been made without taking into consideration the probable results of a prison sentence upon first offenders.

RAIN SHOWS PARTIALITY IN CITY OF ALAMEDA

ALAMEDA, Oct. 30. — One of the first freaks of the early winter climate was evidenced in this city yesterday and today. Rain fell heavily east of Broadway yesterday morning. The shower commenced at 8:30 o'clock and lasted until after 9, but west of Broadway there was not a drop to lay the dust.

This morning between Broadway and Chestnut street, a heavy shower fell. The rain came down in sufficient quantities to form small puddles in the streets and depressions in the sidewalks. Chestnut street was the western boundary of the storm belt and Broadway formed the eastern limit, without even so much as a drop of water outside of the district, a distance of about a mile.

The rain fell so heavily within the zone mentioned and especially on Park street as to cause the belief to those in the district that the wet season had begun in earnest. There are as many explanations for the phenomena as there are "oldest citizens."

OXFORD TO SEND NOTED HISTORIAN

Professor John L. Myers Will Give Courses at Berkeley Next Semester.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Oct. 30.—The important announcement is made today from the president's office that Professor John L. Myers of the department of ancient history at Oxford University will be a member of the university faculty next semester. President Wheeler last spring invited him to come as Sather professor classical literature, but it is only now that he has been able to secure the necessary leave of absence.

Professor Myers is one of the world's best known historians. His histories of Greece, Rome and the ancient world, as well as mediaeval and modern histories, are known to most of the high school children of the country. He ranks also among the leading classical archaeologists and has engaged in much interesting excavation work in Crete and Cyprus. He was graduated from Oxford in 1892.

At present engaged in research work for the government of Cyprus, Professor Myers will come to California directly from that country. An illustrated lecture course on Cretan and Minoan civilization at this university will be the first fruits of his most recent studies. An advanced course for Greek students and two seminar courses, open to all students, will also be given by the noted Oxonion.

It is the intention of President Wheeler and the Academic Senate that the visit here of Professor Myers will be followed later by the visits of other eminent men. The practice of exchange professorships, maintained with great value by Eastern universities, is the ultimate plan here.

TO HOLD MEETING.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 30.—The Chamber of Commerce will meet this evening in regular bi-monthly session and an address will be given by C. E. Fisher of the Sunset Magazine on "Community Advertising." The members of the organization are urged to be in attendance as Fisher will give many valuable hints for future publicity work by the chamber.

TAKE 'MUSICAL ATHLETICS;' LIVE TO BE 100, IS AIM

BERKELEY, Oct. 30.—Women of the fashionable Twentieth Century Club are to seek muscular strength, gracefulness and long life in "musical athletics," and have engaged Mme. Forman Emrick, twenty years a physical culture teacher in Portland, Ore., to conduct their class. [illegible] joined.

One can live to be a hundred, Mme. Emrick believes, by exercising every muscle. The system which the Twentieth Century women will learn is the so-called Spanish musical athletics. Regarding the work, Mme. Emrick says:

"All our exercises will be given to the strains of subtle airs. I have found that if a class is under the influence of good music it may be led correctly through any exercise. The music appeals to the soul, the muscles and the nerves relax and wonderful results are accomplished."

PE-RU-NA DID WONDERS FOR ME.

MRS. ROSA BOYER

Mrs. Rosa Boyer, 1421 Sherman one has reason to praise Peruna it is surely myself

"Last spring I became so run down from the serious effects of a lingering cold, that several complications united in pulling me down I could neither eat nor sleep well, and lost flesh and spirit.

"I finally tried Peruna and it did wonders for me. In two weeks I was like another person, and in a month I felt better than I ever had before.

I think Peruna for restoring health and strength. I send you two pictures, so you can see what Peruna has done for me.'

Some people find it more convenient to take tablets than fluid medicines. This is especially true of busy men who have some catarrhal affection, or some trouble with the stomach that does not actually prevent them from working as usual We have had the Peruna made into tablets for those who prefer to use them that way.

Every one ought to get a copy of the latest edition of the "Ills of Life." It contains many astonishing testimonials and a great many suggestions for people who wish to get well and who wish to keep well.

LOS ANGELES TO HAVE AN EXHIBIT

Southern California County Decides for Panama-Pacific Showing.

LOS ANGELES Oct 30—Southern California will exhibit at the Panama-Pacific Exposition The Board of Supervisors will not take official action on the matter until next Monday, but the directors of the Chamber of Commerce and the members of the governing committee of the Los Angeles Realty Board have adopted resolutions asking the Supervisors of Los Angeles county to purchase floor space in the counties' exhibit building and to install an exhibit there.

There is absolutely no doubt—as different members of the Board of Supervisors have themselves stated—that the Supervisors will respond their ultimatum, in which it was declared that not one cent would be appropriated for the fair, and that they will follow what has been made known to them as to the wishes of the representative citizens of Los Angeles

PADEREWSKI WINS IN CONCERT AGENT SUIT

LONDON, Oct 30—Paderewski's suit against a London concert agent, who bracketed his name on bills with another pianist, thus misleading the public, was settled yesterday. The noted pianist cabled from America that he would be content with an injunction without costs. The defendant agreed to this and judgment was entered accordingly.

2 IMPLICATED IN RITUAL MURDER

Experts Agree There Were No Fewer Murderers of Boy.

Physicians Disagree as to the Blood-Getting and Torture.

KIEV, Russia, Oct. 30.—The expert much of the day at the "ritual murder" trial of Mendel Beiliss, charged with having killed the boy Yushinsky The experts agreed that at least two persons were implicated in the actual killing of the boy, but were divided as to whether the prime object of the murder was the obtaining of as much blood as possible, and the infliction of torture.

The imperial court surgeon, Dr. Pavloff combatted the theory of blood getting, but admitted that experts had little on which to base their theories, because of the incompetent manner in which the two post-mortem examination should be made, and the incomplete reports submitted relative to these.

Dr. Tutanoff of Kiev University testified that at least two-thirds of the boy's blood had been drawn off There were several lively tilts between Dr Pavloff and M. Zemi-lovsky, counsel for the Black Hundred. The latter intimated that on one occasion the court surgeon was superannuated, but was crushed by the reply that the court surgeon now performs 400 operations annually

SLAYERS NOT LESS THAN TWO.

Answering the 23 question given yesterday by the president of the court, the experts were divided on all points except as to the number of assassins engaged in the crime, which they fixed at not less than two, and the theory that the murderers had no knowledge of anatomy.

Professor Kosorotoff, who supported the blood-getting and torture theory, was of the opinion that all the wounds except the staby through the heart were inflicted before death supervened He had no reason to believe, he said that Yushinsky had lost consciousness in the 15 minutes which probably elapsed between the infliction of the first wound and the completion of the crime He must have suffered agonies and lost more than half of his blood, Kosorotoff declared He added that the wounds did not appear to have ben made with the four blunt awls found at the brickworks, where Beiliss was employed

CLAY ON CLOTHES.

The murder, Professor Kosorotoff testified, was not committed in a house or the cave where the body was found, but at a place where there was clay, with which the clothes were covered. There was a sensation in court when it was announced that the clay near Vera Tcherbiak's house had not been compared with that on the clothes.

Professor Kosorotoff concluded with the statement that the hairs found on the dead boy's clothes came from a long curly beard, and could not belong to Beiliss, whose beard was short, stiff and straight.

In his tesumony, Dr Pavloff added that the character of the wounds was altogether opposed to the blood-getting and torture theory.

WILL FACE QUESTION.

NAKED BABY WINS; IS PERFECT, SAY EXPERTS

PORTLAND (Or.), Oct. 30.—Without a stitch of clothes but cooing and romping about on the floor and in his mother's arms, Rex Palmer, aged six months, son of Mrs Alice Palmer, was the center of much attraction at the courthouse yesterday afternoon.

The baby's presence in court was due to his nakedness His mother is raising him clotheless. Since his birth, she says, he never has worn a garment. Neighbors who saw him lying on a pallet in the yard in the cool October breezes complained, and mother and child were brought into the Juvenile Court.

"My baby weighs twenty pounds and is only six months old," declared Mrs. Palmer. "Does that look like he is suffering for want of clothes?"

Experts who examined the boy pronounced him perfect physically. He is tanned all over his body a dark brown, but is splendidly developed.

The boy does not wear clothes day or [illegible] plays on a pallet in the yard, when the weather is rainy he is brought in the house [illegible] with clothes and covers. When he is to be carried from home his mother throws a blanket about him, but he objects to this manner of dress and is happiest, Mrs Palmer says, when he is romping on his pallet in the yard.

Mrs. Primer was discharged from custody and took her naked boy away in triumph.

Society

MRS. FRANK MERCER DAVIES, WHO IS EXPECTED TO ARRIVE FROM CANADA WITHIN A FEW DAYS.—Scharz Photo.

With pleasant memories of the famous Brazilian ball fast fading into the past, society is now anxiously awaiting the coming Hallowe'en ball, Friday evening, at the Oakland, which promises to be one of the most unique in ideas and setting. The affair is to be given under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Crane and bids fair to equal if not surpass the ball of a month ago. The great ballroom will have an original setting of its own, and will present a perfect fairyland, a land of gnomes and forest things, hobgoblins, witches and the like. The soft lights of the Jack o'lanterns will gleam through the branches, while an immense pumpkin, 30 feet in diameter, will be suspended from the chandelier. Weird looking cats will peer through their cages, while black cats, large and small, will stalk about the room. All this will furnish the setting for the merry throng of dancers.

But pleasures have been planned for those who seek other amusement than that of the art of dancing. In an adjoining room, large tubs of water will supoprt rosy apples bobbing up and down. Other features will be present unknown to the invited guests. Hollowe'en decorations will appear in the grill as well, the table appointments being arranged with corn husks, lighted pumpkins and dainty favors suitable to the occasion. Many dinner parties are being formed, or have been, preceding the ball and once again society will make merry to the strains of the tango music. The Cranes will give an exhibition of the tango once again, but this time Mrs. Sylvanus Farnham will be the partner of Walter Leimert.

DANCING PARTY.

This evening a merry dancing party will be that given at the beautiful residence of Mrs. Harris Cebert Capwell in Linda Vista, at which Miss Dorothy Capwell will preside as hostess. The affair is in compliment to Miss Helen Nicol, whose engagement was an announcement of the week, to Ensign Joseph Leroy Nielson, U. S. N. The guests will include mutual friends of the bride-elect and her fiance. The Pittsburg will sail for Mexico soon for a two-months' sojourn after which the wedding of Miss Nicol and Ensign Nielson will be an event of the winter months.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY.

One of the delightful dancing parties of the week was that given by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Klink at their home in Berkeley last evening at which about thirty guests were present. The pretty home was decorated in all the appointments that bear the insigna of Hallowe'en, a color scheme of black and gold prevailing. Baskets of golden blossoms were placed here and there while black cats and witches were in evidence in the various nooks and corners of the reception rooms. Neath the soft light of the jack o'lanterns the guests whiled away the hours in dancing. Later dainty refreshments were served the guests, after the evening. Among those present were many of the younger matrons and maids of the debutante set of east bay society.

Among the guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bertillion, Mr. and Mrs. Al Mulvaney, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Jacobs, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Long, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Schemmer, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gasserino, Mr. and Mrs. Cebert Holmes, Mrs. Margaret Lane Klink, Miss Hazel Hackett, Miss Helen Burnham, Miss Florence Burnham, Miss Constance Mulvaney, Miss Gertrude Carroll, Miss Grace Baker, Miss Pauline Schemmer, Miss Elsie Claudius, Miss Gladys Ellya, Messrs. L. Keliher, J. Falleby, Dr. Fimard, Lieutenant Allen F. Williams, U. S. N.; Ensign R. Prader, U. S. N.; M. Mendelsohn, Lee Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Klink and Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Klink Sr.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON

Mrs. George Tyson entertained this afternoon at a smart bridge luncheon. The guests included members of the smart set from both sides of the bay. In receiving, the hostess was assisted by her daughter, Miss Marie Louise Tyson and others. The Tyson home in Alameda was adorned in autumn blooms and greenery.

HOME FROM THE EAST.

Mrs. George Sellwig and son have returned to their home in Oakland from an extended eastern trip in the east and New York, where they were the guests of the former's mother, Mrs. Magagnos, and other relatives.

HONOR BRIDE-ELECT.

Miss Marguerite Dewing was the honored guest this afternoon at a pretty affair at which Miss Elsie Merriweather presided as hostess. The announcement of the engagement of Miss Dewing and Claude Keefer was made a short time ago at an elaborate affair. Tuesday Mrs. Hugh Pierce was hostess for the bride-elect, giving an elaborate bridge tea in her honor. Miss Dewing will be honored at many delightful affairs before her marriage later in the season.

EXPECTED FROM EAST.

Miss Beryl Burch, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Burch of Berkeley is expected to return to her home from the east next month. She is a sister of Miss Louise Burch, and is greatly missed among her coterie of girl friends in the bay region, who are looking forward with great pleasure to her return home.

MISS HART HONORED.

In compliment to Miss Elinor Hart whose engagement to George D. Smith Jr., was announced during the summer season, Mrs. Milton Johnson will preside at a pretty affair Friday afternoon at her home in Claremont. Saturday following Miss Alice Heistand will be hostess. Miss Hiestand will be a member of the bridal party at the Hart-Smith nuptials next month. Next Wednesday Mrs. Roy Shurtleff is to entertain for the future bride, Miss Genevieve Cross of Stockton, is the house guest of Miss Hart and will be the maid of honor at the wedding.

TO GIVE READING.

Miss Rose von Schmidt will give a reading Monday evening in St. John's church in College avenue and Derby street and will have as her subject, Ibsen's Peer Gynt, with Miss Marie Walton at the piano, who will play Grieg's Peer Gynt suite. Mrs. O. B. Caldwell will be soloist for the evening. Among those who are interested in the affair are Mrs. Gertrude Hemme, Mrs. Herbert Ponting, Mrs. Anna Little Barry, Mrs. Magdaline Denable, Miss Wickson, Miss Etta Fraser, Mrs. Stephen Keefer, Mrs. George Eldridge, Mrs. Hubert Bryant, Miss Lillian Leal, Miss Louise Strong, Mrs. J. W. Richards, Mrs. Bolton, Mrs. Merrill Miller, Mrs. Ernest Hall and Mrs. H. F. Dodge.

RETURN FROM TRIP.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mercer Davies who have been sojourning throughout the east and Canada for the past few months are now on their way to California and will arrive here shortly after the first of November. For a while they will make their home with Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Whitehead. Mrs. Davies was before her marriage Miss Caro Mills and her wedding was a social event.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

Many of the ultra smart set of east bay circles crossed the bay yesterday afternoon to attend the large tea given by Mrs. William J. Landers and her daughter, Miss Eleanor Landers. Five hundred guests were bidden to call during the afternoon at the Sorosis Club where the event took place. The feature of the occasion was the formal announcement of the engagement of Miss Eleanor to Mr. John Speyer, the son of Mrs. Charlotte Speyer and grandson of Mrs. Henrietta Zelle. Both the families have lived here for many years. The handsome club rooms presented a brilliant setting with the happy, beautifully gowned women promenading through the reception rooms of the club. An autumn setting was used in the decoration of the rooms, great sheaths of wheat and urns of varied colored chrysanthemums being placed here and there. The entrance to the club was transformed into a pergola or grape arbor with large bunches of the luscious fruit hanging amongst the vines which formed the setting. The drawing room in its rich draperies of blue and quaint English furniture was a fitful setting for the tea. Assisting the hostess to welcome her friends during the course of the afternoon were:

Mrs. Charlotte Speyer, Mrs. J. G. Johnston, Mrs. William H. Landers, Mrs. John Landers, Mrs. Frederick Tallant, Mrs. James C. Jordan, Mrs. Joseph Fife, Mrs. Charles E. Palmer, Mrs. George Wheaton, Mrs. H. W. Meek, Mrs. E. B. Stone, Mrs. Jefferson Muffitt, Miss Lulette Mauvais, Miss Bessie Palmer, Miss Alice Putnam, Miss Ethel Speyer, Miss Helena Speyer.

DINNER HOSTESS.

Mrs. Wallace Alexander will be one of the hospitable dinner hostesses Hallowe'en at the Hotel Oakland, covers being laid for eight guests. Later the party will attend the ball which will take place Friday evening at the hotel.

One of the brilliant receptions of the season was the reception given this afternoon by Mrs. E. T. Henshaw at her home in Moss avenue. Several hundred guests called between the appointed hours, many from the other side of the bay. The reception gave the opportunity to many to welcome Mrs. Henshaw home after her absence of more than a year, in which time she toured the eastern states and spent much of her time in Europe, traveling with Mrs. George W. Cope. A number of intimate friends of the hostess will assist her in her duties for the afternoon.

THE MODERN WOMAN

That women are climbing there is no doubt. While abroad I learned much about the advancement of money. I pass by the militant suffraget; she has her reasons, and good ones, why she is militant. But we are so different over here by reason of our men. We are respected and considered; we need not trouble ourselves to be militant.

All golfers know that little girls are being employed at the St. Ann's Gold Club as caddies. This is a new departure and one which the girls appreciate. The occupation is more likely to be popular with girls than with boys, the former being less reckless. Elderly players may possibly object, though on the same grounds as a party of men on an ocean steamer, who complained that two women came to play bridge in the smoking room with their husbands. It was cold, too cold to play on deck. That the men should give up smoking was not to be thought of, as there was no other place where they could smoke and play cards, consequently their wives came to make up the four. They were finally excluded on the second evening, as the "gentlemen" at the next table had complained that, with women present, they could not use such language as they wanted to.

It is amusing to watch the state of mind of a golfer at a crisis, with all his expletives bottled within him, because of a round-eyed girl of 10 standing near.

Women in Germany are attending the universities in great numbers. They now form 5 per cent of the whole body of students, and of these Berlin has more than a fourth. Their chief study is philology and history. Then comes medicine, with half the number of students, and the list closes with pharmacy, which is only taken up by eight of over 3000 women students.

It must be aggravating for those who wish to study a subject taught by an anti-feminist, as each professor has the right to exclude women from his lectures if he so chooses. Yet in Germany they have policewomen, women street cleaners, women farmers. America is pleased to have similar officials, barring street cleaners.

Canada has now followed the lead by appointing policewomen to deal with women prisoners. We have had the police matrons for years, but the policewoman is an absolute official with full power. She should be placed in department stores and cabarets. A woman can say a word to a girl who is making a mistake when a man could not. And a word from the wise sometimes has a wonderful effect upon inexperienced girls. If women police were about men would not dare take the advantage they do take in large cities. Let us approve and implore protection for ignorant young women in large cities. Let not so much time and talk be wasted upon the cant of clothes and more be spent upon the protection of the innocent.

Remember: The modern woman is wide awake; she is growing less fearful and more fearless every day.

WHY Husbands Leave Home

By DORIS BLAKE.

When you notice your husband acquiring the habit of saying hastily, "Well, dearie, I suppose you have been doing much the same as usual today—what? I'm just going round to the club for a few minutes," it is high time for you to indulge in a bit of self-analysis.

Instead of blaming him and accusing him of neglect, just go off in a corner and have a perfectly frank heart to heart talk with yourself.

Ask yourself, "Am I one of the women who tell their husbands too much? Do I bore him to tears with my passionate devotion to detail? Do I tell him every single thought that crossed my mind since he left me in the morning? In my desire to be open and 'aboveboard' with him, am I driving him to 'desertion' with my recital of the most commonplace and ordinary events of the day?"

The wife who most successfully holds her husband's interest is she who learns the value of not being too obvious to him—of being somewhat of a mystery.

Of course she should not be a "woman of mystery" with deep, dark secrets to hide. But it is true of human nature that interest subsides when there is nothing more to learn.

Boredom is the worst calamity that can wedge its way into a household. So when husband picks up the paper when you begin to tell of the loss of the shoe button just as you were about to go out, or the dispute with the grocery boy over some trifling thing, you better ask yourself if you, too, would not resent being made a "dumping ground" for the uneventful commonplaces of his day.

Save up all the amusing things which have happened during the day and tell them to him. Tell him the things upon which you really need his advice. You will find him sympathetic enough when his sympathy is needed.

But if you would avoid one of the big mistakes of early married life don't bombard him with a deluge of stupid detail. Draw a merciful veil over the commonplaces of the day.

HE'S DECEITFUL.

"Dear Miss Blake: Please give me your advice at once. I have been keeping company with a young man for the last year, and I have grown very fond of him. I trusted him fully, and he has repeatedly told me he loved me, but we are too young to think of getting married, I tell him. I believed him to be honest, true and sincere, but my faith has been shaken, as I have found out he has lied to me repeatedly of late, and over a small matter that, had he told me the truth, would not have made any difference. I am broken-hearted over this, as I am afraid I can't believe him in anything any more. I have also found out that he takes other girls home, though he pretends to be true to me and is very angry if another fellow notices me. I can go with a very nice young man, but I have learned to love the first [illegible] know I care for him, as I have never told him I did. Yet he has often told me he loves me. KATHERINE O."

I sympathize with you in your discovery of the petty deceit of the young man. Can't you talk things over with him and explain just the way that you feel? Then if he is not contrite and if he does not promise to be as honest with you as you are with him, I should give him up if I were you. Of course, since you are not engaged, you can't expect him never to take another girl to an entertainment.

"TRY YOUR LUCK."

"Dear Miss Blake: Do you ever answer boys' questions? I am 23 and I love a little brown-haired girl of 17, but she has been going with another fellow, a friend of mine, for a year. He pretends to love her, but do you think a fellow can love a girl when he attends dances without her, takes other girls home, and stops out as late with them as he ever does at her house, though he calls on her twice a week? I love her better than my life, and would never think of treating her that way. No other girl could fill her place with me. I don't believe they are engaged. Would you advise me to try my luck? I am not acquainted with her parents but have met her at dances, and she is a perfect lady. BILLY."

If the young lady is not engaged, there is no reason why you shouldn't "try your luck," as you say. You are quite right in thinking that when a man loves a woman he doesn't treat her in the way this young man treats the girl whom you are fond of.

LISTENS ONLY.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am a bashful young girl of 18, and lately a handsome young man of 23 has been calling on me. Now, he is very talkative, while I can hardly keep up the conversation, as I don't know what to talk about. Please tell me how to remedy this fault, as I'm sure I must appear like a mute to him. "ALICE."

The most accomplished and the most popular conversationalist in the world, Alice, is the listener. Don't try to talk. Just listen interestedly, and you will be more popular than the voluble little chatterbox can ever hope to be.

SILLY GIRLS.

"Dear Miss Blake: We are two young men who have been going with two girls [illegible] have always been congenial and pleasant, and we have had many good times together. But last Friday evening, when we went to choir practice, they acted coldly toward us, and after the practice we took them to the car, and they did not try to keep up the conversation at all. When we asked to take them home they refused, saying they were not afraid to go home alone. Coming home from church Sunday they purposely walked two blocks out of the way to avoid us, and when they passed us on the car they craned their necks to look at us. This afternoon one of the girls, I think, called us know why we didn't speak to them Sunday, and then rung off. We have not been going with any other girls, and have not said anything insulting to them, and we are very much perplexed at their actions. TWO BLUES."

I shouldn't worry about the actions of such silly girls if I were you. Pay no attention to them, and they will soon be sorry for their caprice.

ARTISTIC TEMPERAMENT.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am a married woman and my husband travels. I am very lonesome and have come to the point of desperation. A girl friend of mine has been going out with a young man, and because he took me out for an evening in his car she refuses to have anything more to do with me. The young man in the case is very kind and sympathetic, and understands my artistic temperament. If he was not out with me he would be out with some one else, maybe. Why should she care if my husband doesn't? Do you thing it is wrong for me to go out with her beau? STELLA."

Yes, I do think that it is wrong for you to accept the attentions of men, no matter how innocent these attentions may be. It would be all right if your friend had asked to have you included in the party when she and the young man were riding, but it is very indiscreet for you to go with him alone. If you will find something worth while to interest you, you will not be lonesome. Artistic temperaments are easily cured by sane living.

WANTS HER PICTURE.

"Dear Miss Blake: I have been going with a girl for some time and I am much in love with her. I should like very much to have her picture, but am at a loss to know whether it is proper for me to ask her for one. JIM."

I see no reason why you shouldn't ask your friend for a photograph if you have been friends for some time. A request of that sort is only a compliment when it comes from an old friend.

HE LIVES OPPOSITE HER.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am 19 and seem quite popular with the girls. I am very much in love with a sweet young girl one year my junior. I have known her for five years and live opposite her on the same street. She does not care particularly for boy friends, but I have taken her occasionally to places of amusement. I think she cares a little for me, but still she does not show it. For instance, at the rink when I am about to ask her for a skate she begins to talk to some friends near her and on one occasion when I was about to ask to accompany her home she walked away when she saw I was about to ask her. Although I know many girls, I love this girl very dearly and care for her only, and sometimes do not go places because I do not like to go with any other girl. Also I know for a certainty that she has no beau and I would like your advice as to how I could win her love. F. E."

Perhaps she is bashful, F. E. It would be very much nicer if you would arrange with her beforehand about going to the skating rink and about escorting her home. Be just a good friend to her; don't try to force her affection. She will grow to respect you and depend upon you and she may grow to love you.

Mrs. Mary Hamilton Confesses to Mailing Candy With Poison.

STOCKTON, Oct. 30.—Mrs. Mary Hamilton, wife of [illegible] Hamilton, farmer and prominent religious worker, confessed yesterday afternoon that she recently attempted to murder her husband with poisoned candy through love of William Coulter, according to information given out by the district attorney.

Mrs. Hamilton, it is said, has signified her intention of pleading guilty. Up to when she was indicted by the grand jury, the woman claimed to have mailed the poisoned candy to herself with suicidal intentions.

Hamilton, who has claimed from the start that his wife was innocent of the charge, was staggered by her sudden confession. He declared, however, that he would stand by her.

DEATH PLAYS TRICK UPON WOMAN

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Mrs. Elizabeth M. Harrod, an actress, was plaintiff yesterday in the supreme court in an undefended action for divorce against James G. Harrod, superintendent of a Standard Oil plant in California. Decision was reserved.

Mrs. Harrod stated she had been married to James G. Harrod in Waynesville, Ohio, in September, 1893. She alleged that her husband, on or about August 26th, had been guilty of infidelity at Ocean Park, Los Angeles, and named Amanda Poley, also known as Maud Haine, as the affinity.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 30.—Death played a wierd hoax on Mrs. James C. Harrod, who yesterday in New York began suit to divorce the former superintendent of pipe lines of the Standard Oil company. The suit is against a dead man.

While the body of her late husband lay six feet under ground in a Redondo Beach cemetery, Mrs. Harrod, on the witness stand 3000 miles from the grave, unconsciously violated the proverb "of the dead say nothing but good."

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—The suit of Fannie M. Robinson against Minnie H. Robinson, widow of Crittenden Robinson, and all the legatees named in his will, to have set aside a divorce which Robinson obtained from the plaintiff in 1893 and to prevent the distribution of his $75,000 estate, went to trial before Judge Seawell yesterday.

Fannie M. Robinson, the first wife of the famous rifle shot, has pending another suit against the estate for $16,000 accrued alimony.

Mrs. Robinson No. 2 asserts Robinson had no money at the time he married her, that all his fortune was acquired subsequently and that therefore Mrs. Robinson No. 1 has no claim against the estate.

PEACE SECRETARY WILL TAKE BRIDE

SAN JOSE, Oct. 30.—Robert C. Root, Pacific Coast secretary of the American Peace Society, was granted a marriage license here yesterday to marry Georgiana Crawford of Palo Alto. Root is 55 years of age and from Los Angeles. The bride-to-be gave her age as 32.

YOUNG WIFE IS SLAIN IN BEDROOM

SAN JOSE, Oct. 30.—Mrs. Josephine Banaccusso, 19 years old, of Mountain View, was found murdered in her bedroom yesterday when her husband, John Banaccusso, returned home from work. There was a bullet wound in her right ear. No signs of a struggle were found in the room.

BECOMES BRIDE OF THEATRICAL MAN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—B. F. Keith, the 69-year-old theatrical magnate, and Miss Ethel Bird Chase, 26 years old, daughter of another theatrical millionaire, were married yesterday, while Keith's son, Paul, was hurrying to Washington. At a late hour Paul Keith was still hunting for his father and bride.

Miss Chase and Keith attended the wedding of the former's brother, Harold Chase, and Miss Ruth Cohen, at 4 o'clock.

The Navoica, the new $100,000 houseboat recently purchased and fitted up by Keith, was brought to Washington this week and it is expected the honeymoon will be passed on the floating palace.

COL. REES REPORTS ON WESTERN WATERFRONT

Makes Suggestions in Written Report to Commercial Club Harbor Committee

At a meeting of the waterfront com- [illegible] lowing report on the western waterfront was made by Colonel Thomas H. Rees, of the United States Engineering Department:

President Oakland Commercial Club, Hotel Oakland, Oakland, California.

Sir: Pursuant to the action of your committee on harbor matters at its meeting on the 22d inst., I had a consultation with Mr. Risley, Colonel Heuer and Mr. Caine upon the subject of a harbor plan for the west front of Oakland. I cannot say that we were able to arrive at a satisfactory agreement.

MIGHT BE WORKED OUT.

A modified plan providing for Key Route ferry slips at the end of the authorized solid fill and eliminating the trestle extension beyond the solid fill (as suggested by you at the meeting above mentioned) was considered and I stated that it might be possible to work out a solution of the problem along those lines but I could not give any assurance that federal assistance could be recommended for such a plan.

I have appeared at various meetings held by the civic organizations and city authorities of the east bay cities and have verbally explained the plan submitted by me and have answered questions concerning that plan and other plans, but I have never expressed my views in writing. I have also refrained, except when answering specific questions, from any criticism of the city's key Route Basin plan. It may help to clear up the situation if I explain my position in this matter more fully and state the conditions affecting the problem in such form that they may receive the deliberate consideration of your committee and of others who may be interested.

THE KEY ROUTE BASIN.

I will take up first the Key Route Basin plan.

There is not a line of this plan, except possibly the bulkhead line that has been drawn with reference to the proper planning of a harbor. So far as the harbor is concerned the lines are entirely fortuitous and accidental and are determined by the Oakland mole and the Key Route pier which were built not for the purpose of inclosing a harbor, but only to carry tracks out to water that would float a ferry boat. The resulting shape of the inclosed basin is extremely awkward and inconvenient for harbor purposes. It narrows down to an acute angle at the inner end where the proposed piers crowd each other and leave insufficient maneuvering space. Piers and slips should, when possible, be at right angles to the general line of frontage. All of the Key Route Basin piers are oblique to their respective frontages. The resulting small triangular remnants of space are wasted. Vessels backing out of their slips must turn completely around through 180 degrees in order to leave the basin.

MANEUVERING SPACE.

Vessels backing out simultaneously from the three sides of the basin and turning toward the exit would interfere with one another. The 2200 feet width of basin therefore affords less maneuvering space than would a width of 1200 to 1500 feet with piers on one side only. The courses of vessels approaching and leaving the basin will cross on a long slant the course of the Key Route ferries. In the basin there will be no sweep of the tidal currents to prevent deposits of silt. Every slight identation of the shores of San Francisco bay is filled with silt. It is only where the tides have an uninterrupted sweep that deep water is maintained. The Key Route basin will become [illegible] sweep of tides and it will silt up rapidly.

On the north side of the basin there are shown eight piers that are based upon the 200 foot Key Route right of way where right tracks are to be provided.

WAREHOUSE SPACE.

All of the Key Route passenger traffic and all of the freight traffic from these eight piers with the attendant switching and spotting of cars and making up of trains must be confined to this 200-foot right of way with eight tracks. These eight piers will provide only for the transfer of through freight between railroad and vessel. No space is available behind them for warehouses, factories or industrial plants and if these be established on shore a railroad haul is necessary between plant and pier. The material to be dredged from the basin to create a harbor is not sufficient in amount to fill up all of the low land and tide flats behind the bulkhead line. There may be enough to fill up the lands belonging to the city, and then the Key Route lands behind the city lands will be left as stagnant pools and mud flats with no material available for filling.

CANNOT EXTEND IT.

The Key Route basin plan is incapable of further extension and if carried out will forever confine Oakland's harbor development to the limits of the basin on a frontage which stops at Fourteenth street and includes less than one-half of the available frontage between Oakland mole and the city line. The Key Route franchise is 1000 feet in width and there are reserved a fairway 1000 feet in width south of that franchise and a fairway 1000 feet in width north of that franchise, making a total width of 3000 feet measured at right angles to the Key Route pier within which no piers except those of the Key Route can be built. The city bulkhead prolonged to the northeast approximately parallel to the shore line cuts this 3000 foot strip obliquely and measured on this line a frontage of about 5100 feet or nearly one mile is intercepted by the Key Route franchise and the fairways on either side thereof. Within this mile of available frontage there is space sufficient for thirteen piers 150 feet wide with slips 250 feet wide between them and these piers can be as long as may be deemed necessary or desirable.

SOME MEASUREMENTS.

Assuming a length of 800 feet there would be provided within this one mile of frontage, 20,800 feet of berthing space as compared with 12,800 feet for the eight piers along the Key Route right of way. The city's proposed piers along the [illegible] into the above comparison but are in addition to those mentioned and are not affected in any way. They should, however be drawn perpendicular to the bulkhead and not at an inconvenient acute angle thereto as shown on the city plans.

San Francisco bay has plenty of deep water but most of it lies far from the adjacent shores. San Francisco owes its existence and prosperity to the fact that it had deep water close to fairly level and habitable shores although it is greatly handicapped by its location on a peninsula and by the necessity of ferriage across the bay or a long detour around [illegible] the eastern side.

SAN FRANCISCO AND DEEP WATER.

If deep water had existed close to the level and habitable shores on the east side of the bay, there the great city would have been and there it may be if deep water is provided. Deep water alone provides only anchorage and fairway for vessels. To be valuable for harbor purposes it must lie close to level and usable lands. The Marin peninsula has plenty of deep water close to shore but these [illegible] shores rise precipitously to great height and are therefore unavailable for com- [illegible] sive shore frontage on deep water in connection with ample railroad facilities and a great productive back country is what makes a great port and a great city.

SHOULD USE ALL FRONTAGE.

Oakland has the last two of these essentials but it lacks the first. Why should Oakland limit its harbor development for all time to less than one-half of its available frontage when it can readily utilize the whole? A long, narrow mole with piers and slips along one side of it does not take the place of an equal length of shore frontage. It develops no shore property. Its piers are remote from city streets and business centers and are inaccessible to teams and trucks. A single pier is congested by the loading and unloading of a large vessel. What will happen when the business of eight piers must be carried on over a 200-foot right of way in additional to an enormous passenger traffic?

SUGGESTION TO CITY.

The city of Oakland can readily afford to grant to the Key Route system, in lieu of its present franchise, a shore frontage of 3200 feet for eight piers and slips (out of the 5100 feet now taken up by franchise and fairways) and also a new location for its ferry slips which considering the cost, the maintenance and the danger of the long trestle approaches, would be better than the present location, to say nothing of the interference of the present location with proper harbor development. A shore frontage, in connection with the industrial development of adjacent lands and with direct connection with city streets and business centers, is many times more valuable than equal space along a narrow mole.

To present temporary difficulties and entanglements in regard to franchises and contracts should not be allowed to determine the permanent policy of the city in regard to its harbor developments. The city's harbor work can proceed under existing plans without interference with either of the proposed plans and this portion of the harbor will provide for prospective commerce for some years to come.

PRESENT DIFFICULTIES.

The present difficulties have arisen because there has been no general plan of harbor development for Oakland's bay frontage. The Key Route basin plan is not a harbor plan in any true sense but is merely an attempt to make the best of existing faulty conditions without any effort to remedy those conditions. It will be better to devote 5 years or even 10 years, if necessary, to an adjustment of these difficulties than to proceed now with a faulty plan that will forever embarrass and encumber further development.

In the plan submitted by me for consideration by Oakland and other east bay cities, provision is made for the development of Oakland's entire shore frontage.

DIMENSIONS ARE FIXED.

The dimensions and location of the channel are to be so fixed that the dredged material will fill up and reclaim all of the land between the bulkhead and the shore as well as build up an outer dyke that will protect the harbor and confine and direct the tidal currents and thus tend to prevent the deposit of silt. Every linear foot of this deep harbor channel will lie close alongside of the reclaimed shores and will make every foot of the latter available not only for piers and slips but also for the industrial and commercial development of the reclaimed lands with railroads on one side and deep water on the other.

[illegible] of Goat Island cannot be closed under existing conditions. But if a new channel be opened up by the creation of a continuous harbor from Point Richmond to Oakland mole, the outer dyke of such harbor might be extended to Goat Island and this would greatly increase the flow of the tides through the harbor channel which would take the plane of the closed channel.

ANOTHER SUGGESTION.

While not strictly within my province, a suggestion of Dr. Werner Hegemann appears to be pertinent and valuable. The outer dyke can be so shaped and treated as to make one of the most beautiful park systems in the world, with driveways, walks, trees, shrubbery, flowers, boating lagoons, bathing beaches, yacht harbors, pavilions, refactories, etc., extending from Goat Island to Brook's Island and reached by ferries or tunnel.

There has been planned for the city of Chicago by Burnham & Company a system of such islands and lagoons extending for 20 miles along the water front, for park purposes only without any reference to the creation of a harbor. Here, for the east bay cities, the basis for such a park system is provided for as an incident to harbor development. A tunnel communication under the harbor channel might also be extended on the dyke to ferry terminals north of Goat Island.

ISLAND TOO HIGH.

The island itself is too high and rugged to be available for such purposes but the shoals north of the island could readily be reclaimed and utilized in this manner. These, however, are only suggestions which may find future fulfillment in connection with a continuous harbor channel along the east shore.

I am required to consider not the present requirements of Oakland's water borne commerce but the probable future requirements, not only to Oakland, but also of other east bay cities. The entire frontage from Richmont to Oakland estuary is capable of advantageous development for harbor purposes with the attendant reclamation of valuable lands.

If the basin plan is carried out, the further development of the northern half of Oakland's frontage and of all of Emeryville's and Berkeley's will be possible only at greatly increased expense which appears to be economically prohibitive. An entirely new and additional approach channel would have to be dredged and protected by dykes and such channel would have three right-angled bends. The proposition to place the Key Route ferry slips at the end of the authorized solid fill and remove the trestle beyond that point is only a slight amelioration of the difficulties and increased cost of the extended plan. The Key Route basin with all its faults remains unchanged and the additional approach channel with three right-angled bends would still be necessary, although somewhat shortened.

MATERIAL NOT AVAILABLE.

In either case the material dredged from the approach channel could not be used for reclaiming shore lands on account of the great distance. I said at your last meeting that I thought it might be possible to work out a satisfactory plan along these lines, but I find on fur- [illegible] basin plan, hampered with franchises and reserved fairways, is in itself so faulty and sacrifices so many possible advantages, to say nothing of blocking further development, that I cannot give it any favorable recommendation so far as participation by the United States is concerned.

Very respectfully,
(Signed) THOS. H. REES,
Lieutenant-Colonel Corps of Engineers, United States Army.

BUSCH HEIRS GET $1000 PER DAY

Will of Late Brewer Divides Vast $50,000,000 Estate.

August A., Who Succeeds His Father, to Have Two Shares.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 30.—Each of the heirs of the estate of Adolphus Busch, who, according to the will filed here late yesterday, are to have shares of trust into which the estate is to be formed, will have an annual income of $375,000 a share, or more than $1000 a day.

The son, August A. Busch, who succeeds his father in the management of the vast properties is to have two shares of the trust. He is required to make provisions, however, for his invalid brother, Carl.

According to a high officer of the estate, who made the figures known today, the income of the estate is estimated at $3,000,000, which is a 6 per cent return on a valuation of $50,000,000. The heirs are the widow and the seven children.

The provision of the will for three executors and three trustees was explained by attorneys today as follows:

The executors, Mrs. Tilly Busch, Edward A. Faust and Charles Nagel, will have full power to make the $210,000 in charitable bequests and the personal bequests, amounting to $20,000, and to provide an income for the widow not exceeding $50,000 a year.

After these deductions are made, the trustees, Mrs. Busch, August A. Busch and Charles Nagel, will administer the trust estate, subject however, to certain provisions that make August A. Busch supreme in the management of the brewery; the Manufacturers' Railway, the American Bottling Company and the Busch-Sulzer Brews Diesel Engine Company. If a vacancy occurs among the trustees, Faust is to fill it; if there is one among the executors, August A. Busch is to fill it. If only one trustee remains, the St. Louis Union Trust Company is to become trustee. By these requirements, provision is made for the administration of the estate in all details by persons who were intimately associated with Adolphus Busch. The only person named as trustee or executor who is not a member of the Busch family by blood or marriage is Charles Nagel, former Secretary of Commerce and Labor, who was the personal counsel of Adolphus Busch, and who drew the will.

FORECASTER THINKS DOWNPOUR IS DUE

Ought to Have Been Here Yesterday; the Wind Shifted

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—The weather man is convinced that we will have rain in the bay cities within a short period. Unsettled conditions prevail over the Pacific slope, and Forecaster Willson said this morning that showers would be likely tonight or tomorrow.

"It has not been raining at all in the Pacific coast states up to this time," said Willson, "but I believe that a downpour may come at any time. We expected rain yesterday, but the wind shifted and it did not come. I do not think we will be disappointed again. The country needs some moisture and it will be welcome."

PROF. RICARD'S PREDICTION.

SANTA CLARA, Oct. 30.—The Rev. Father Ricard of the observatory at the University of Santa Clara today forecasted storms as follows:

The dates of arrival of the November storms are November 1, 5, 8, 12, 15, 19, 25 and 29, and December 1. Any storm sufficiently distant from the next stays with us from one to three days. November will be wet and severe in the northwest, far less so in California. Watch for unusual warmth from November 22 to 29.

A storm is an air wave and the latter is analogous to a water wave: it has a trough and a crest, a starting point and a forward movement. The low is the trough and the high the crest. The rate of motion of a water wave can be measured. So is it with an air wave. Hence science can tell when and where it will arrive, especially where there is no obstacle as at sea. The land offers more difficulty.

Blackmail Charges Lead to Altercation

Assistant District Attorney Resigns Office

C. S. McKelvey (left) and W. H. Stevens, Los Angeles attorneys, accused of blackmailing wealthy and prominent men.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 3.—The blackmail charges which resulted in the arrests of Attorneys W. H. Stevens and Charles S. McKelvey on federal warrants caused a quarrel and a resignation in the United States district attorney's office here yesterday.

Albert Schoonover, recently appointed to the district attorneyship by President Wilson, told Dudley W. Robinson, an assistant who was holding over from an apointment made by Schoonover's predecessor, A. I. McCormick, Republican, that he had proceeded in too high-handed a manner in causing the arrest of the two lawyers.

"If you want to get out of here and tell in a spectacular manner that you have been injured, you may pack your grips and go," said Schoonover to Robinson.

"In the circumstances I cannot remain longer. I shall tender you my formal resignation as soon as I can write it," said Robinson to Schoonover.

"It will give me great pleasure to accept it," retorted Schoonover. "It will give me great pleasure."

Robinson soon gave him the "great pleasure" by repeating a resignation which he had previously filed a month ago, and which was to have taken effect day after tomorrow. Then he collected his law books and retired.

Robinson declared he would see that McKelvey and Stevens were prosecuted upon all criminal elements in the charges against them if he had to carry the case to the United States attorney-general.

Stevens and McKelvey were arrested Monday on an outcome of the blackmail charges made in the recent trial of the millionaire, George H. Bixby, for alleged offenses against young girls. Bixby was acquitted.

BLASTING EXTERMINATES SALMON IN FRASER RIVER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Railroad blasting operations on a tributary of the Fraser river, in Washington, having killed more than 1,000,000 salmon and prevented the spawning of between 2,000,000,000 and 3,000,000,000 sockeye salmon eggs, the department of commerce announced today that the fish-loving American public might expect a decided shortage in its favorite article of food three to five years hence. The department pronounces the slaughter of the fish to be a "catastrophe."

The effects of this catastrophe, it was declared, "will be seen three to five years hence, when the 1913 school come back to the river to spawn. How serious the outcome can only be surmised." The livelihood of hundreds of persons in the state of Washington and in British Columbia, adds the department, depends on the annual "run" of these fish, which return year by year to the same spawning grounds. This, it is suggested, makes the matter one of greater economic interest. Rocks dislodged by the blasting blocked the stream and caused the death of the ascending fish.

Seek New Maneuver Grounds for U. S. A.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—The Department of the Pacific, U. S. A., is looking for army maneuver grounds at Atascadero, near Paso Robles, which the government held under lease only, have been abandoned, and in the search now being made from the Canadian to the Mexican border a rumor found general circulation today that general concentration of troops near Los Angeles was under way. This the Southern Pacific Company promptly denied. Their advices show a number of troop movements, for the most part exchanges between posts, extending from Vermont, Illinois and Virginia to Arizona and Texas, but nothing to indicate the concentration at any point. All these movements the Southern Pacific officers say have previously been printed, as they were carried from time to time in the news dispatches.

"MARY HAD A LITTLE LAMB," LOCALLY COLORED

A living picture from the pages of Mother Goose was enacted on one of Oakland's principal streets Monday and Wednesday, when Mary and her little lamb leisurely wended their way in and out among cars and autos. This modern Mary is little Elizabeth Howard of this city, who possesses unusual propensities in the training of animals.

Receiving the lamb when it was but two weeks old, the child fed it from a bottle, training and developing it into a most affectionate pet. The little animal is broken to both saddle and harness and is very devoted to its young mistress and her companions.

Little Miss Howard is now devoting her energies to the training and developing of a family of chipmunks.

Suspect Wealthy Man Of Varndon Murder

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 30.—Detectives working on the case of Mrs. Harriet Varndon, the young woman who was strangled to death Tuesday night in an apartment house, centered their efforts today on the search for Manuel Francis Cabral, a wealthy fish dealer of San Diego, who is alleged to have been infatuated with the murdered victim. Cabral's photograph was identified today by the apartment keeper as the likeness of the man who registered at his place as W. Wilson, and in whose room the woman met her death.

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 30.—Despite his 71 years, Osborne H. Oldroyd, collector of relics of Abraham Lincoln, walked from his home in Washington, D. C., to see the Borglum statute of "Old Abe" here. He started October 19 and ended the 250-mile jaunt yesterday.

Mr. Oldroyd has made many journeys to obtain objects or data relating to Lincoln's life. Once he walked from Washington to Boston. Four years ago he walked from Cork to Belfast and from Glasgow to London.

ASSASSINS' KNIVES POISED

Women Tell of Conspiracy of Group of Enemies

Say They Were Offered Money by the Plotters

BULLETIN.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. — Acting Secretary Roosevelt of the Navy today instructed Rear Admiral Fletcher to place General Felix Diaz, the Mexican refugee, and his party aboard a New York and Cuban mail steamer after the ship leaves the last Mexican port on her sailing. The ship has not been selected.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 30.—A thorough search is being made by the police of the federal capital for further evidence of an alleged plot against the life of Provisional President Huerta, disclosed to the authorities by two women last night.

The women accused several men, who, they declared, had offered them $500 to induce General Huerta to visit them, so that the plotters could have an opportunity of assassinating him. The women asserted that they had declined to participate in the conspiracy. The men named have been arrested.

UNITED STATES PROTECTS DIAZ.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—To insure the safety of General Felix Diaz and his party of refugees now aboard the battleship Louisiana, Rear Admiral Fletcher has asked the Navy Department to decide whether they should be transported to some port outside of Mexico on one of the American warships. Most of the commercial ships clearing from Vera Cruz usually stop at Tampico or some other Mexican port, where it would be easy for the Huerta government to arrest the refugees. American naval officers on the warships are now patrolling the west coast of Mexico seem to know nothing of any peril impending at San Ignacio to the French colonists there. Rear Admiral Cowles from his flagship California at Guaymas makes no mention of any trouble inland and reports all quiet at Mazatlan and Guaymas.

Secretary Bryan, leaving today to speak in the New Jersey political campaign, said there was no change in the Mexican situation. Bryan will return to Washington Saturday.

That the next step in the Mexican policy of the administration has not been worked out finally and might not be announced for another week was indicated at the White House.

"It has been necessary," said Chairman Bacon of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, "that the European nations should recognize the right of the United States to deal with the situation. Now that we have that recognition it will take a little time for the President to work out the problem."

TREVINO REPORTED CAPTURED.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 30.—General Geronimo Trevino, news of whose capture by rebels during an assault on Monterey was telegraphed to the federal authorities yesterday by his son, was recently called to Mexico City by Provisional President Huerta, who is said to have offered him the Provisional Presidency. General Trevino declined the office. He has been a soldier ever since he reached manhood, and was formerly federal commander of the Northern Military Zone of Mexico, with headquarters at Monterey.

Would Restrain City From Using Aqueduct

INDEPENDENCE, Cal., Oct. 30.—The suit of the Natural Soda Products Company of Keeler against the City of Los Angeles was begun today before Judge W. D. Dehy in the superior court here. If the soda company wins the suit, the $23,000,000 Los Angeles acqueduct probably never will carry water to Los Angeles.

The Keeler company has asked for an injunction to restrain the city from diverting the waters of Owens river into the acqueduct. If this is sustained, Los Angeles will be restrained from carrying water from Owens valley to Los Angeles.

The plaintiff asserts that if the water is diverted the industry of making soda at Owens lake will be destroyed as the lake would become dry. The lake is one of the largest soda deposits in the world.

National Red Cross Building Considered

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Tentative plans for the $700,000 building to be erected as a home for the American National Red Cross and a memorial to the women of the Civil war were considered by the Red Cross officials today.

The plans provided for a two-story white marble structure of striking design.

Gifts from friends of the organization are expected soon to complete the $300,000 necessary to make available the $400,000 appropriated by Congress for the structure.

Medford Pun gler MAKES DEBUT AS WELTER Stopping Rees But Gets Small CREDIT FOR WIN As Weight Advantage WAS TOO APPARENT

WEIGHT QUESTION NOW UP FOR SETTLEMENT

Muddled Situation Keeps Boxers and Promoters in the Air

Well, what next?

The boxing fans and boxing promoters, to say nothing of the boxers themselves, seem to be a very much bewildered set of individuals these days. Matches are made one minute only to be unmade the next and re-made in still another minute.

For instance: At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon Willie Ritchie wired from New York through Harry Foley that his match with Beach Cross was definitely off, whereupon there was a mild scramble to land the match for San Francisco on Thanksgiving day the fight was on once more and that Madison Square Garden would be available on November 10 after all.

Anderson's showing against Reese last night while satisfactory in one sense, was not so in another. Anderson is no longer a lightweight, but then most of our "lightweight" battles nowadays are really welterweight contests.

Jimmy Rohan is still trying to negotiate a Thanksgiving day card in behalf of Eddie Graney. Yesterday he thought he had Cross and Ritchie. Today he thinks he has Frankie Burns and Bud Anderson. The two boys are practically under contract to appear, but the weight question offers quite an obstacle. Anderson and his manager, Dick Donald, are willing to meet Burns providing the weight is set at 135 pounds four hours before the fight, which would permit Anderson to enter the ring almost as heavy as he did last night.

Burns is willing to see the notch set at 133 pounds four hours before. When it is taken into consideration that Frankie's best weight is 135 pounds and that he is meeting Johnny McCarthy at that weight next week, it is quite possible Burns will eventually come to Dick Donald's way of thinking.

"As long as I am manager of Joe Azevedo," said Jimmy Rohan this morning, "I'll never give Frankie Burns another match. That's my final decision, and I will stand by it. Burns has assumed a dictatorial policy toward Azevedo which his record gives him no right to assume. Unless he can dictate weight, terms, conditions and everything else, Burns never enters the ring, and I don't see where he gets the right to assume any such attitude. His latest word to me is that while he is willing to fight Anderson at 133 pounds four hours before the fight, he wants the weight made seven hours before the match if he meets Azevedo. Can you beat that?"

Rohan has a letter from K. O. Brown asking that he be given a chance to meet Anderson on Thanksgiving day. The probability is that if Burns and Anderson cannot come to an agreement over the weight, Rohan will look for a new pair. He is willing to let Azevedo box 10 rounds with Anderson in Oakland at almost any old weight, but would not let the youngster tackle such a heavy opponent over any longer distance.

"In 10 rounds," said Rohan, "I think Azevedo would stab Anderson to pieces with his straight left."

Jimmy Coffroth's announcement of his plans for a Ritchie-Murphy battle in San Francisco in December will shoo other promoters away from this pair of boxers. Coffroth has the inside track of any of Jim Buckley's proteges, particulary Tommy Murphy.

ST. MARY'S RUGGERS BEATEN ON CALIFORNIA FIELD, 26-3

St. Mary's Ruggers, battling hard, went down to defeat yesterday afternoon on California field before the University of California's second string of varsity candidates, 26 to 3. Coach Schaeffer had his men working hard and used six extra men in the lineup several of whom may possibly see action in the big game against Stanford. Lane and Gianelli, both varsity men, alternated at left wing and inside five. They will likely be the first substitutes to replace any injured player a week from Saturday.

California scored three times in the first half. The first tally came soon after the start of the game. The ball went into to within striking distance of the St. Mary's goal, where a scrum was formed which the California forwards kept the ball hidden while they crossed the line. Ten minutes later Hoskins went over for a try, Hale converted and the score stood 8 to 0. Another try by Fish and a conversion by Montgomery brought the tally to 13 to 0 at the end of the half.

St. Mary's braced after the interval and put over their only try soon after the second half opened, Brandon scoring. Dillers missed the conversion. Three more tries and two conversions added thirteen more to the California total before the final tally gun was fired.

At the conclusion of the game Lockhart was added to the list of the varsity training table.

California—Forwards, Meyer (Parker), Russel, Crane, Hoskins (Hardy), Shaw, Fish, Weeks, Lockhart, Montgomery; five-eighths, Gianelli (Lane), Witter, wing, Lane (Gianelli); center three, Hayes; wing, Hale (Smith); full back, Bogardus (Skinner).

St. Marys—Forwards, Brandon, Cummings, Prentiss, Oeschger, Tognazinni, Guisto, B. Bruzzone, Randall, Sauer; five-eighths, Guptil, Moy, M. Bruzzone; wing, Roth; center three, M. Bruzzone, Dillers; wing, Maroni; full back, Wood, Moy; referee, Howard.

W. W. HILL ARRIVES FROM AUSTRALIA TO REFEREE BIG GAME

Fighting Spirit Returns to U. C. and Confidence Prevails on Campus.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Oct. 30. — The "fighting spirit" has returned to California. The campus is full of it; the rooters are shouting it from the bleachers; the under-grads are preaching it on the campus, and the varsity candidates are showing it on the field. The golf California fervor seems to have returned with a force that has spread confidence throughout the university.

With the arrival of Referee W. W. Hill from Australia today the last chance of a hitch in the big game program seems removed. Hill is accompanied on the trip by his wife. His early arrival will give him over a week to familiarize himself with the two teams and to come to an understanding with the two colleges in regard to the rules governing the contest.

Four freshmen took part in yesterday's game. Russell as a front ranker easily justifies his selection as a member of the training table. Weeks is a steady worker at breakaway. Montgomery behind the scrum and Skinner at full-back were the other first year men on the field.

As a result of his showing in yesterday's game, R. R. Lockhart was placed on the 'varsity training table. Lockhart is a heavy man with the additional quality of speed. His timely dribbling proved of great assistance yesterday. There are now 17 men living at the training house.

The coaches are having their hands full as the time comes when they must select the rival fifteens for supreme honors in California football. DANISH LIGHTWEIGHT IS HERE SEEKING LOCAL MATCHES

J. T. Gowland, once a local wrestling coach and now managing a number of boxers, is seeking matches here in this city. Gowland has Ed. Bergo, a light-heavyweight from Seattle, who bears a fair enough reputation in the northwest, and Emil Olsen, who claims the Danish lightweight title by reason of stopping Nilsen in eight rounds at Copenhagen a year ago.

Olsen has six knockouts, five decisions and one draw to his credit, all secured in the old country. He has never entered an American ring, but is anxious to take on any lightweight in the west at 133 pounds, purse to be split in any way agreeable to his opponent.

Gowland is stopping at 100 Wolf street, San Francisco. He will try to get one of the two boxers mentioned on in either Oakland or San Francisco and failing in this will go on to Australia.

EVERS TAKES UP GOLF AS WINTER SPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 30. — John Evers, manager of the Chicago Cubs, is going to keep in training this winter by playing golf. He will leave here tonight for Excelsior Springs, Mo., where he expects to take his initial lessons in the game.

The club manager says he doesn't know a thing about golf, but he believes the outdoor exercise is just what he needs during the winter. Evers bought a set of left handed clubs yesterday.

TO FORM FEDERATION OF HEBREW SOCIETIES

more reliable, although he has not shown himself to be a Monte Morris.

Whether Blase, who has been locking the cardinal scrum, will be ousted from his berth for Watkins, is a matter of much speculation among the Palo Altoites. Watkins is a husky man and has experience behind him. He has been working out in the middle rank, but has been replaced by a new find, Braden, who seems more likely, with Clover in the second rank, although he is by no means a certainty.

Erb and Tilton are prospects at half, with the shade in the former's favor. Tilton, while consistently a good handler of the ball, appears to be a player of just a certain amount [illegible] ster, seems better adapted for the difficult position naturally. Carroll is a fixture at center, while Austin has played nothing but inside five this year. With the intermediate gap filled in with a man of Davidson's ability and fed by Erb, with Urban and Reeves in the wings, Stanford will indeed have a great back field. Finding a fullback good enough to allow Davidson to play five means much to the cardinal combination.

DARK CLOUD IS OVER MEEHAN HERE'S PALZER'S CONQUEROR

GEORGE CHRISTIAN (AT LEFT), THE COLORED HEAVYWEIGHT, WHO CLAIMS TO HAVE KNOCKED OUT AL PALZER, AND HIS MANAGER, ARTHUR GOINS.

With the Anderson-Rees scrap out of the way, the fans are now centering their interest in the four round show which will be given by Frank Schuler at the Pavilion rink, San Francisco, tomorrow night.

Two local boxers, Otto Berg and Tom Nickola are on the card and a big delegation of Oakland fans will be at the ringside to root for the middleweights. Berg will meet Sailor Grande in one of the main events, while Nickola will tackle Johnny Soudenberg in the special event.

Berg and Nickola have been boxing together at the Oakland Athletic club and they are right on edge. Otto hung a four round defeat on Grande five weeks ago and the blonde boy is confident he can repeat. Nickola won a close four round decision over Soudenberg a month ago and should bring home the bacon this time.

The wind up will bring Willie Meehan and George Christian together. Willie has graduated into the heavyweight ranks and should he defeat Christian he will invade New York. Christian has bet $50 on himself so far and announced last night that he had $400 more which he would bet against an equal amount of Meehan's. Christian claims a K. O. victory over Al Palzer and also made a creditable showing against Joe Jeanette, and Arthur Pelkey.

The balance of the card comprises some rattling good bouts and the fans are assured of a fine evening's sport.

AMATEUR BOUTS HELD AT CLUB SHOW

The Young Men's Republican Club held their semi-monthlyl athletic exhibition at their club rooms, 508 Union street, last Thursday evening. The following four-round bouts were staged: "Wild Kate" Silva vs. Jimmie Ross, Mike Ahnan vs. Fred Foster, Milton Smith vs. Lee Johnson, Geo. Christian vs. Rufe Cameron, and Jakey Cohen vs. "Race Horse" Munzo. A recitation by Jack Daly and a song by Ed Clark were also on the program.

The committee are making extensive preparations for a Hallowe'en party Friday evening at their hall, 508 Union street. The program will consist of four-round boxing bouts, songs and dancing, and will conclude with a confetti battle.

BILL LINDSAY MAY BE TRADED TO ANGELS

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 30. — "Bill" Lindsay, third baseman of the Portland club of the Pacific Coast baseball league, will be a member of the Los Angeles team next season, according to a statement made here today by Mowatt Mitchell, a friend of Lindsay.

"When Lindsay passed through here on his way home at the end of the season," said Mitchell, "he told me he had been traded to Los Angeles."

CLOSE GAME BOWLED AT LAKESIDE

Two rinks, used by eleven players, marked the midweek meet of the Oakland Scottish Bowling club on Lakeside Park bowling green yesterday afternoon. James P. Taylor and James A. Smilie skipped the three handed teams which played fourteen ends only on the north rink owing to the lateness of the hour, and J. A. C. Macdonald and W. Paterson skipped the two-handed teams (with an odd man, D. Murray Johnson) competing on the south rink.

The latter teams started early enough to play a full game of 21 ends. The Paterson team lost eleven ends, Macdonald losing nine and one, the first end played resulting in no count owing to a tie, the game closing with Macdonald six points to the good. Following was the score:

Patterson	002 002 202 010 000 100 311—15
Macdonald	010 330 010 301 211 023 000—21

On the north rink [illegible] close game was played between the Taylor and Smilie teams. Neither team scored higher than two points on any end and that occurred only once on each side. The rest resulted in one point only being obtained by either side at the close of the end.

Taylor had Burpee and Evans as his partners and Smilie had Gray and Allen, each man was in good form and on his mettle.

Following was the score for the fourteen ends:

BREEZY BITS

by Billy Fitz

Harry Ables intends to add to the demands made by the players' fraternity. He wants:

1—Right fielders forbidden to throw the batter out at first on legitimate hits.

2—First base moved 87 feet closer to the plate when pitchers are at bat.

3—An automobile if he gets on.

As for Specs. Martinoni he would be perfectly satisfied with a rule that required a round of poker before every game.

Martinoni's record in the Northwest last season was so full of straights and flushes he had to carry a gun.

ACCUSHLA MACHREE.

We are not yet prepared to enlighten our subscribers regarding any of the new players whom Manager Devlin intends to sign, but we are willing to stake the bark roll that the box score next year instead of sounding like an Amsterdam menu will read more like a Gaelic football yell. First baseman, Fogarty; second baseman, Cassidy; [illegible] third baseman, Donlin; pitcher, O'Brien; catcher, Shaughnessy; mascot, Terence Mulvaney. And if that doesn't help, we'll quit our job.

MON DIEU!

Gravely we are informed that Joe Mendonca and Gus Pappas whom the West Oakland club has matched for the wrestling championship of America, are the same two guys who on their last meeting wrestled for two hours and 40 minutes without a fall. Some ad. that, some ad.

MEBBE WE COULDN'T.

A rugger is a valiant guy;
We always like to see one;
But 'ere we go
We'd have you know
We'd rather see than be one.

WAIT AND SEE!

O Father, why don't we have rain?
Please, daddy, crease your brow
And whisper: "Since it used to rain
Why, don't it sprinkle it now?
The old man heaved a dismal sigh
A rugby fan was he
He struck a match and primed his pipe,
And to his son, said he:

"Me lad, me lad, the reason why
Old Jupe's laid off a spell
Is 'cause he's waiting for the game
So he can rain like h—l."

SPEAKING OF LINDSAY.

Apparently one of the penalties of being picked by the reporters as the best third sacker in the league is to be traded to the Angels. Still, it might have been worse. Think of the guys who were drafted by St. Louis.

THANK YOU FOR THE LOBSTER?

The guy who invented that delicate phrase: "What cha mean, you lost your dog?" has been canned in favor of a guy who springs this on an unsuspecting public: "Thank you for the lobster." The phrase has made a tremendous hit chiefly because it has less meaning than its predecessor.

The melancholy days have come
The saddest of the year,
When we get up at 6 o'clock,
And it is cold and drear.

Dreamland Rink will be the scene tonight of the Indoor Yacht Club's annual "sail." Talent from almost all of the San Francisco theaters will assist in the fun. Commodore Hennessey will order sails hoisted at 8:30 o'clock.

The New Zealand All Blacks had an easy time of it at Reno yesterday wiping the field with the University of Nevada 55 to 0.

Vardon and Ray, the English golfers, found H. K. B. Davis and E. Chandler Egan, their Portland opponents, as hard as any matches they have found in their tour. In the thirty-six hole four-handed match played on the links of the Waverly Country Club in Portland yesterday [illegible] 2 up in the 36 holes played.

Santa Clara's second string of ruggers lost to Stanford's second varsity at Stanford yesterday, score 6 to 0. The game was hotly contested. Both Stanford tries were made in the second half.

RUGBY LEAGUE PLAN MAY NOT SUIT TWO BIG UNIVERSITIES

New Zealand's Suggestion for Widening Scope of the Game Advanced.

The suggestion made by Captain McDonald of the All-Blacks that a college rugby league be established somewhat on the style of the Western Conference by which football honors in the Middle West are established, is likely to find favor with all the institutions in the State, except the two most powerful—Stanford and Berkeley. It is natural that these two institutions should wish to preserve "the big game" tradition.

Victory of one over the other has been the athletic objective point for each university ever since they first clashed. Gradually this annual test has developed in much the same manner as the world's series. For exactly the same reason that Garry Hermann now seeks to abolish the world's series in favor of an interclub series which would permit the other clubs to participate in post-season honors, the suggestion is now advanced that the highest rugby honors should not be denied any deserving aspirant.

Here is what the New Zealander has to say on the subject:

"Stanford and California are two great schools, but I do not believe the supremacy in rugby should hang upon one contest, as there is always that little slip in a close game that gives one team the advantage. When Mr. Hill, who will referee the Stanford-California game, arrives in this country, Mr. Mason and the official will suggest some plan that will do away with two universities having the monopoly of rugby.

"One good idea would be the forming of a league that would give every team an opportunity to fight for the championship, and the result would be that rugby would flourish more than it does at the present time. With a league of the Olympics, Stanford, Santa Clara, Barbarians, Nevada, St. Mary's, California, Southern California and perhaps two other strong teams, there would be better rugby developed, and each squad would have an opportunity to meet every team in the league, which would decisively prove the championship. Another arrangement that would be of benefit would be to have the all-star aggregation play the Vancouver team for the championship of America, giving it more of an international reputation."

At the present time California and Stanford play the game which is termed the big game by the students of the respective schools, and one of the two usually claims the American championship. Last year Santa Clara defeated Stanford but did not play California, so the championship held by Santa Clara was in dispute. This year, should Santa Clara defeat Stanford, and Stanford defeat California, it would be another question of which would be the leading team of the country.

This point made by Captain McDonald is well worthy of being taken into consideration, as he is a man who knows the game from every angle, and has made a name for himself in the rugby world. Hill and Mason would do much for the game in this country if they could suggest some plan that would remove the yearly disputes that are an objectionable feature at the close of the season.

CHAMPION VISITS U. C. CINDER TRACK

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Oct. 30. — James Power of the Boston Athletic club was a visitor on the campus yesterday. He worked out on the track early in the afternoon and later was a spectator at the football game. Power is the champion of the United States and Canada in the mile run, his record time in competition being 4:18 for this event.

Power will be one of the four men who will leave on November 12 to tour Australia as an All-American track and field team. With him will go Alva Meyer of the New York Irish-American club; Templeton of Stanford and Coughey from Ukiah high. Power will do all the distances over the half mile. In the sprints, Meyer is a star performer. Templeton is counted on to carry off the honors in the hurdles and jumps, while Coughey will devote his energy to the weight events.

Tentative plans have been made for an exhibition two mile race to be run here before Power leaves the country. It is planned to enter all of the long distance men from this vicinity against the national champion. California's representatives will be Earl Crabbe and Harry Wood.

Power will go to Stanford to train Friday and will be here in Berkeley again next week.

Flying Boat Wild Duck Hunter Under Game Law Arrest

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 30.—Edwin K. Jacquith of New York City, a pupil at an aviation school on Lake Keuka, is under arrest on the novel charge of shooting ducks from a flying boat.

Under the game laws duck shooting from power boats is illegal and the game protector who made the arrest contends that flying machines come under the same head. The case will come up Friday before a Hammondsport justice.

ANDERSON THROUGH AS LIGHTWEIGHT, VERDICT OF SPECTATORS

Police Halt Bout in Fifth When Rees Is Unable Longer to Withstand Welter.

By THE TIMEKEEPER.

BUD ANDERSON, the well known Medford [illegible] as a welterweight at the Wheelmen Club last night and defeated Louis Rees in five rounds. Anderson signed articles calling for 133 pounds, but two days ago notified Rees that he would not make any weight and that unless Louis agreed to catch weights the match was off. Like the game kid he is, Rees accepted and but for the weight handicap would have given the alleged lightweight from Oregon the time of his life. Louis fought valiantly throughout the short battle and proved the superior of Anderson at the out-fighting.

The finish came in the fifth round, after Anderson had worn the Los Angeles lightweight down. A choppy right hand punch to the jaw, following a stiff left to the body did the trick. Rees was still battling when the bout was stopped, but he had no chance to win and the fans were satisfied when Anderson's hand was raised.

The fans were notified by the club through the newspapers that Anderson would come in overweight, but Dick Donald, Anderson's manager, was quite peeved because the announcement was made. Donald probably thought that the fans of this vicinity were of the Reuben kind found in the wilds of Oregon, but after the roasting his fighter got last night he will probably have changed his opinion by this time.

Anderson did not gain any credit for his victory. The crowd was with Rees to a man and gave him a great hand when he left the ring. Rees was not badly hurt in fact, the only injury he suffered was the re-opening of an old cut over his right eye. Pitted against a boy of his weight, Louis would still be a good drawing card and it was no disgrace to lose to a husky like the Oregon welter.

The preliminaries were well worth the price of admission, every one being a real battle. Jimmy Reagan and Sally Salvatore met in the semi-windup and the decision went to Reagan after a furious battle. Jimmy showed flashes of the stuff which won him the bantamweight championship and looks to be a real come back.

Frank Rome and Kid Exposito put up the hardest battle ever seen in the Wheelmen pavilion. For six rounds the pair engaged in a good old-fashioned slugging bee and they never let up. Exposito was awarded the decision. Gus Maata, the local referee, officiated in these two bouts and handled the fighters in splendid style. Gus has made good and the fans are all pulling for him.

Jakey Cohen was awarded a four round decision over Sam Levy and "Kate" Silva knocked out Jack Barrellis in the second round. Frankie Burns made his debut as a referee in the latter bout and got away with the job in good style.

A big crowd witnessed the scraps and the show was admirably handled by the officials of the Wheelmen club.

MY WORD! J. BULL THOUGHT WORLD'S SERIES POLO!

LONDON, Oct. 30. — Americans in London are being hugely amused over a curious blunder made by one of the illustrated papers here showing a picture of the crowds besieging the gates of the Polo grounds in New York on the day of the first game of the world's baseball championship, under the caption "Polo Is Popular in New York." Beneath the photograph there is further explanation which reads as follows:

"The Polo ground in New York was rushed by an excited crowd when the gates opened for the first game of a world's series. The police were bowled over like nine pins and many people did not pay for admission."

The parties responsible for the blunder have since learned that all is not polo that's played on a polo ground.

SCOTT HOLDS GIANTS TO SIX HITS

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Oct. 30. — Scott, pitching for the Chicago White Sox, held the New York Giants to six scattered hits yesterday and struck out twelve batters, Chicago winning 7 to 1. Five of Chicago's runs came in the third inning. Hears then relieved Fromme. Lobert's home run in the first inning was the Giants' only tally. Score:

		R.	H.	E.

FAMOUS GRAY PACER CHANGES STABLE

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Oct. 30. — The famous gray pacer, Earl Jr., 2:01¼, was sold yesterday to R. C. Lasbury, Broadbrook, Conn., by P. W. Murphy of Edmonton, Alta. Earl Jr. has been raced on the Grand Circuit and on Canadian tracks all summer, finishing up his season at the Rockport track here in a Lake Erie circuit race Tuesday. He is eight years old and for three years was one of the stars in Walter Cox's stable. The price was not made public.

CONFESSES SLAYING OF HIS AGED WIFE

NELHAM, N. H., Oct 30. — Mrs. Ernest McCoy, 71 years old, was found murdered in her home here last night. Her husband, a farmer, 64 years old, was arrested after he had attempted to commit suicide, and was taken to Manchester, where he will be arraigned on a charge of murder. He is alleged to have confessed.

"I shot her in a fit of anger two weeks ago," McCoy said, according to County Solicitor Sullivan, adding that domestic unhappiness caused the trouble between them. Mrs. McCoy began action for divorce two months ago.

FOOTBALL GRIPS EAST; CAN'T SUPPLY THE TICKET DEMAND

Army-Navy Game in N. Y. to Draw More Than the Polo Grounds Can Hold.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. — Any lingering doubt of the popularity of intercollegiate football, even under the revised playing rules, is removed by the deluge of applications pouring in on those in charge of the ticket distribution for the big games of the season. The demand for seats surpasses any previous record, and the various managements are at their wits end trying to devise some method of equitably meeting the situation.

From present indications the seating capacity of the various fields on which the Yale-Harvard, Army-Navy, Harvard-Princeton, Pennsylvania-Cornell and Princeton-Yale games will be played will be unequal to the demands already being filled by alumni under graduates and their friends.

One of the surprises of the season is the increased interest in the Army-Navy game, to be played in this city on November 29. It was thought that with the transfer of the contest from Franklin Field, Philadelphia, to the Polo grounds the 41,000 seats would accommodate all those who wished to witness the play. Such, however, is not likely to be the case and it is possible there will be no public sale of seats, as was originally planned.

Less than 5000 seats are available for such sale under the most favorable conditions and even this small percentage may be reduced greatly by preferred applications received by mail.

For several years there has been no public sale of tickets for the Harvard-Yale and Princeton-Yale games, and the demand from those privileged to apply for these coupons under the rules of the competing universities has increased to the point where the allotments are being curtailed greatly in order that there may be no charge of favoritism. The ticket situation has reached the point where the tremendous demands offers a promising field for speculators. To cope with this evil, the various college organizations and publications are issuing warnings on the subject of selling or giving away tickets allotted to those entitled to them similar to the following published at Yale university:

"The 'black list' is no empty phantom. It is a real book, bound in black, compiled with the aid of a large corps of detectives and kept in the ticket office to receive and contain the names of those whose infringement of the rules makes them ineligible for further applications for tickets. The wise ones will avail themselves of the opportunity to redeem tickets that they don't intend to use themselves, thereby insuring that they will not be enrolled among this doubtful company."

In round figures, 35,000 seats will be available for the Yale-Princeton game at New Haven, November 15, and the Harvard-Yale game at Cambridge, November 22. Twenty-seven thousand seats will be the capacity of the stands at University Field, Princeton, where Princeton and Harvard meet on November 8.

There is something in the air at this time of the year that has a very drying, irritating effect on the nostrils and air passages of the head and throat. A cough and cold frequently follows these symptoms, and Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is a strong demulcent remedy that gives prompt relief. Use it for coughs, colds, tickling throat, hoarseness and bronchial coughs; best for children and grown persons. Keep it at home, and quick relief will follow its use. Contains no opiates. ARABIAN SHEIK TO VISIT OAKLAND Coming in Interests of Proposed "Arabian City" for Big Exposition.

Sheik Hadji Taban ben Mohamed, son of the present ruler of Independent Arabia, and one of the most noted diplomats of his country, will shortly visit the Hotel Oakland while on a tour of the coast in the interest of the proposed "Arabian City" to be built either at the San Diego Exposition or the Panama-Pacific Exposition in 1915. The noted Arabian is also negotiating with the government for the purchase of the machinery [illegible] after the completion of the latter, he plans to utilize in Arabia for the widening of a channel connecting the Oman Harbor with the Oman Gulf, giving his country one of the best harbors in the world. The work will involve cutting a mountain in half.

The Oriental city, as planned by the Arabian dignitary, will be a small replica of Fez, and will contain 5000 inhabitants. The natives will walk [illegible] streets, and the exhibit will be one of the most wonderful ever planned.

Sheik Hadji is a graduate of Oxford University, England, and is one of the noted writers of his country. He is 65 years of age. His son, Abdullah, is with him. The latter has spent most of his life in America, being a Yale graduate. They are now in Los Angeles, and, after a visit there, will come to the bay region. They were forwarded Hotel Oakland rates and literature on request.

The project of purchasing the Panama Canal machinery is one of the largest deals ever undertaken by his country, and, he declares, will mean a new era of Arabian prosperity. The country, which contains 10,000,000 inhabitants, is rich agriculturally, and it is planned to open its harbor to facilitate its shipping and find a world market for its dates and other fruits and products. The country is independent, and has a partial democratic form of government or limited monarchy.

Two Die at Manila From Bubonic Plague

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—Correspondence from Manila reports two deaths there from bubonic plague, one of them being that of William Crozier, managing editor of the Daily Bulletin. A number of infected rats have been found and every effort is being made to rid the city of them.

WHIST TOURNAMENT FOR ST. JOSEPH'S INSTITUTE

Extensive arrangements are being made for a Grand Whist Tournament to be given Thanksgiving Eve, Wednesday, November 26, 1913 at the Hotel Oakland.

The affair which will undoubtedly be one of the most elaborate of the season is being arranged for the benefit of St. Joseph's Home for Deaf Mutes, which institution cares for deaf and dumb children, two-thirds of whom are orphans. For such a worthy charity, the friends of the institution are striving to make this tournament a great success, and judging from the enthusiasm evidenced thus far, it will undoubtedly prove to be one of the most interesting parties, both from a social as well as a financial standpoint.

A preliminary meeting of those in charge of the tournament was held last evening at the home of Miss Blanche Steele. Another meeting will be held next Tuesday evening, at which time the personnel of the various committees will be announced.

HARK! SHOTS AND SHARP SHRIEK; POLICE HURRY

Two revolver shots and a shriek in the night sent the police scouring the district about Sixteenth, Chestnut and Linden streets last night, but they were unable to discover the source of the trouble. Patrolman Trotter heard the two shots in rapid succession and then heard a strange cry that might have been made by a wounded animal or by a woman in fear. The reports were heard shortly after midnight.

Trotter hastened in the direction of the sound. He found a man near Linden and Sixteenth streets, who had heard the shots, but could not determine the direction from which they came. Trotter and several other patrolmen searched the neighborhood, but failed to obtain information concerning the shooting.

EX-DEPUTY CORONER IS SUED FOR BOARD BILL

Charles H. Quinton, former deputy coroner at Irvington, who was associated with Mrs. Thomas J. Power in the undertaking business until recently, when his partner sued her husband for divorce, today filed answer and cross-complaint to a suit brought against him by Powers for $487.50 board.

In his cross-complaint Quinton charges that he had fully satisfied the claims of Power and further that Power is indebted to him for the sum of $350 for hay furnished his livestock and for care of the same.

POLICE TRANSFERS FOLLOW DISMISSAL

Corporal E. W. Brock has been transferred by Chief of Police Petersen to the northern district, vice James Flynn, dismissed, and Corporal John Fahey will take Brock's place in the central District. Corporal John Dufton will succeed Fahy. The civil service board will announce an examination for eligible list for corporals in a short time, as there are none on the waiting list.

It is understood [illegible] children will be placed in a convent until their mother is released from [illegible] services [illegible] was held [illegible]

WHEAT MARKET IS SAGGY AND HEAVY

Opens Lower and Fails to Maintain Slight Reaction Later.

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—Opening wheat prices were ⅛@⅝c lower today. A slight reaction took place later, but failed to last.

Later the market showed additional weakness, but covering of a short line for a large speculator helped to rally prices. The close was easy, ⅛@¼@⅜c under last night.

[illegible] corn prices rallied to nearly a last night's level.

Argentina competition at interior Texas points had a bearish effect until a rally in wheat caused the market to harden. The close was steady, unchanged to ⅛@⅛c up, compared with the night before.

Oats underwent a moderate sag with other grains, but offerings gradually became scarce.

Provision sales at the outset varied from 5 [illegible] apparently disposed to keep within the range.

Close: Wheat, May, 90⅝@90⅝c.
Corn—May, 71⅝c; July, 71⅛@71⅝c.
Oats—May, 42⅞c; July, 42⅛c.
Pork—January, $20; May, $20.10.
Lard—January, $10.62½.
Ribs—January, $10.62½; May, $10.77½@10.80.

CLIMATIC CONDITIONS.

The pressure is falling slowly over the western portion of the country and cloudy and threatening weather is reported generally over the Pacific slope and northern Rocky Mountain region. Light sprinkles have occurred at Sacramento and Fresno. Fair and cold weather prevails over the Plains states and Mississippi valley and generally fair weather in the Atlantic states. The temperature has fallen over California and risen over the central portion of the country. Conditions are unsettled in this district and showers are probable north of the Tehachapi.

San Francisco Markets

SANTA ROSA, Oct. 30.—Eggs of both varieties dropped heavily on the local market today, firsts decreasing 3½ cents per dozen and seconds or pullet grades dropping 3 cents. Butter remained the same, being quoted at 31½ cents again. When advices had been received from trading on the San Francisco Dairy Produce Exchange local dealers posted quotations offering 49 cents per dozen for first grades and 40 cents for seconds or pullet grade eggs. Dealers here are seeking turkeys for the Thanksgiving trade, and at present there is a dearth of these birds for the coming holiday.

PETALUMA, Oct. 30—A slump of 6 cents was reported in the price of extra ranch eggs in this city today upon receipt of the morning advices from the San Francisco Dairy Exchange. The local dealers offered the producers 49 cents for the delivery of yesterday. From the best information at hand here, the slump has been caused by irregular receipts. It is said that the ranchers held back the eggs for several days and when they deliver them it makes a big supply on the market, causing the price to go down. The delivery was fair today and very little activity was noticed on the market. The price of select pullet eggs dropped [illegible] cents. The delivery was fair. Poultry delivery was light.

STOCKTON, Oct. 30.—On the local produce market today there was a pronounced slump in ranch eggs, that commodity declining 3 cents. The incoming shipments, attracted by the high prices of yesterday, exceeded the demand, and the producers were paid 47 cents per dozen for first, and 45 cents for seconds. Ranch butter remained firm at 55 and 60 cents per roll. Trading in poultry was lively and receipts for the day average.

BUTTER, EGGS AND CHEESE.

Sales on the exchange yesterday were as follows:

Butter—None.

Eggs—Ten cases of selected pullets at 41½ cents; twenty cases at 42 cents.

INDUSTRIAL WORKERS JAILED AT SPARKS

RENO, Nev., Oct. 30. — Nineteen Industrial Workers of the World, who took possession of a freight car at Imlay, Nev., and refused to be ejected, were jailed [illegible] point, three miles from Reno, at noon yesterday. They claimed to be on their way to Butte, Mont., and Pocatello, Ida., to Oakland, Cal. They were reported to be armed, and the conductor of the train was instructed to stop outside the railroad yards, where the boxcar travelers were met by a heavily armed detachment of a sheriff and 20 deputies. Their worst armament proved to be I. W. W. literature. Two or three tried to run, but soon surrendered.

BEARS HALT RISE IN STOCK MARKET

Tone Good Until Attempt to Depress Prices Is Made.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The undertone was good throughout the morning on the stock market today and prices tended upwards until the bears attempted to depress the market. They succeeded in halting the rise, but further than that were unable to make much headway. Stiff money rates impeded a sustained advance.

Call money opened at 5 per cent. Time rates, however, were little changed and western banks loaned 60 and 90-day money here at 4¾ per cent.

Prominence of the Mexican difficulties in the day's news made the bears confident that no [illegible] attempted at present. None of the active shares varied much more than half a point in either direction from yesterday's close. Bonds were irregular.

The market was spiritless in the later hours. Although the earlier weakness was not continued, the market did not rebound sufficiently to create any optimism among the bull faction, the rally coming to a dead stop before a full recovery was made.

Some recovery was effected for the lowest figures of the morning despite the virtual check to speculation by a rise in call money rates to 6 per cent. Another $1,000,000 in gold was shipped to Canada.

An enlargement of the late dealings was attended by sharp fall in prices, nearly all stocks losing a point or more. The fact that buying power had gone largely out of the market, coupled with the curtailment of credit by the banks, rendered it comparatively easy to break prices.

The market closed weak.

A SHORT TALK WITH US ON

will convince you that our rates are the very lowest and our system the best on household furniture and piano loans.

We make loans on personal property without removing the goods from your possession.

We charge you nothing if we do not make you a loan.

We make no objectionable inquiries in your neighborhood, but do business in a fair, square and confidential manner.

Do not lose your personal independence by asking a friend for a temporary loan when you are in need, but come to us for your wants; we make it a plain business proposition; you pay for what you get and do not have to ask favors.

We make these loans to be repaid in monthly or weekly payments for ONE month to ONE YEAR, and charge you for the use of the money only for the length of time you have it.

We Give You a Written Statement showing to a cent the exact cost of a loan and also to a cent the exact amount of discount we allow for each month the loan is paid before time expires. You can get no better proposition. You will find it to your advantage to get our rates before placing a loan elsewhere.

You get the full amount of loan in cash.

No Charges Deducted

Loans with other companies paid up and more money advanced on easy payments and longer time.

GRAND OPERA COMPANY TO HAVE TIME WEST

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—It was rumored yesterday in New York and Philadelphia, and the report was not denied, that Edward T. Stotesbury is planning to withdraw his support from the Chicago-Philadelphia Grand Opera Company and enter an agreement with the Boston Opera Company.

The withdrawal of Stotesbury's support and discontinuance of the Chicago-Philadelphia Opera Company in Philadelphia will not, it was announced here, affect the standing of the company in Chicago. The Stotesbury guarantee is effective in Philadelphia only, Chicago capitalists guaranteeing the expenses of the season in this city.

By eliminating the Philadelphia program of the opera company, a more extended stay upon the road will be possible. Six weeks will be added to the round trip, it is said, and more time undoubtedly will be given Western and Pacific Coast cities.

RAILWAY COMMISSIONERS DISCUSS VALUATIONS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. — Papers and discussions on the physical valuation of railways, in its various phases, occupied the attention today of the National Association of Railway commissioners. Consideration of the subject, which was highly technical and more or less academic, was based on the report of the committee on "Railroad Taxes and Plans for Ascertaining Fair Valuation of Railroad Property," presented by Commissioner M. B. Maltbie of New York.

Supplemental papers were submitted by George A. Henshaw of Oklahoma on "Elements of Appreciation in Railroad Valuation," by Max Thelen, of California on "A Just and Scientific Basis for the Establishment of Public Utility Rates, With Particular Attention to Land Values," by Dr. A. F. Weber of New York on "Depreciation and Its Relation to Fair Value" and by Dr. Edward W. Bemis of Chicago on the "Accounting Side of Rate Making."

TAKING TOLL OF BABIES.

Each season of the year takes its toll of the babies, and to watch and safeguard them from common colds and coughs is a matter of importance to their parents. To keep Foley's Honey and Tar Compound in the house and use it promptly is to save the little ones from the serious effects of these colds, to ward off croup, bronchial coughs, hoarseness, stuffy wheezy breathing and violent coughing spells. It is absolutely free of opiates and may be given to the little ones with no fear of harmful results. Refuse substitutes. Drug Department, Kahn's.

THREE COUNTIES PLEDGE FERRY

Marin Line Project Outlined by Boosters at Successful Outing.

Three counties—Alameda, Contra Costa and Marin—pledged themselves, through representatives of various civic and commercial organizations, to support the plan of establishing a ferry service between Contra Costa and Marin counties, at an enthusiastic clam bake and gathering attended by more than 500 representatives at El Campo, Marin county. Upon motion of A. A. Denison, secretary of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, State Senator J. C. Owen of Richmond was chosen to head a committee to be composed of five members from each county to take up and investigate thoroughly the feasibility of such a project. It is estimated that the cost of the work would total $125,000.

SENATOR OWEN TOASTMASTER.

Senator Owen acted as toastmaster. The speakers, who included A. A. Denison, secretary of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, Mayor Richard Kinsella of Stanislaus, Supervisor John H. Prythall of Contra Costa, Supervisor M. Pedrotti of Marin; Mayor Otto Ludwig of Richmond, Colonel George D. Shadbourne of San Anselmo, J. J. Mazza, president of the Marin County Promotion League; Wilbur Walker, secretary of the Oakland Merchants' Exchange; M. F. Cochrane of San Anselmo, M. McMahon of Marin, and G. Tibbetts of Marin, emphasized the importance of establishing as soon as possible the ferry system.

MUST WORK TOGETHER.

"We must work together," declared Mayor Ludwig of Richmond, "if we wish to attain results. The natural facilities for easy water communication between Marin county and Contra Costa and Alameda counties are so placed that where it now takes hours to cross, it should takes but a few minutes with a ferry line. It is merely a case of being so near and yet so far. Now I suggest that we grant a franchise to some individual or individuals to establish the proposed system. If nobody cares to undertake the job, then we'll do it ourselves."

Before arriving at the Marin shore the Alameda and Contra Costa boosters, on board the good ship Caroline, Captain William G. Leale, were taken up the channel to inspect the lay of the land. The one ferry mole would be located at Point San Pablo in Contra Costa county, while the other would be placed directly opposite on the Marin shore, a distance of about three-quarters of a mile.

Senator Owen explained minutely the geographical features of the intended project, and his remarks met with the approval of the Oaklanders.

AN IMPORTANT FEATURE.

One important feature of the establishment of the proposed ferry line would be that students wishing to attend the University of California from Marin county could go back and forth between their homes and the university daily. According to Wilbur Walker, the establishment of such a system would make it possible to send produce between the peninsula counties and the two mainland counties at a freight saving of millions of dollars annually. M. F. Cochrane declared that "it would encourage sociability, civic pride and good fellowship between the three counties."

The boosters were the guests of Superintendent S. Berndt of the California Wine Association at Winehaven, where an inspection of the plant and a sampling of its products was made.

L. Johansen and J. S. Whitney were the chefs of the clam bake at El Campo, and all were loud in their laudations of the spread.

THOSE FROM OAKLAND.

Fred Boegel Jr., secretary of the manufacturers' committee of Alameda county, attended to the details of handling the local end of the affair, and among those who attended from Oakland were F. J. Matthews, W. W. Hunt, C. M. Orr, Judge A. L. Frick, J. I. Adcock, P. J. Kelleher, John Mulcarn, John Sullivan, W. H. Davis, John T. Burke, Arthur McNamara, John H. Nicholl, L. H. Kibbe, C. B. Stanley, S. H. Kitto, Fred Seulberger, William Wenshaw, Martin Range, Howard Paul, Richardson, Wilbur Walker, Archie Taft, Craig Sharpe, R. C. Rowland, Colonel Theodore Gier, County Auditor E. F. Garrison, Fred Parsons, James Park, C. Wittenberg, R. L. Young, Traylor Bell, Dr. C. R. Faulker, F. Lane, Ralph Grover, G. Moberry, Judge C. C. Coburn, A. Van Der Naillen, George Mason, A. H. Irving, E. Webster, T. R. Barker, G. W. Adams, A. A. Denison, secretary chamber of commerce, J. W. Ward, and R. J. Hunter.

FROM CONTRA COSTA.

Contra Costa boosters included Senator J. C. Owen, Mayor Otto R. Ludwig, J. H. Trythall, chairman of the board of supervisors; Supervisor W. H. McBryde, Supervisor Vincent Hook, County Clerk I. H. Wells, W. A. Rugg, W. R. Sharkey, G. A. Follett, R. L. Fernald, Justice of the Peace John Roth, Water Commissioner R. H. Curry, Water Commissioner H. E. Wyatt, City Auditor J. A. McBidde, Superintendent of streets Frank Welsh, City Engineer H. D. Chapman, V. A. Floyd, C. D. Whitcomb, Ralph Bias, Curtis Wright, Jr., James T. Narbett, C. H. Brewer, R. J. Woods, O. S. Jackson, H. W. Lunceford, O. A. Poulsen, John F. Galvin, H. E. Huntsinger, George Henley, Frank Lucas, E. E. Grow, G. W. Cushions, H. H. Turley, P. B. MacQuiddy, Harry Ellis, C. H. Fernald, D. W. McLaughlin, H. A. Johnson, E. S. Brown, C. S. Hannun, Courtney Talbot, A. O. Dell, C. E. Clark, A. C. Clark, E. J. Ferguson, H. E. Jacobsen, A. Elsie, J. A. Black, D. B. Kenny, Benjamin G. Bowman, S. H. Wright, J. O. Ford, Charles Renwick, George Calbert, Thomas Conn, C. J. Shepherd, Harry Adkison, Julius Stiefvater, H. W. Wiense, M. J. Kelley, F. E. Adams, E. Wiese, Dr. C. R. Blake, W. S. G. Clark, J. H. Plate, John Wagner, T. W. Mufich, J. A. Neill, C. B. Evans, W. B. Jenkins, Lewis Kesel, Joseph Goss, [illegible] and C. C. Gill.

M. Cochrane acted as chairman of the Marin reception committee.

MRS. CARLSON TO GIVE THE "PIPER" SATURDAY

Mrs. Carlson will be seen in the "Piper" at the ball room of the Hotel Oakland on the afternoon of this coming Saturday. Mrs. Carlson has made a particular study of this drama of Josephine Preston Peabody, the prize play of the Shakesperian society of England. [illegible] lege of oratory in Boston. She has been on tour of this country for the last five seasons and every where she has appeared the press has spoken most highly of her work. It is Mrs. Carlson's work to interpret the different characters of the drama giving the expressions, the changes of voice, the different gestures which the characters imply in the story of the play.

There is much interest taken in the coming of this talented artist to Oakland and the dramatic clubs are very enthusiastic over the recital.

OTIS' PLANS MEET WITH FAVOR

Alameda Citizens Appear to Desire Bond Issue for Improvements.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 30. — Mayor Frank Otis' suggestion that the streets of this city be improved by a bond issue, rather than by direct assessment of abutting property owners, received a flattering endorsement last night at the mass meeting held in connection with the special session of the city council. A rising vote was taken among those in the audience and the vote was 35 to 6 in favor of the bond method.

Those in the lobby were also requested to vote in regard to passing $200,000 in bonds for the improvement of the water front and the [illegible]

The school and natatorium bond questions were not considered, but will be taken up at a later date.

WANT QUICK ACTION.

The meeting resulted in a general discussion of the street and water front improvement questions, officials and citizens giving their ideas as how the work should be done. All agreed that it was necessary to improve several of the streets in the city at once and that the taking over of the control of the water front is urgent, as this will be one of the greatest assets of the city in the course of time.

Mayor Otis opened the discussion of the evening by referring to his message, in which he suggested that a bond election be held to provide funds for street improvements, the erection of new schools, the establishment of a municipal natatorium and improvement of the water front.

STREETS ONCE ADMIRED.

"There was once a time," said Mayor Otis, "when people came from all over the State to admire our streets and ask us how we did it. But it is not so now. Our streets are in need of repair and action must be taken at once as the thoroughfares are rapidly going into deterioration. It was found impractical to place the cost of the work in the budget and so it was suggested that a city-wide plan be prepared and the money raised by a bond issue. As a consequence the city engineer compiled an estimate of the cost of certain streets."

The mayor read from this report and showed that three methods of improving the streets are suggested, as follows:

1—Leveling up and preparing present pavements and re-surfacing with two inches of asphaltic concrete.

2—Asphaltic concrete base four inches thick and a wearing surface one and one-half inches thick.

STREETS CONSIDERED.

In the estimate the following streets are taken into consideration:

Central avenue, west High to east Fourth.

Alameda avenues, west Oak to west Union; Buena Vista avenue, west Park to west Webster; Park street, south Buena Vista to bridge and north Encinal to bay; Webster street, north Central to south Santa Clara and south Buena Vista to Atlantic; High street, north Encinal to point 1100 feet north of Lincoln; Lincoln avenue, west Park street to east Eighth street; Santa Clara avenue, east Third to west High; Harrison avenue, north half.

The cost as estimated for these streets, including the crossings, is as follows for the three propositions:

First proposition:

Central avenue, $98,077.91; Alameda avenue, $15,824.07; Buena Vista avenue, $60,332.12; Park street, $17,065.76; Webster street, $6,352.40; High street, $12,712.10; Lincoln avenue, $43,898.55; Santa Clara, $67,888.96; Harrison avenue, $3,641.38. Total, $321,793.05.

Second proposition:

Central avenue, $104,001.17; Alameda avenue, $18,519.36; Buena Vista avenue, $70,283.42; Park street, $19,841.36; Webster street, $7,398.30; High street, $14,696.13; Lincoln avenue, $51,007.15; Santa Clara avenue, $78,996.04; Harrison avenue, $10,103.46. Total, $374,846.39.

Third proposition:

Central avenue, $115,193.60; Alameda avenue, $20,540.82; Buena Vista avenue, $77,746.89; Park street, $21,923.05; Webster street, $8,182.72; High street, $16,184.14; Lincoln avenue, $56,333.74; Santa Clara avenue, $87,326.35; Harrison avenue, $11,200.01. Total, $414,636.32.

The estimate of the cost of the crossings by the first plan alone is as follows:

Central avenue, $23,080; Alameda avenue, $2,360.39; Buena Vista avenue, $14,840.69; Park street, $4,508.43; Webster street, $1509.93; High street, $2697.76; Lincoln avenue, $11,887.03; Santa Clara avenue, $15,996.10; Harrison avenue, $1138.25; Harrison avenue, south half, $3552.93. Total, $82,567.49.

These estimates do not include the curbings, which must be figured at 50 cents a linear foot extra.

The second proposition is recommended by both the city engineer and superintendent of streets as being the most practical for a permanent improvement of the streets.

WORK MUST BE DONE.

Mayor Otis declared that the bonds should not be for a period longer than the life of the street. "I do not exactly like the idea of having the city go into debt," he said, "but we must keep up the streets. If this is not done Alameda will deteriorate as a municipality."

W. S. McLean, president of the East End Improvement club, asked if the three propositions could be placed before the electors. Mayor Otis said that alternative propositions could be placed on the ballot. Superintendent of Streets V. M. Frodden pointed out that various conditions would be met in the rebuilding of the streets and that it would not be feasible for the voters to select but one method of construction. He declared that all three ways would be used in order to make permanent improvements.

"I suppose those streets mentioned in the report would be the only thoroughfares improved," said McLean.

ALL STREETS INCLUDED.

He was informed by the mayor that the estimate had been made on the particular streets in order to obtain an idea as to the cost of the improvements. He stated that all streets in need of improvement would be included in the city-wide plan under the bond issue.

McLean said that the notion had spread that only a few of the main streets were to be improved, but he said that the mayor's explanation dispelled such an idea.

T. C. West said that he believed the matter resolved itself into the question as to whether the city should bond itself for street improvements. He explained the three ways that the work could be accomplished by short term bonds; by assessment of the abutting property owners and by placing the cost in the tax levy. He pointed out that there is a question as to the assessment plan being legal and that the tax levy method would make the taxes enormous.

"Alameda should retain the reputation of having the best paved streets in the State," said West, "and I am strongly in favor of a bond issue."

FAVORS THE BONDS.

Councilman William Hammond Jr. declared that the council should determine which streets are to be improved and then the property owners would know what they were voting for. He favored a bond issue for permanent improvements and urged that the street committee prepare a city-wide plan, enumerating the streets to be improved and the cost of the work.

Mayor Otis said that he wished to reiterate that the streets mentioned in the city engineer's report would not take precedence, but that all thoroughfares in need of repair would be improved. [illegible] voted upon and that hereafter a sinking fund for street repairs and improvements be established. In this way, he said, the present contingency would not rise again.

Green Majors spoke against bonds and favored the direct assessment of abutting property owners. He said that bonds for streets would impair the city's bonding capacity for water, gas and transit [illegible]. "The whole system of bonding is wrong," said Majors. "It is putting off to a future time something that should be paid now."

Don't Buy a Player Piano Unless It Has the METROSTYLE

¶ The METROSTYLE, is a simple device—the one who plays follows a line on the music roll—that line instructs how great pianists play the selection—shows how to play it correctly. Just "pumping" at a player piano does not make music—you need the METROSTYLE—with it your understanding of real music is capable of quick development and your enjoyment is increased a thousand fold.

¶ The METROSTYLE can only be found in the PIANOLA—the standard in Player Pianos. The PIANOLA is combined only with six pianos—Steinway, Weber, Steck, Wheelock, Stuyvesant and Stroud.

¶ Pianolas from $575 up. Your present piano taken in exchange. Moderate payment terms if desired.

ANGELENO KILLED; STEPSON SURRENDERS

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 30.—A family jar ended in tragedy here late last night. Henry Wheatley was shot and almost instantly killed in his home. The police at once set out to arrest James Norton, aged 22, Wheatley's step-son. It was said by the police that Wheatley had been abusing his wife, Norton's mother. Norton was present. The shooting followed. Norton escaped.

The trouble started, Mrs Wheatley related, when she had accused her husband of paying attention to women in the neighborhood.

While the police were searching the vicinity for the missing step-son, Norton was walking as rapidly as possible to the police station, it transpired. He gave himself up early this morning.

THREE WOMEN TESTIFY

To the Merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during Change of Life.

Streator, Ill.—"I shall always praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound wherever I go. It has done me so much good at Change of Life, and it has also helped my daughter. It is one of the grandest medicines for women that can be bought. I shall try to induce others to try it."—Mrs. J. H. CAMPBELL, 206 N. Second St., W. S., Streator, Illinois.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"It was at the 'Change of Life' that I turned to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, using it as a tonic to build up my system with beneficial results."—Mrs. SARA HAYWARD, 1825 W. Venango St., (Tioga) Phila., Pa.

San Francisco, Cal.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for many years whenever I would feel bad. I have gone through the Change of Life without any troubles and thank the Compound for it. I recommend it to young girls and to women of all ages."—Mrs. C. BARRIE, 3052 20th St., San Francisco, Cal.

LESS SUFFERING AMONG NATIVES

U. S. Revenue Cutter Completes Cruise in the Aleutians.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 30. — The United States revenue cutter Manning, Captain F G Dodge, arrived here yesterday from Alaska, having completed a 16,000 mile cruise among the Aleutian islands, including a visit to Attu, the most westerly on the chain.

"The natives on the isolated islands are in much better condition than in previous years," said Captain Dodge "There is not much sickness and the natives are beginning to observe the sanitary regulations given them We visited all the native villages, investigating conditions" [illegible] at Bortage Bay and landed 38 of them on Nunivak island and 22 at Dutch Harbor A few reindeer were given to each native village with instructions for their care so that they may be propagated and supply food and clothing for the natives

Two reindeer were eaten aboard the Manning, the crew preferring the meat to beef or mutton

Senior Captain W. E. Reynolds commander of the Bering Sea patrol, and Commander R. G Salisbury, U S N, retired, who has charge of the transportation and distribution of reindeer, came down from the north on the Manning.

FAY TAKING LESSONS IN POSTMASTERSHIP

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30. — For the past few days Charles W. Fay, the newly appointed Postmaster of San Francisco, has been a regular caller at the Postoffice. Fay has had long consultations with Assistant Postmaster Burke and other Postoffice officials in order to become familiar with his new duties, which he expects to assume next week.

Fay expects to receive his commission by telegraph from Washington Monday, and as soon as it arrives he will relieve Postmaster Arthur C. Fisk, who is anxious to enter upon his new position in Los Angeles. Fay took the oath of office before Federal Judge Dooling Tuesday, and the same day his bond of $200,000 as Postmaster and that of $25,000 as custodian of the Federal building were mailed to the Postmaster-General.

BLANCHE BATES HAS TEN-POUND GIRL

NEW YORK, Oct 30—A perfect wonder of a girl baby, weighing ten pounds, was born yesterday to the actress Blanche Bates, now Mrs George Creel, in her country home on the old Bailey farm at Ossining. Although there was some uneasiness because Mrs. Creel was hurt in a runaway accident only a few weeks ago, mother and child are doing well.

REPORTS AGAINST UTILITY TRANSFER

Investigator Appointed by the Merchants' Exchange Says No Benefit Derived.

Reporting against the proposed transfer of control of public utilities rates from the city of Oakland to state railroad commission, W. V. Harrington, appointed by the Merchants' Exchange to investigate the question, has issued a report, in which he declares the holding of an election to decide the matter unwise, and asserts that the project is only an advantage to smaller cities. Larger ones, he declares, would not be benefited by giving the state their powers to fix rates

His report is as follows:

"At the next general election the matter of placing public utilities in the hands come up for decision by the people, and we think it not wise for Oakland to go to the expense of $20,000 for a special election to decide this matter for ourselves Our opinion is that while the scheme may work to advantage in the smaller towns cities of the first class should have the control of their utilities

"We feel that the present board of railroad commissioners is beyond reproach, still they will not live forever and changes may be made. We think the [illegible] the local commissioners who can be recalled, which at this time would be impossible in the case of the railroad commission.

"The latter would have the say so in the matter of factory site prices, gas, electric lights, etc, and we think it would not be wise to give over the control of these as we believe the cities should be left to state what they wish to pay for them We prefer leaving the decision to the general election."

FORTY MEN WILL BE RAT CATCHERS

Seattle Army After Rodents as Result of Plague Infested Pests.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 30.—The catching of a bubonic plague infected rat at University street, and Railroad avenue, 1500 feet farther north than any infected rat heretofore has been captured, was the occasion yesterday for City Health Commissioner Dr. James E. Crichton issuing an order for a more vigorous campaign against the rodents Seven plague infected rats previously had been caught at the foot of Jackson street in an old building, which is now being demolished

As a result of yesterday's catch, a force of forty men will begin work at 3 o'clock tomorrow morning investigating the method of garbage disposal along the waterfront from Spokane street to Denny way, a distance of two miles, and extending back into the business district three blocks from the wharves.

POLISH EDITOR BACKS DOWN; IS REINSTATED

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 1.—Developments of a sensational character enlivened the sessions of the Polish Roman Catholic Union of America when Frank Ruszkiewic, editor of Everybody's Daily, Buffalo, who was expelled from the union Wednesday night, was reinstated. At the request of Bishop Rhode of Chicago, the convention admitted the editor as an accredited delegate Ruszkiewicz apologized for the articles appearing in his paper.

The Buffalo man was reinstated following the explaining of an alleged shortage of $36,000 reported by the Buffalo man as a member of the auditing committee The assets were found to be intact.

CHICKENS IN PAJAMAS IS LATEST 'BURBANKED' FOWL

Chickens in pajamas are the latest novelties in the store room at the Hotel Oakland. They arrived yesterday from Los Angeles, and are the first of the new "featherless chickens" to be seen in the bay region.

The featherless fowl was "burbanked" by Mrs. Frank Wilson of Los Angeles, who by careful breeding has obtained a chicken which needs only decapitation to prepare for the frying pan. They are dressed in pajamas to keep them in the cold weather of the bay region.

"It is a great saving in labor," declared Emery La Vallee, storekeeper at the hotel, who imported the chickens. "They are something like a Mexican hairless dog. I intend to put in a line of them soon."

The new chickens are the same in flavor as the ordinary barnyard variety.

WEST COAST R. R. PLANS ARE FILED

Proposed $20,000,000 Railway to Parallel Two Other Roads.

SEATTLE, Oct. 30.—Plans for a $20,000,000 railway project, the West Coast railroad, were filed in the name of J. D. Farrell, president of the Oregon-Washington Railway and Navigation company, a Harriman line, in the United States [illegible] Olympia yesterday.

The line proposed will parallel the Northern Pacific and the Chicago, Milwaukee and St Paul roads across the Cascade mountains, and will have ocean terminals in Tacoma and Seattle James L Brass, general manager of the company, said last night that the filing should be considered as merely a preliminary step and had no immediate significance, the filing of plans being made to hold the territory It is generally believed that the proposed line is an extension of the North Coast railroad, a Harriman property from North Yakima to Seattle and Tacoma The route filed calls for a crossing of the Cascades through Natches Pass, just south of the Northern Pacific's Stampede tunnel The new line will connect with the joint track of the Milwaukee system and the Oregon-Washington Railroad and Navigation company at Auburn, midway between Seattle and Tacoma.

TEACHERS ELECT NEW ASSOCIATION LEADER

OROVILLE, Oct. 30—Mrs. M. S. Abrams, County Superintendent of Schools of Butte county, was yesterday elected president of the northern section of the California Teachers' Association, defeating Paul G Ward of Red Bluff.

Other officers elected were: Vice-president, Ralph Camper of Williams, secretary, Mrs. O'Neill of Sacramento, treasurer, John D Sweeney of Red Bluff; representatives on California Council of Education, Allison B. Ware of Chico and C. C. Hughes of Sacramento.

Red Bluff was unanimously selected for the 1914 convention.

Professor Herbert G. Lull of the University of Washington yesterday advocated a systematic pruning in the curricula of the schools He distinguished between that he termed "instrumental" and "informational" education. Lull advocated the elimination of all except the immediately useful and stated that informational matter should not be taught until the child had need of it.

Other addresses dealt with the need of greater attention to the individuality of the child Mrs J B Hughes of Oroville created a profound impression with an address upon 'Art in Schools.'

'TIS SAME OLD STORY--- WIRE TAPPER, FARMER

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Oct. 30.—J. T Briggs, a farmer, living at Bolivar, Mo., was swindled out of $1000 here by fake wire tappers The swindlers confided to Briggs that they had tapped the wires that led to a poolroom in the city. After explaining their methods, which looked easy to the Missourian, he put up his $1000. While waiting for returns, both men mysteriously disappeared and Briggs sought the aid of the police. At a late hour last night no trace of the swindlers could be found.

OPPOSES S. S. TEACHER ATTENDING THEATER

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 30—W. E. Carpenter of Brazil, Ind., who said he is the superintendent of the largest Sunday school in the world, told the Rhode Island state Sunday school convention last night that for 25 years there had not been a teacher in his Sunday school who attended theaters, dances or card parties. He vigorously condemned such forms of amusement.

"When a teacher goes to the theater with the excuse that it is uplifting and educational, the pupil goes to cheap theaters because of the example," he said

O'Neill had a prisoner let down a rope from the window of the jail and then [illegible] strong alcohol to the end, the liquor being hauled into the bastile. McGee is accused of bribery it being claimed that he solicited a bribe of $90 from Mrs. Mary Selowsky, owner of the Stone House resort near St. Helena, and received the coin on promising to disappear. Antone Dabner is charged with an attack on an eight-year-old girl.

MOTORCYCLE RIDE PLANNED BY CLUB

572 Miles of Strenuous Route to Be Covered in Two-Day Run.

By EDMUND CRINNION.

Planning to start from Oakland early Saturday, November 29, and return late Sunday, November 30, the local motorcycle riders will undertake one of the longest and most strenuous runs ever recorded locally.

The affair [illegible] is under the management of the Oakland Motorcycle Club, will embrace a run up through by way of Sacramento to Redding and return by way of Benicia and Martinez. The night's stop will be made in Redding.

The exact distance to be covered by the contestants is 572 miles. The roadbed is a good one for most of the distance on both routes Many of the local riders have already pledged themselves to enter the event, and the San Francisco riders are also sending in their entries.

Over $150 in prizes will be divided among the winning riders by the committee in charge, which consists of the following. Chairman, W. R. Rigney; F. E. Karslake of the local Harley Davidson motorcycle house, George Bulger and Frank Califro.

GARFORD TRUCK NEWS.

That the motor truck is valuable not only for transporting merchandise over the street, but also for building the thoroughfares, is shown in a recent delivery of Garford trucks made by the R & L., eastern distributors for the Garford Company of Elyria, Ohio. The delivery consisted of two six-ton vehicles to the Eastern Asphalt Company of New York, one of the largest street building firms in the metropolis. The asphalt company conducted a series of experiments with various makes of trucks during the past year, and finally decided on the Garford as the best fitted for the work required. The vehicles will be used for the transportation of asphalt from the mixing plant to various parts of the city where paving is being laid, being equipped with special dumping bodies for quick unloading

REFRIGERATING TRUCK.

A motor truck equipped with a refrigerating plant is the latest. A closed body, insulated as carefully and scientifically as the finest refrigerator, and provided with cooling apparatus, moves through the streets of Jersey City every day delivering to meat markets This novel body, operated by Ed Fleckenstine's Sons, sausage manufacturers, is mounted on a three-ton Kissel Kar truck chassis. It is a great success both mechanically and economically, as well as a novel and effective advertisement for the firm employing it.

HAYNES CAR ATTRACTS.

The Haynes Auto Sales Company, branch home of the Haynes, America's first car, is the mecca for automobilists and automobile dealers this week. Since the arrival of the Vulcan electric gear shift cars there has been a steady flow of visitors to the Haynes branch, all keenly interested in the operation of this mechanism and desirous of enjoying the unusual sensation of driving one of the Haynes latest models and shifting the gears by the electric "push-button" method instead of the old fashioned hand lever.

Make This and Try It for Coughs

This Home-Made Remedy has no Equal for Prompt Results.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

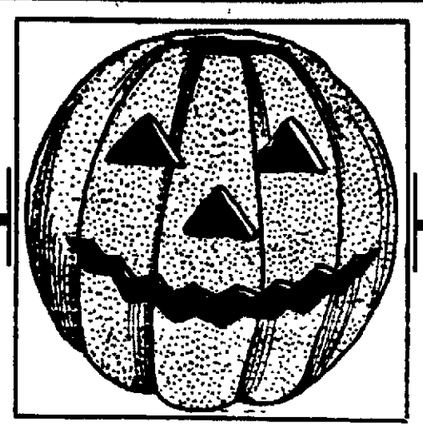

This simple remedy takes hold of a cough more quickly than anything else you ever used. Usually conquers an ordinary cough inside of 24 hours. Splendid, too, for whooping cough, spasmodic croup and bronchitis. It stimulates the appetite and is slightly laxative, which helps end a cough.

This makes more and better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly and tastes pleasant.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in guaiacol and other natural pine elements which are so healing to the membranes. Other preparations will not work in this plan.

Making cough syrup with Pinex and sugar syrup (or strained honey) has [illegible] popular [illegible] and Canada that it is often imitated. But the old, successful mixture has never been equaled.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. [illegible], Ind.

ESHELMAN'S PLAN GIVEN APPROVAL

Supervision of Bonds on Railroads and Utilities Are Agreed Upon.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—After a long and at times acrimonious debate, the National Association of Railway Commissioners adopted last night a report of the committee of railway capitalization, submitted by Commissioner John Eshelman of California, recommending rigid Federal and State supervision of the issuance of stocks and bonds of utility and railroad corporations. The report recommended:

That there be limitation by law of the purposes for which the issuance of stocks and bonds shall be permitted

That authority be given the commission to see to it that the proceeds of the sales of stock and bonds are devoted to the purposes for which they are issued.

That no stocks or bonds be issued without the positive approval of the commission, after full investigation.

That power be given to the commission to impose such conditions upon the issue as may be necessary.

That the regulation of the stocks and bonds of interstate common carriers be delegated to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Finally it was recommeded "that Congress immediately pass an act empowering the Interstate Commerce Commission to regulate the stocks and bonds of interstate carriers in the manner and to the extent hereinbefore outlined."

The proposition of Commissioner Martin S. Decker of New York that a committee of one from each state commission be appointed to provide for uniformity, so fast as possible, in intrastate express rates, was adopted.

It was decided that the next annual convention of the association be held in Washington, beginning on November 17, 1914.

ORIGINAL SKETCH IS PRODUCED BY CLUB

"Who Killed Cock Robin?" an original sketch, was a feature of the vaudeville entertainment given last evening by the Unitarian Social Club in the clubrooms of the Unitarian Church, Fourteenth and Castro street. Howard D. Renwick, the author of the comedy, appeared in the principal role. In the cast were Fred B. Thomas and Miss Marguerite McFadden.

The entertainers who contributed to the program were Thomas Cutting and Frank Tiffany, who presented a study in black and white called "From Alabam"; Dorothea Ross, in vocal and instrumental numbers; "Keeping a Secret," a one-act farce by ten young women, and the Unitarian trio

The members of the society acted as hosts of the evening.

Hooray! Baby To Rule the House

No Longer Do Women Fear the Greatest of All Human Blessings.

It is a comfort to know that those much-talked-of pains that are said to precede child-bearing may easily be avoided. No woman need fear the slightest discomfort if she will fortify herself with the well known and time-honored remedy, "Mother's Friend."

This is a penetrating, external application that at once softens and makes pliant the abdominal muscles and ligaments. They naturally expand without the slightest strain, and thus not only banish all tendency to nervous, twitching spells, but there is an entire freedom from nausea, discomfort, sleeplessness and dread that so often leave their impress upon the babe.

bounded, joyful anticipation, and too much stress cannot be laid upon the remarkable influence which a mother's happy, prenatal disposition has upon the health and fortunes of the generation to come.

You will find it on sale at all drug stores at $1.00 a bottle. Write to-day to the Bradfield Regulator Co., 230 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for an instructive book.
